REPORT ON THE STATE OF THE SALT MARKET FOR THE FOURTH QUARTER OF 1900-1901.

No. 534B., dated Calcutta, the 20th May 1901.

From—C. J. STEVENSON-MOORE, Esq., Offg. Secy. to the Board of Revenue, L.P.,

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Financial Department.

THE HON'BLE MR. C. W. BOLTON, C.S.I.

I AM directed to submit the following report on the state of the salt market for the fourth quarter of 1900-1901, comprising the months of January, February and March 1901.

2. The quantity of salt of every description cleared during the quarter amounted to 25,82,429 maunds, as compared with 25,89,478 maunds in the previous quarter and 27,21,461 maunds in the corresponding quarter of the previous year; and the net amount of duty levied thereon was Rs. 64,23,547 as against Rs. 60,39,424 in the previous quarter and Rs. 64,46,391 in the corresponding quarter of the previous year.

3. The quantity of locally-made salt removed from the golas in Orissa during the quarter and the quantity which remained in store at its close are shown in table (I) below :—

The total sales of locally-made salt during the quarter amounted to 31,658 maunds, as compared with 19,985 maunds in the previous quarter and 13,586 maunds in the corresponding quarter of the previous year. Duty was paid on the full quantity sold. This increase is due to the reduction of price of this salt mentioned in the previous quarter's report.

4. The subjoined table (II) shows in detail the importations into the port of Calcutta and the total clearances of sea-imported salt during the quarter as compared with the figures of the corresponding quarters of the two previous years;—

There has been an increase in the quantity of salt imported in comparison to the corresponding quarter of the past year, but a decrease in the quantity cleared. The importations and clearances of Salif and Bombay salts are increasing.

5. Table III shows the quantity of sea-imported salt remaining in the warehouses at the close of the quarter as compared with the results of the previous four quarters:—

8. The quantity of saltpetre removed from the refineries during the quarter on payment of duty amounted to 6,366 maunds as compared with 3,187 maunds in the previous quarter and 7,161 maunds in the corresponding quarter of the previous year.

9. The shipments of Liverpool salt during the quarter for the port of Calcutta, according to the published market reports, amounted to 21,764 tons. It is reported that one sailing vessel was en route for Calcutta at the close of the quarter with 1,762 tons of salt from Hamburg.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL RETURNS ON THE WORKING OF THE CHARITABLE DISPENSARIES IN BENGAL FOR THE YEAR 1900.

MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT—MEDICAL.

RESOLUTION—No. 394T.—M.

Darjeeling, the 23rd May 1901.

READ—

The Annual Returns on the working of Charitable Dispensaries in Bengal for the year 1900.

Read again—

The Annual Returns on the working of Charitable Dispensaries in Bengal for the year 1899 and the Resolution recorded on them.

CERTAIN alterations in some of the statements included in the Annual Dispensary Returns have been prescribed by the Government of India. As, however, the orders on the subject were received too late to allow of the changes being made in the returns for the past year, the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals has on this occasion submitted his report in the usual form.

2. In all 532 dispensaries were open on the 31st December 1900, showing a net increase of 19 in the course of the year. The number was really greater by 3, as 3 out of 4, which are returned as closed, were merely transferred to a different category. The district of Purnea, which has hitherto been very poorly supplied with medical institutions, contributes 6 out of the 19; while a seventh, which previously existed as a private institution, has been brought under Government supervision. Some of the unhealthy districts of Eastern Bengal also show a gratifying increase in the number of their medical institutions.

3. The number of patients treated during the year, both indoor and outdoor, increased from 3,291,243 to 3,467,381. It is to be feared that the increase is due as much to the unhealthiness of the year as to the popularity of the Government dispensaries. The newly-opened institutions are accountable for 52,500 of the increase, which illustrates how far they have supplied a want. Sixteen out of 19 dispensaries in which the attendance was most largely reduced are in the Patna Division and Monghyr. The falling off in these was undoubtedly due to the alarm excited by the prevalence of plague, and it is hoped that they will speedily recover their former popularity.

4. The increased mortality of the year, due to its general unhealthiness, has been remarked upon in the review of the Sanitary Commissioner's report. Comment has there been made upon the prevalence of certain diseases, and the conclusions there arrived at are borne out by the present returns. One special epidemic requires notice. A disease locally known as "Batphut," which was ascertained to be prevalent in a portion of the Khondmals of the Orissa Tributary States, was, under the orders of Government, investigated by Captain Rogers, I.M.S., Deputy Sanitary Commissioner. He pronounced the disease to be one of virulent syphilis—probably introduced from the Sonpur Native State in the Central Provinces. On receipt of his report the necessary measures were taken to render medical aid.

5. No case of special professional importance is reported among the surgical operations of the year. The number performed shows a slight increase of 1,201 on the preceding year. As in 1899, the largest number of operations performed by an individual officer stands to the credit of Major Sunder, I.M.S., Civil Surgeon of Gaya.

6. Class and Sex of Patients.—The attendance of women and children at medical institutions fails to show a proportionate increase. In view of the special attention that is nearly everywhere being paid to the requirements of women patients, this is disappointing. The Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals attributes it to the plague scare in the Patna Division. Time must be allowed for the improvements which are being introduced to become generally known and appreciated. Colonel Hendley's efforts have been unceasingly directed to making each mufassal hospital not merely efficient, but bright, comfortable, and attractive. His account of a number of ways in which this may be achieved, at pages 104 and 105 of the Report, is valuable and instructive. And his dictum that our great aim should be to make friends and not enemies of the indigenous workers among the sick poor has the Lieutenant-Governor's warmest support, and is commended to the attention of Civil Surgeons and District Officers throughout the Province.

7. Income and Expenditure.—The total income of the dispensaries, inclusive of opening balances, was Rs. 11,49,729-8-11—an excess of Rs. 1,47,850 2-8 over last year. Local bodies contributed 46·87 per cent. of the receipts, and subscriptions accounted for 26·96 per cent.—an advance of 1·39 on the preceding year. The Lieutenant-Governor is gratified to observe the large increase of Rs. 50,430 in subscriptions from natives—an increase distributed over a large number of institutions. The increase in private subscriptions to Local Fund hospitals is particularly gratifying as vindicating the plan adopted last year of securing to these institutions the full benefit of the contributions they are able to obtain from the charitable public.

The total expenditure, excluding investments, was Rs. 10,09,606-3-4, or Rs. 1,06,915-11-2 in excess of the previous year—an increase mainly accounted for by the addition to the number of dispensaries. The cost of diet rose with the price of food-grains, and more extensive purchases of European medicines were made.

8. Inspections.—The longthy statement showing the number of inspections of each dispensary in detail has this year been omitted from the Report. The Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals is right in considering its inclusion unnecessary. It is sufficient to bring particular instances of good work or the reverse to the notice of Government. The work done in the past year was on the whole satisfactory, though a few districts are instanced in which the inspections fell short of the required standard. In all 21 dispensaries remained unvisited during the year, and the Lieutenant-Governor trusts that the warnings addressed by the Inspector-General to the officers in fault will bear fruit in the coming year. Colonel Hendley himself visited 133 institutions during the year, including, besides dispensaries, asylums, jails, police hospitals, and medical schools. His report testifies to the growing interest, which is almost everywhere displayed, in the improvement of medical institutions. Much remains to be done, but when public interest has once been aroused, a uniform advance may be anticipated. And the Lieutenant-Governor is convinced that the gratifying results which are now apparent are largely due to the contagion of Colonel Hendley's enthusiasm.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT OF THE SANITARY COMMISSIONER, BENGAL, FOR THE YEAR 1900.

MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT—SANITATION.

RESOLUTION—No. 397T.—M.

Darjeeling, the 25th May 1901.

READ—

The Report of the Sanitary Commissioner, Bengal, for the year 1900.

Read again—

The Report of the Sanitary Commissioner, Bengal, for the year 1899 and the Resolution of Government recorded thereon.

THE report of the Sanitary Commissioner has on this occasion been punctually submitted, and, in accordance with the recent orders of the Government of India, has been considerably shortened. Instead of containing 53 pages of letter-press and 109 of appendices, exclusive of the report of the Sanitary Board, as was the case last year, it now consists of 26 pages of letter-press and 38 of appendices, and its utility is unimpaired.

2. Vital statistics.—The birth-rate was lower and the death-rate higher than in the year 1899. The former result was due to the rise in price of food-grains, which began in the last quarter of 1899, and continued during the greater part of the year. Writing in June 1900, the Sanitary Commissioner expected that this result would follow, and his anticipations have been realised. The high death-rate was due partly to the same cause, but chiefly to the marked unhealthiness of the year, which is remarked on by almost every Civil Surgeon, and which led to increased mortality under all the principal diseases. The numbers of births and deaths registered were 2,749,582 and 2,603,736, against 3,053,178 and 2,218,243, respectively, in the preceding year. Calculated on the basis of the provisional totals of the recent census, the ratios per mille of births and deaths were 36·95 and 34·99 respectively, the former roughly equal to, and the latter considerably in excess of, the quinquennial average calculated on the population shown in the census of 1891.

3. Including Calcutta, plague accounted for 38,412 deaths. Outside the Presidency Town, the disease was epidemic in only a few districts of the Patna Division and Monghyr; and its effects, direct and indirect, are writ large in the returns of these. In Patna, for instance, the excess of birth-rate over death-rate in 1899 was 14·82 per mille;* in 1900 the death-rate exceeded the birth-rate by 10·13. In Saran and Monghyr the excess of births in 1899 was 17·46 and 23·40 per mille, respectively, while in 1900 the ratios of excess dropped to 1·24 and 3·60. In Gaya the excess of births over deaths in 1899 was 21·91 per mille. In 1900 it was 1·23. In Calcutta the deaths exceeded the births in 1899 by 21·74 per mille; in 1900 the excess was as high as 38·08. But that these differences are not attributable to plague alone is shown by a similar comparison in other districts which plague had not attacked. An excess of births in Jalpaiguri at the rate of 1·21 per mille was converted into a deficiency of 10·34. In Darjeeling and Faridpur slight deficiencies in the birth-rate in 1899 of ·25 and 1·03 increased in the past year to 11·49 and 9·02 respectively; while in Palamau, where plague, if existent, was not detected during the year under review, the excess of births over deaths, which in 1899 was 18·42 per mille, was converted in 1900 into an excess of deaths over births at the rate of 10·10. Here the heavy mortality was to a large extent the outcome of a virulent outbreak of cholera in Daltonganj. The rest of the Chota Nagpur Division maintained its reputation for healthiness, and the death-rate there was the smallest in the Province.

* All ratios used for purposes of comparison are calculated on the census figures of 1891.

4. Comparison of urban and rural vital statistics.—The birth-rates in both urban and rural areas show a marked decrease, while the death-rates increased in the former from 33·10 to 43·46, and in the latter from 31·11 to 36·28. In comparison with other towns, Calcutta was particularly unfortunate, its birth-rate being lower by 11·85 and its death-rate higher by 12·96 than the average of other urban areas. Fever, as usual, is accountable for the highest death-rate everywhere, but both in town and country deaths from "other causes" show an increase, and were responsible in 1900 for a mortality per mille of 6·14.

5. Principal diseases.—An epidemic of cholera occurred during the year, the death-rate from this cause being higher than in any previous year of which a reliable record is retained. The deaths amounted to 345,878, of which by far the largest proportion occurred in the district of Purnea. Champaran and Cuttack also suffered severely; and, as already noticed, the epidemic is responsible for no small portion of the heavy death-rate in Palamau. The epidemic as a whole is attributable to the early cessation of the rains in 1899 and the lateness of the monsoon of 1900.

In this connection the Lieutenant-Governor notices with interest the large number of anti-cholera inoculations performed during the year in the Purulia cooly depôt, and the remarkable success with which the measure was attended. Out of 873 persons who had undergone the operation, and were subsequently exposed to the contagion of the epidimic, only 2 were attacked. The results are distinctly encouraging, and the efforts of the Assistant Surgeons specially employed on this work are to be commended.

Small-pox was prevalent throughout the year, mainly in urban areas. The towns which suffered most were Vishnupur, Ranchi, and Gaya. The highest district mortality was recorded in Cuttack, Puri, and Palamau. The Lieutenant-Governor observes with regret that the aversion to vaccination, which continues to be manifested in the Orissa Division, has exposed two of its districts to a severe outbreak of the disease. The rate of mortality from fever, calculated on the present census returns, was 22·90 per mille during the year. The months of October to January, as usual, were the period in which the disease was most prevalent, and Dinajpur, Jalpaiguri, Faridpur, and Malda were the districts in which the mortality was heaviest. The heavy floods in Calcutta and the neighbourhood in September were a prolific cause of this disease. In Faridpur, concerning which a special report has been submitted, the prevalence of fever is traced to the silting up of the rivers and the consequent non-flushing of the country. Bowel-complaints, the inevitable accompaniment of an unhealthy year, prevailed with increasing intensity throughout the period under review; and deaths from "other causes," of which plague is the chief, show an increase both on the preceding year and on the decennial average.

6. Sanitary works.—An increase of municipal expenditure under this head to the extent of over Rs. 1,80,000 is a satisfactory mark of the attention paid by public bodies to this most important branch of municipal administration. The Sanitary Commissioner expresses disappointment at the small proportion of the whole spent on original works in some municipalities; but the Lieutenant-Governor cannot accept the suggestion that a fixed percentage should in all cases be devoted to these. Such a measure might induce the initiation of enterprises to be performed in haste and repented of at leisure. Original schemes demand mature deliberation, and the report of the Sanitary Board, which is appended to that of the Sanitary Commissioner, shows that such schemes are not wanting.

Various important projects were referred to the Sanitary Board for opinion during the year, of which some of the most important were schemes for improving the water-supply of the Manicktollah and South Suburban Municipalities, and for the drainage of the important towns of Monghyr, Khulna, Dinajpur, and Rangpur. Repairs and improvements to the Darjeeling Water-works were estimated for, an estimate of the cost of the Patna Water-works was completed, and a scheme for a combined water-supply to the riparian municipalities was taken into consideration. This last project is the most important now under consideration. It is the outcome of a special enquiry on which Captain

L. Rogers, Deputy Sanitary Commissioner, was employed last year, and would be of great benefit to the populations concerned. The estimates, however, show that, even on the most modest scale, the cost of the work will be very heavy, and it seems almost hopeless of execution without an increase of the water-rate beyond the present legal maximum.

7. Plague.—The account given of the progress of this disease in the report is meagre in the extreme, and throws absolutely no light on the origin of the disease, the causes which foster or retard its spread, or the success or failure of the measures adopted to check it. The Sanitary Commissioner states that a great deal of his time was taken up in organizing and supervising the various precautionary and remedial measures which were adopted in different districts and in the Port of Calcutta; and the Lieutenant-Governor regrets that he should have left no record of the valuable experience which he must have gained.

8. The Sanitary Commissioner inspected only 18 municipalities during the year, the same number as in 1899. This number is altogether insufficient, more especially as he was relieved of the duty of delivering lectures on Hygiene in the Calcutta Medical College. Orders have now been passed which will ensure a better outturn of work in the future.

The mean pressure, temperature, etc., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

o, overcast; g, gloomy; d, drizzling rain; p, passing temporary showers; t, thunder; ≤, lightning; ⁄, strong wind; K, thunderstorm; ⌓, dew.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

INDIAN REFRESHMENT ROOMS AT RAILWAY STATIONS.

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE asked:—

I. (a) Is the Government aware that both the East Indian and the Eastern Bengal Railway authorities put up to auction sale the right of selling Indian refreshments, which yield a fair revenue, paid by the Indian passengers, principally third class passengers?

(b) Is it the case that the aforesaid Railway authorities afford no facilities for the establishment of Indian refreshment rooms at the stations, whereas great facilities are afforded by them to the Managers of European refreshment rooms at the different stations, who are permitted free passes for their servants and goods, and no rents are charged for the rooms occupied by them in the stations?

(c) Is the Government aware that not long ago the East Indian Railway authorities refused the application of some Hindus who had applied to be allowed to establish refreshment rooms for Hindus at the Railway stations, without giving any reasons for such refusal?

(d) Having regard to the fact that the bulk of the revenue from passenger traffic is contributed by Hindu and Muhammadan passengers, will the Government consider the propriety of recommending to the East Indian and the Eastern Bengal Railway authorities to favourably consider the proposal for the establishment of refreshment rooms for the convenience of Hindu and Muhammadan passengers at suitable railway stations, and subject to the same conditions which apply to European refreshment rooms?

The Hon'ble MR. BUCKLEY replied:—

"(a) Yes. It is the custom on the Eastern Bengal Railway. On the East Indian Railway, the auction system has been experimentally introduced at one station only, Bankipur.

"(b) The arrangements in force on the two lines referred to are not identical. On the Eastern Bengal Railway no rents are charged, and free passes for servants and goods are given. On the East Indian Railway neither of these concessions is allowed.

"(c) and (d) The suggestion made will be brought to the notice of the Railway administrations referred to. The Eastern Bengal Railway has at present under consideration a proposal to have refreshment stalls erected at changing stations. The East Indian Railway is now erecting such stalls. It is doubtful if the establishment of refreshment rooms would be so popular with the classes mainly concerned as the existing arrangements, under which the vendors of native refreshments have access to the platforms and sell to passengers in the railway carriages."

INCOME-TAX OFFICE IN CALCUTTA.

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE said:—

II. (a) I have the honour to call attention to the charges of corruption made against some persons connected with the Income-Tax office in Calcutta, and to ask if the Government has made enquiries about them? If so, will the Government be pleased to state the result of such enquiries and also the names of the officers by whom such enquiries were made?

(b) Is it the case that one Kasso Das presented a petition to the Board of Revenue, through his Solicitor, Babu Kali Nath Mitra, C.I.E., in which he repeated the charges of corruption made against the aforesaid persons?

(c) Is it the case that Mr. Oldham, late Member of the Board of Revenue, in a note upon this petition, observed:—"It is understood that the traders concerned have given bribes?"

(d) Is it true that in this case the enquiry was made by the Officiating Collector, against whose Department the charge was made, and that all the enquiry that was made by this Officer consisted of his asking Kasso Das whether he paid any Income-Tax; and whether he had any house in Calcutta, and, on his answering in the negative, he was sent away without further enquiry?

(e) If so, will the Government be pleased to direct a fresh enquiry upon the petition by an independent officer?

The Hon'ble MR. BAKER replied:—

"A petition was received by Government last year purporting to be signed by one Radha Kissen Muralidhar, in which charges of corruption and blackmail were brought against persons connected with the Income-Tax office, especially against one Ram Narain Jalal, who is said to be an informer.

"The allegations made were fully enquired into by the Officiating Collector of Income-Tax, by the Commissioner of Presidency Division and by the Board, and the whole of the papers have been laid before Government. There is no such person as Radha Kissen Muralidhar, and the Lieutenant-Governor is satisfied that the petition is the outcome of a mere personal intrigue. The reasons which have led the Lieutenant-Governor to this conclusion are set forth in my letter No. 1276 S.R., dated the 19th February, 1901, of which a copy will be laid on the table.

"As regards the petition of Kasso Das, it has been ascertained that the facts are substantially as stated in the question. No specific statements were made in this petition, which in other respects bears a strong resemblance to that of Radha Kissen Muralidhar and the two irregular notices attached to it were more than three years old. The Lieutenant-Governor fully approves of Mr. Oldham's action in refusing to promise immunity to the petitioner and his friends, or to hold a private and ex parte enquiry, and considers that no further action is called for."

THE PURI MUNICIPAL BOARD.

The Hon'ble MR. M. S. DAS asked:—

I.—Will the Government be pleased to furnish a statement showing the amount that the Puri Municipal Board have drawn from the Lodging-house Fund in each of the last five years?

The Hon'ble MR. BAKER said:—

"I lay on the table the Statement asked for."

URIYAS IN GOVERNMENT SERVICE.

The Hon'ble MR. M. S. DAS said:—

II. (a) I have the honour to draw the attention of Government to the following Resolution of the Government of Bengal (Appointment Department), dated the 6th March, 1901:—

"Ordered that the petitioners be informed that copies of the petition have been forwarded for consideration to the several departments concerned. The interests of the Uriyas are not overlooked, and it is as open to them as to any other class or section of the community to compete in the public examinations and to take advantage of the opportunities offered by Government for employment" and I beg to ask whether the several departments concerned have been requested to give sufficient notice by advertisements in the Uriya Gazette or local newspapers, inviting candidates in cases where the appointment goes by selection and not by the result of competitive examination, especially where the head of the Department has his office in Calcutta?

(b) Were any additional hands in the inspecting and clerical staff employed in the Salt Department when that Department was re-transferred to the Bengal Government?

(c) If any additional hands were employed, will the Government be pleased to state the official designation and pay of each employé, as also his race, whether he is a native of Bengal or Orissa?

(For the purpose of this question Bengalees, who are settled residents of Orissa, may be reckoned as residents of Orissa.)

(d) If any additional hands were appointed, who made the appointments?

(e) Were they made by competitive examination or by nomination?

(f) What steps were taken to notify to the people of Orissa these vacancies and to give them opportunities to apply or compete for them?

The Hon'ble MR. BAKER replied:—

"No. The suggestion to advertise was not made. The instructions to the Departments had been communicated to the petitioners.

"As regards the second part of the question, the clerical and subordinate Inspecting staff of the Salt Department is appointed by the Commissioner of Excise and Salt, and Government has no information on the subject."

SETTLEMENTS IN ORISSA.

The Hon'ble MR. M. S. DAS said:—

III. (a) The Local Government having assessed an enhanced revenue on the estates of Balarampore, Rugree and Chowsitpara in Orissa, the zamindars of these estates being desirous of petitioning to the Government of India against the decision of the Local Government, applied to the Commissioner of Orissa for copies of the opinions of the following officials who had expressed their opinion on the question of enhancing the revenue of these estates, viz., Mr. E F. Growse, the Collector of the district; Mr. S. L. Maddox, the Settlement Officer of Orissa; Mr. W. C. Macpherson, the Director of Land Records; Mr. C. R. Marindin, the Commissioner of Orissa, and the Hon'ble Mr. G. Toynbee, of the Board of Revenue; but the Commissioner refused to give the copies, though it was brought to the notice of the Commissioner that the zamindars of these estates intended to place the opinions before the Government of India to enable the Supreme Government to do justice to them. This is substantially the zamindars' statement in their memorial to His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor General in Council.

(b) Will the Government be pleased to direct the Local Officers having the custody of the records of the recent settlements in Orissa to furnish copies of papers which parties may require to bring to the notice of the Local or the Supreme Government their grievances? Is the Government aware of the fact that during and after the settlements of Orissa in 1839-40 every facility was given to obtain copies of the opinions of local officials, and the zamindars of the three estates named above were furnished with copies of the recommendations of the Commissioner and of the Hon'ble Board of Revenue not to enhance the revenue of their estates?

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE replied:—

"The Government has no information as to the action of the Commissioner of Orissa, but if he refused copies, he only acted in accordance with Rule 22, page 27, of the Board's Records Manual. The Lieutenant-Governor, however, is quite willing, as a special case, to give the zamindars of the three Estates named in the question copy of any of the opinions mentioned for which they may apply."

THE BENGAL FINANCIAL STATEMENT FOR 1901-1902.

The Hon'ble MR. BAKER moved for the discussion of the Bengal Financial Statement for 1901-1902.

The Hon'ble MR. A. M. BOSE said:—"In rising to speak on this occasion, the thought naturally comes to the mind that this is the first discussion that takes place in the Council, not only in a new Century, but also under a new Sovereign. She who so lately reigned not only over the great Empire which owns allegiance to the British Crown, but over the vaster empire of the hearts of her people—she to whom the well-being and prosperity of her subjects was an ever-present thought and the welfare of India a special responsibility—has passed away to her rest, and the Victorian Era has come to its close. I venture to believe that in no part of her world-wide dominions will her memory be cherished with greater fervour, with greater tenderness and greater love than in the hearts of the people of this Country. And I am sure, Sir, I have the sympathy of every Member of this Council in expressing the confident hope that, under the new Sovereign who now rules over this vast Empire—a Sovereign who, I believe, is the first who possesses a personal knowledge of the people of this Country—the claims of India will occupy a place in his mind and heart not less intimate or less sympathetic than that which had obtained in the recent reign.

"I was reading only a short while ago an article written by a distinguished writer, who, in speaking of the House of Lords, described it as the Hall of Indolence. It is possible that some critic, reviewing the Legislative record of this Council during the present Session, may be disposed to indulge in a somewhat similar expression; though I for one think that if happy at times is a nation which has no history, it is well too for a province or a country that at times or on occasions its Legislative Mill is at rest. Be that as it may, even the most hostile of critics, looking at the Financial Statement which has been placed before us, and looking at the prosperity that the figures indicate, and, I may add, they also indicate wise statesmanship and wise administration—will be forced to admit that this Province, under Your Honour's rule, has a record to show which it has no reason to be ashamed of. Three years ago Mr. Risley, in this Council Chamber, in introducing his Budget described it as a 'Calamity Budget.' I congratulate the Hon'ble the Financial Secretary on producing a budget which is a 'Prosperity Budget' in every sense of the word. I venture also to think that, barring absolutely unforeseen circumstances, this tide of prosperity will continue to flow unabated in its course, and it will be the proud privilege of Your Honour's Government in the years still before you to taste the fruits of wise administrative measures, needful reforms, and far-seeing improvements.

"I need not detain the Council by referring to the figures which justify the description of the Budget in the language which I have employed. The figures tell their own eloquent tale—added revenue and an increased balance, and still more, the wise purposes to which it is proposed to devote that balance.

"At page 2 of the Financial Statement reference is made to a number of items, in regard to which an additional allotment of Rs. 21,30,000 is proposed to be devoted. I will not refer to them in detail, but I may be excused, Sir, if for one moment I venture to thank Your Honour's Government for a contribution to that deserving institution, the Deaf and Dumb School, to the building fund of which it is proposed to make a grant. I find that it is not mentioned what the grant to this institution is to be, but I hope Your Honour will be able to double the amount which the Institution is itself able to contribute, and which I am authorised to say is about half a lakh of rupees.

"Then, with regard to the much-needed improvement of the Executive and Judicial Branches of the Provincial Service, allow me to offer my warmest congratulations for this reform, which is under contemplation. I do not know whether I am right in thinking, and I shall be glad to be corrected if I am wrong, that it is proposed to devote a lakh out of the Rs. 1,40,000 for the improvement of the Executive Branch of the service and the remaining Rs. 40,000 for the Judicial. I hope that no rigid limit has as yet been fixed in regard to this distribution, and that it may be possible to consider the respective claims of the two branches of the service, and to divide the grant equally, adding to its amount for the purpose.

"I will now pass on to a few matters arising from the figures in the Financial Statement, regarding which I would respectfully ask for some information. I have given notice of all these points. I trust satisfactory explanations will, in every case, be forthcoming; and it is only with a view to elicit that explanation that I beg to draw attention to these figures. Turning to page 13 of the Financial Statement, it appears that the revised estimate under the head 'Gross Land Revenue' is put down at a figure which is Rs. 3,00,000 over and above that at which it was sanctioned. I shall be glad to have some information as to the details of that increase and the causes that have led to that increase in the revised estimates. Then, on the same page, I find under the head 'Stamps' Rs. 1,31,70,000 put down as the figure in the budget estimate for the current year. Having regard to the fact that the actual collection in 1899-1900 was Rs. 1,32,00,000 (the estimate was also Rs. 1,32,00,000 and a little more), I venture to hope that there will be a perceptible increase in the revenue under that head. It is true that in the revised estimate the figure put down is Rs. 1,31,70,000, but there an explanation is given. Owing to a temporary cause, that unhappy cause, viz., the death of the Queen, there was a falling off in Court-Fee Stamps owing to partial suspension of work in the last week of January. Having regard to this fact, I think we may reasonably expect a large increase under that head.

"Then, on page 14, under the head 'Assessed Taxes,' sub-head 'Ordinary Collections,' we find in the budget estimate Rs. 44,80,000 put down, as against an estimate of Rs. 45,86,000, revised estimate of Rs. 45,15,000 and actuals of 1899-1900 of Rs. 45,20,000 and odd. Is there any reason to apprehend a steady and continuous decrease under the head 'Ordinary Collections,' which alone, I submit, could justify that low figure of Rs. 44,80,000, because previously the amount stood at a much higher figure? Here, also, I venture to hope that the budget estimate of receipt will be largely exceeded.

"Then in the same page under the head 'Forests,' sub-head 'Timber and other Produce removed by Government Agency,' the budget estimate is Rs. 9,93,000 and odd as against revised estimate of Rs. 10,78,000 and odd, and actuals Rs. 10,35,000 odd. The explanation given is 'Revised, raised with reference to actuals.' Having regard to these figures, unless there is some special explanation, we may reasonably hope for a larger collection than what has been put down there.

"Then, at page 16, under head 21—'Scientific and other Minor Departments' sub-head 'Emigration Fees,' I hope that the Hon'ble the Financial Secretary will kindly explain if there is any special reason for the increase of last year. The revised estimate was put down at Rs 36,000. What was the reason of that increase, which, it is expected, will not hold good this year?

"Similarly, Sir, at page 17, under head 29—'Major Irrigation Works—Sone Canal,' the budget estimate is put down at Rs. 10,73,000, against a much larger revised estimate of the past year and against a larger actual in the year 1899-1900. Should we not be reasonably justified, unless there is some special cause, in also expecting an increase under that head?

"This remark also applies to head 30—'Minor Irrigation Works and Navigation,' sub head 'Agricultural Works.' The embankment figures will speak for themselves. The budget estimate is much lower than the revised estimate and sanctioned estimate, and considerably lower than the actuals for 1899-1900.

"Then, Sir, coming to page 19 of the Financial Statement, Expenditure side, I have no doubt that there is an explanation, but some of us would like to be informed as regards the estimate under head 3—'Land Revenue,' sub-head 'Settlement Operations.' The budget estimate of expenditure is Rs. 2,93,000, against the revised estimate of last year of Rs. 1,32,000. The sanctioned estimate of last year was Rs. 1,20,000, and the actuals of the year preceding (1899-1900) of Rs. 1,97,000. Is it proposed to undertake any new or very important or very considerable settlement operations in the year now in progress, as otherwise the expenditure put down there is too large, in face of the three other figures to which I have referred?

"Permit me to turn to page 20, head 'Stamps.' The charge for sale of other general stamps is put down at Rs. 1,55,000, and the explanation given is that this is due to the higher rate of discount allowed on the sale of non-judicial stamps. Possibly the reason for that increase was given in Council before, but if the Hon'ble the Financial Secretary does not mind, I shall be glad to know why that was found necessary.

"Turning to page 22, under head 19A—'Law and Justice—Courts of Law,' sub-head 'Law Officers, Mufassal Establishment,' the budget estimate is put down at Rs. 1,65,000 odd as against revised estimate of Rs. 1,51,000, sanctioned estimate of Rs. 1,53,000 odd, and actuals of Rs. 1,58,000 odd. In one sense, I am glad to see that increase in the amount paid to the profession, but yet I should like to know if there was any special reason for that increase, because I confess that my interests as a citizen and a tax-payer are much larger than as a member of the profession.

"I will now refer to page 24, heading 'Police.' Some of us would be glad if some information were given as to the four probationers in excess of the present scale, whom it is intended to engage, and also as to the details in regard to the proposed increase of the Police force, and as to how many Head-Constables it is proposed to set aside substituting Sub-Inspectors in their places, which I consider a most desirable reform. Under the same heading (Police) the budget estimate for contingencies is put down at a figure which is very much in excess of the revised estimate of last year, and also the actuals of the year 1899-1900. Some explanation is requested for that, and also for the increase under the head 'Railway Police,' with reference to the Eastern System Railway Police and the Bengal and North-Western and Tirhut State Railway Police.

"Then, Sir, I come to the subject of Education, page 25, No. 22. We find that the revised estimate for last year is Rs. 28,00,000, whilst the sanctioned estimate for the year was Rs. 29,80,000, showing that the sum likely to be spent for education during the year will fall short of the sanctioned grant by no less than a lakh and eighty thousand rupees. And in this connection, I shall be glad to know the reason why, for instance, the amount of grant-in-aid, which was put down at Rs. 6,40,000, was not all spent, as the revised estimate shows only Rs. 6,00,000 on this account. Similarly, under the head Expenditure on Furniture and Apparatus, and as regards the Training School at Kurseong, the sanctioned estimate has not been spent, and I should like to be informed if there are reasons why this could not be done in the course of the year just closed. Then, with regard to the grant of Rs. 1,25,000 for contribution to the Provident Fund proposed for teachers of primary schools, it would be desirable to have some details of the scheme which are altogether omitted in the statement.

"As regards the Sibpur Engineering College, I am glad to find that an increased grant of Rs. 16,000 is proposed, and I should like to know whether some improvement is contemplated in connection with the Agricultural Department of it. No doubt the fact that it is under consideration to remove the Agricultural class will stand in the way of a permanent improvement; but whether pending that, something may not be done considerably to improve the existing state of things in the meanwhile will, I am sure, engage the attention of the Hon'ble Member in charge. Then, Sir, I should like to look at the figures as a whole, and in making some comments on these figures I am sure, Sir, it is hardly necessary for me to say that if it should be my duty to indicate that certain other reforms ought to be taken in hand, or that certain additional grants should be made, I do not for a moment forget all the work in the field of education that has been achieved by Government; and that remark will be understood to apply to any comments that I may make not only with regard to works of education, but also with regard to other works. With regard to education, I will say that no more splendid or beneficient work has been accomplished than what has been done in this direction. And it is because many wants have been removed that new wants have arisen, which cry for consideration at our hands. It is only in that spirit, and not for a moment forgetting what has been done or is being done, that I make these remarks in connection with this subject of education.

"Looking then at the educational figures as a whole, they show, on the face of it, a satisfactory increase. Last year's sanctioned estimate was Rs. 29,80,000. This year's estimate is put down at Rs. 32,04,000, which means a very respectable difference of Rs. 2,24,000. But if we look deeper, this aspect of affairs would appear to change. In the first place we have to remember one fact. This increase includes the sum of Rs. 72,000, which represents only a transfer entry under the head 'Reformatory Schools,' which is usually shown under Jails, but is now brought under this head. Therefore that Rs. 72,000 has at once to be struck off, leaving Rs. 1,52,000. It has next to be remembered that the educational grant includes this year a special allotment of Rs. 2,25,000, for construction of buildings and for a Provident fund for teachers of primary schools. These two items more than swallow up the apparent increase in the Budget grant. Therefore, what I wish to ask is whether there is in the Budget any increase as regards what may be described as the normal or ordinary expenditure on education in the field; for instance of primary education and of other branches of education. So far as the Financial Statement is concerned, it is not possible, so far as I have understood the matter, to find out whether any such increase under these heads occurs. On the contrary, the presumption seems to be strong that it is rather the other way. But, however, we shall know the facts from the Hon'ble Member in charge And in this connection, let me draw the attention of the Council to the real necessities of the case. Let me take up first Primary education which, and I know the Government will agree with me, is a matter of the highest importance for the national welfare, progress, and prosperity. Has there been any increase this year under that head? The Education Commission of 1882, of which body I had the honour of being an humble member, placed before the Government a strong recommendation, asking that the strenuous efforts of the State should be directed in a still larger measure than heretofore in this matter of Primary Education. But that, it may be said, was a recommendation of 18 years ago. Let me therefore place before the Council the opinion of a most important Committee on Education which the Government appointed last year consisting of many eminent gentlemen and presided over by that distinguished educationist, Mr. Pedler. This Committee, in submitting their second report, dated the 17th April, 1900, say this:—

"'In concluding this further Report, the Committee strongly recommend for the favourable consideration of Government a substantial increase in the grant for Primary Education.'

"The passage I am reading occurs at page 50 of the Calcutta Gazette (Supplement) of the 2nd January of the current year. What I would respectfully enquire is whether that increase so strongly recommended, or any approach to it, has been made in this Budget? Then, Sir, amongst the reforms that have been recently introduced is the new scheme for Vernacular Education. Though it may not be possible for me to approve of everything that has been done under Mr. Pedler's administration, it is my duty from my place in this Council gratefully to acknowledge the freshness and vigour that he has introduced into the Department. It is my misfortune not to be able to agree with some of the measures that he has introduced, and I may specially mention in this connection the recent re-constitution of the Central Text Book Committee and the changing of it into an official body; but in spite of any such differences of opinion, on the whole, it is my duty to render my cordial acknowledgment to Your Honour's Government and the Director of Public Instruction for the substantial improvements that have been introduced. But what I would beg to point out is that these improvements that have been made, if they are to be realities, and not mere make-believes, if there is to be no waste of public money, and if they are to lead to substantial results, then the grants will have to be considerably increased. I see in the Financial Statement Rs. 14,000 has been put down for introducing the system of bifurcation of studies in high schools—another recommendation of the Education Commission. But with this addition in English Schools, and the introduction of the Kindergarten and science teaching in Vernacular Schools we shall require, if the work is really to be done satisfactorily, a better class of masters and better equipped schools. We shall need better trained and more intelligent teachers, who will therefore have to be better paid. Therefore the grant for all these purposes will have to be very materially increased. A substantial increase of the allotment on Primary Education is absolutely needed. I will now pass on from the head of Primary Education to another matter in which Your Honour and Your Honour's Government feel the greatest interest,—I mean the question of Female Education. It is an unfortunate fact that only 1·9 per cent. of girls of school-going age are under instruction. But the worst of it is that it marks an absolute retrogression in the case of female education in this Province. Four years ago, not only were there more institutions for female pupils, but what is a matter of much more importance, there were 7,000 more girls attending schools then than is the case at present. It may be said that there are social difficulties in the way of female education. But these difficulties existed four years ago as they do now. Perhaps they existed then in a greater measure and in a sterner character than at the present time. How then is the fact of the falling off to be accounted for? Here, again, increased grants in the cause of female education are imperative, not only to make progress, but to recover lost ground. As Mr. Pedler observes at page 130 of his latest report, the amount spent last year on female education is much less than the sum spent on this account in the years 1895-96 and 1896-97. After pointing out that the theory of social obstacles in no way explains the retrogression which has occurred during the past few years, and quoting some opinions, he says, and I draw the special attention of the Council to these statements:—

'There is a good deal of truth in the argument that the grant-in-aid system is not well suited to the present conditions of female education in Bengal, and either a stipendiary system, or a combination of the stipendiary system with the grant-in aid system, would appear likely to lead to better results' (page 131 of the report).

"And again at page 132 of the same report, he says:—

'The experience in Bhagalpur would tend to shew that with the establishment of stipendiary girls' schools, and with more liberal encouragement in the way of prizes, &c., much better progress can certainly be achieved than is the case at present. The experiment suggested by the Deputy Inspector of Schools of Bhagalpur might also be tried.'

"These are weighty remarks, and I would like to know how far in the arrangements for the present year Mr. Pedler's suggestions have been followed and allotments made for giving effect to them. No doubt the grant-in-aid system is cheaper, but if we really attach any importance to the cause of female education, we must adopt the reforms that are needed to improve the present state of things, and not hesitate to make the necessary addition to the expenditure for female education—an expenditure which actually stood lower last year than it did four years ago. I may add that the experiment recommended by the Deputy Inspector of Bhagalpur is the appointment of a body of Departmental zenana teachers working on the Christian Zenana Mission System, and the appointment of a peripatetic examiner, both of them excellent suggestions. It is not as if the difficulty in regard to the progress of female education is a permanent or insurmountable one. On the other hand, in this very report there is a strong indication afforded of at least some of the methods, by means of which this backward march may be arrested and onward progress secured.

"I will turn now to the subject of higher education. I am one of those who believe that there is absolutely no conflict between the claims of primary education and the claims of higher education, and that in a well-ordered State, one is not more important than the other, just as in a well-ordered building you require not only a good foundation, but also the higher parts of it: the superstructure must be good to make it useful and effective for its purpose. I submit that in this way the Government has a distinct duty in regard to higher education. In this connection it would be ungrateful on our part if we were to forget the measures which Your Honour's Government have already adopted in furtherance of this cause by the creation of the Research scholarships, and by deputing to England one of our foremost Scientists. But I would point out that very much of what we call high education in this country would not be called by that name in England or on the Continent. I am one of those who believe in the intellectual capacity of our countrymen, and think that under the fostering care of the Government, India may wake again and take her place in the great forward march of intellectual and industrial and only three District Boards having spent the minimum of Rs. 5,000. These figures tell their own tale, and indicate a steady downward course which is to be regretted.

"Therefore, Sir, I submit that there is ample cause to urge District Boards to greater activity, and for Government to remind them as to the terms of the Circular and as to what they should do to remove this want.

"In this connection, Sir, I think it would be of importance to this Council if we had not only the figures showing the action of the District Boards in regard to this important matter affecting the poor people in the villages, but also that there should be prepared, as I asked the other day, a register showing the actual sources of water-supply in each village containing 100 houses or more; because it is hardly any use for the purpose I had in view to merely know what is being done without knowing at the same time what has to be done. I have no doubt that it must have been from an oversight that this part of the question I put was not answered. I may gratefully acknowledge that I have met with nothing but courtesy from the Hon'ble the Financial Secretary. I asked for this information, and I believe it is ready, and when it is given we shall see what are the needs and what has been done. In fact the preparation of this register was specially ordered by the Government in the Circular I have already referred to. I would suggest that an abstract of that register may be published in every local paper, so that if there was any inaccuracy, the attention of the people affected might be drawn to the matter so far as the District Board was concerned; but in having that statement, which I hope we shall have by-and-bye, it would be of importance to know the method or agency which has been employed in collecting that information. We shall at any rate understand the problem better, and we shall understand what is wanted, and then I am sure Your Honour's Government will be able to take proper steps to remedy this great grievance of the people in the Mufassal. Then, Sir, turning from the District Boards, I have no doubt that the influence of District Magistrates could do a great deal in the direction of inducing wealthy landlords and zamindars to excavate or re-excavate tanks; and I venture to suggest, in connection with that most laudable attempt that is being made in every part of the country to commemorate the memory of our beloved Queen Victoria, that it would indeed be a desirable thing, in connection with proposed Local Memorials in certain parts of the Province, if tanks would be dug and sources of water-supply provided bearing her honoured name. More stately memorials might record the splendour and many achievements of the Victorian rule; but, in many parts of the Mufassal, this humbler method would be to the villagers,—to every man, woman, and child,—a memorial in the concrete of the beneficence of that noble lady whom they adored and revered as their Queen Mother, which would appeal touchingly and lovingly to their hearts And, wherever practicable, there might be placed on the bank some representation in a durable form of Her Gracious Majesty, who, though dead, would continue to bless by the precious gift of water.

"Then, Sir, there is another practical difficulty in this connection in regard to which some legislative action may be needed, should this be found to be desirable on a full consideration of all the facts. I was only yesterday talking with a senior pleader of the High Court, who told me that he went to his home a short time ago to excavate a tank, but could not do so on account of the difficulty of getting land. There were so many shareholders that it was impossible to get it; and sometimes the rights of female and minor proprietors were also involved. This constitutes a difficulty which has to be faced. I was glad to find in the papers yesterday that Maharaja Surja Kant Acharya of Mymensingh had announced that he would take no nuzzur from any tenant who wanted land for excavating a tank. I trust many other landlords will be following this excellent example.

"And finally, if all other means prove inadequate and such a course is found necessary, I would venture to appeal to the Government to help from the Provincial Funds for the purpose of removing this grievous difficulty. Government has before this helped individual municipalities in providing themselves with water-works, and it was generously helping Darjeeling for its roads and works of protection. I hope that the removal of a want so general and so distressing—cause alike of suffering and of disease and mortality—will not, should the need really exist, be considered outside the scope of help from Government.

"Now, I pass on to the question of Excise Administration—from water to wine. I find from the last report of 1899-1900 that in the year previous we had attained a record revenue under the head 'Excise' of Rs. 1,27,52,787. But, Sir, we have managed to beat that record in the year that is just over, for which period the net revenue from Excise was Rs. 1,32,80,000, or about Rs. 5,27,000 in excess of the revenue of last year. I hope, Sir, I shall be pardoned if I venture to say that I am unable to congratulate the Government on that increase, as this increased revenue has been attained, in a great measure at any rate, by means of an increased consumption of exciseable articles and cheapening of their price. It is stated in the Government Resolution that the revenue of the previous year, which was the highest hitherto obtained, has been beaten, and that this clearly reflects the prosperous condition of the people. I do not propose to examine this latter statement at any length, because I have other important matters to deal with. Prosperity is no doubt one of the causes that tend to increase the Excise Revenue, but having taken some interest in the matter, after living amongst the people and having seen for myself many of their lives, their joys, and their sorrows, I am bound to say that it is not the sole cause, but a very minor one, and there are other causes at work, including the well-known and painfully notorious fact, that in numerous cases drink obtains an increasing and fascinating hold, a growingly terrible grip over those who have taken to it And it is a curious fact that, so far as I am aware, these annual reports do not refer to any of these causes. I will not take up the time of the Council by referring to the testimony of representative people as to the misery, suffering, poverty, and even crime that often follow in the wake of the drink habit Would it not be as well if some reference be made in the reports to this aspect of the question, of such moment to the true prosperity and well-being of the nation, and some light thrown on it?

"If the increase in the Excise Revenue is indeed to be taken as any criterion or test of the prosperity of the people, then, so far as that criterion goes, it would seem that the people of Bombay are about three times more prosperous than the people of Bengal, and the people of Madras about twice as prosperous as ourselves, because I find in referring to page 2 of the Board's report that while the average incidence of the Excise Revenue in Bengal was 2 annas 11 pies, in Bombay it was annas 8-8, or about three times that amount, and in Madras annas 6-2, which is more than double. I will make only one other remark on this point. If this growth of Excise Revenue is a mark of prosperity, then I am glad the division I have the honour to represent is not prosperous; for the addition contributed by the Dacca Division to that revenue is less than that of every other Division, barring Chittagong, though, indeed, it used to be said that the tenancy of Eastern Bengal was the most prosperous in Bengal.

"I will now refer to two facts which have struck me in connection with Excise administration—the increase in the consumption and the cheapening of prices. There is an increase during last year in the consumption of distillery spirits of 8·5 per cent. As regards outstill, no figures are given, and no doubt the returns made by outstill people are extremely unreliable. But might I venture to make one suggestion in this connection? We know that the Excise Commission of 1883 did go into the matter of obtaining some return of the amount of liquor from outstills. They adopted a process involving a little trouble, by which an approximate idea can be had of the quantity turned out from outstills. If that can be done once, say, in two years, I think it would be a gain, not only to the cause of statistics, but also because right information bearing on this question is of importance to the welfare of the people. Judging by the increased revenue, one would think that the increase in outstill sales must have been greater than in distillery sales, because the increase in the outstill revenue is 8·9 per cent. as against 4·8 in the case of distillery revenue. Be that as it may, we have this undoubted fact that there is increased consumption of distillery spirits, of rum, and of every other exciseable article for which returns are given.

"Then we come to the question of the cheapening of prices of exciseable articles. In fact, that appears on the very face of the figures, because, taking, for instance, the case of distillery spirit, 8·5 is the percentage of increased consumption, while the increase of revenue is only 4·8 per cent. The same remark applies to several other exciseable articles, but to save trouble, I will refer to page 3, paragraph 5 of the Government Resolution, which says: 'The consumption of distillery spirit, country rum, and ganja has risen during the year to a greater extent than the revenue, and the incidence of taxation on these articles was therefore lighter than in 1898-99.'

"I venture to submit for the consideration of the Government whether these facts do not constitute matter for serious enquiry, whether the declared policy of Government—and the only one, I need hardly add, worthy a Christian and enlightened rule such as that under which we are now living—of so conducting its Excise administration as to obtain the maximum of revenue from the minimum of consumption is not being departed from. In this connection I would draw the attention of the Council to one passage in the report of the Excise Commissioner, paragraph 51, on page 15. It is stated there that an enquiry has been ordered to find out why consumption has fallen in the district of Mymensingh. I would beg to ask whether enquiries have been ordered when there has been an increase in the consumption in any district. I hope it has been so, but the Hon'ble the Financial Secretary would be able to give us information on this point. In the paragraph I have referred to, it is further stated that: 'In Faridpur there was a satisfactory increase of Rs. 4,344 due to better settlement of licenses and increased consumption.'

"I beg very respectfully to put it to the Government whether it looks upon it as a satisfactory increase of Excise Revenue when that increase is, in the face of it, and admittedly obtained, partly at any rate, by an increase in the consumption of the article, and if it approves of the policy indicated in the above extract. Is it not contrary to the declared object of the Government to obtain the maximum amount of revenue with the smallest amount of consumption? My heartiest sympathy is with the Government in its campaign against illicit distillation. I am glad to see from the statement in the Board's report that a system of colouring the liquor has been adopted in order to detect smuggling, and that it has been so far successful. I hope other measures will also be adopted, and that the Government will succeed in putting down these attempts. I have referred to the proposed policy of obtaining a maximum of revenue with a minimum of consumption, and shown from the testimony afforded by official figures how that policy has failed to be carried out in actual practice; and I am afraid that under the present system it will perhaps continue to do so. I belive a more hopeful beginning, one fraught with more promise for the future will be made, and the declared and statesmanlike policy of the Government will have a better chance of being carried out, if after all this length of years a trial be given to that modified and limited form of local option which was fully recognized after the most careful consideration by the responsible Government of the day, and which has found a place in the Statute-Book as section 84 of the Excise Act of 1878. If carefully selected Municipalities be given the power of granting, withholding and withdrawing licenses, as expressly contemplated by that section, and subject to every such condition and safeguard as the Government might deem necessary, as also provided by it, I believe a check would be put on the growth of consumption, while the revenue will not suffer. Taxation might be raised, but the humiliating and objectionable expedient of cheapening the price of liquor will, I trust, meet with instant repudiation; and thus without adding to consumption, even revenue considerations need not stand in the way of introducing this reform recommended on every ground of social and moral well-being of the people. The history of section 84 to which I have referred is an interesting one and deserves to be better known than seems to be the case. It was a memorial from the British Indian Association in 1875 that drew the attention of the Government to this matter. That memorial prayed that the power to grant or withdraw licenses for liquor shops should be given to municipalities. It was fully considered by the Select Committee in connection with the Bill for the amendment of the Abkari Laws, and having regard to the great importance of the matter that Committee thought it necessary to refer it specially to the Local Government before this clause was added. And then in August, 1875, under the authority of the Local Government and on the motion of Mr. Dampier, who was in charge of that Bill, this clause was added, and it became section 15 of the new Amended Act, II of 1876 of the Bengal Council; and on the repeal of that Act two years later was preserved and reproduced as section 84 of Act VII of 1878, the present Excise Act. This section allowed the power to grant, withhold or withdraw licenses to liquor shops to be vested in the Calcutta Corporation and other municipalities with safeguards, the most careful and the most stringent that can be imagined or adopted. Under the section, the Local Government may give a municipality this power with the sanction of the Governor General in Council, under such conditions and subject to such rules as the Local Government may impose; and further the Local Government may at any time withdraw and revoke any functions and powers which it has assigned under this section.

"With reference to this matter, I shall place before the Council a short extract from the speech of one whose eminent authority, and weight and sobriety of judgment have been acknowledged in the fullest measure alike by the Government and the people—the late Hon'ble Kristodas Pal, who, in supporting Mr. Dampier, said:—

'He would support the addition proposed by the hon'ble mover of the Bill, as he had taken the initiative in this matter, although the proposed addition did not seem to him to go far enough. It simply vested the Government with discretion to make over the power of licensing liquor shops within the town to the Justices. Still, he accepted it as a concession, because he assured the Council that there was a strong opinion among the public that municipalities were the best authorities to regulate the liquor traffic, inasmuch as they had a direct interest in the consumption of liquor within the limits of the municipalities.' (Vide Calcutta Gazette of the 11th August, 1875, page 943).

"In other words, the prayer of the British Indian Association was for local option, and in this extremely guarded and restricted form of it, it was granted. But even limited as the section was, five and twenty years have passed since its adoption. And in the meanwhile too various Acts have been passed to improve the position, the representative character and the power of the municipalities; but yet not a single municipality has been vested with the power, or a single experiment tried in that direction. I appeal to the Government that the experiment may now be tried. It may be said that this matter of local option was fully considered years ago—in 1889, and it was then not accepted. The correspondence in connection with this appears in the Gazette of Idina of March, 1890 at page 495, and I have to thank the Hon'ble the Financial Secretary for referring me to it. May I at once respectfully point out that this correspondence and any expression of the opinion of the then Government of Bengal which it contains are wholly irrelevant to the issue I have raised? That correspondence related to what I might describe as local option, pure and simple, local option as it was understood in England, and what in fact was asked for by the British Indian Association and supported in Council by such men as Kristodas Pal and Maharaja Durga Churn Law, and has no bearing upon the question of applying section 84 of the Excise Act, which is a very different matter. If municipalities were entrusted with absolute power in the matter, it might be said that this would injuriously affect the drinking classes who are supposed by the argument to be too poor to be included among rate-payers of a municipality in spite of the very low rating qualification which prevails. In passing, I would say with all possible respect that this objection seems to be a somewhat untenable one, seeing that the law has invested the Municipal Commissioners, who are sought to be condemned on the ground of class tyranny, with absolute power of taxation over the poorest resident and without the right of appeal to any outside authority, that the Commissioners have absolute power to determine how he was to build the hut in which he is to live or whether he is to be permitted to build it at all, whether he may be allowed to dig a tank to get his drinking water or carry on certain trades, or do a great many other things besides. But waiving this ground, and admitting for the sake of argument the full force of the objection, what can be easier than for the Government to make a provision, when making over licensing power to municipalities, that when a certain number of residents object to the decision of a municipality they would have a right of appeal to the Government whose decision would be final.

"The other objection taken in the correspondence referred to is that the Commissioners would have no interest or sense of responsibility in the matter of the amount to be raised. But this too, if it was thought necessary or desirable to do so, may be provided against by a provision that the municipalities would have a share in the profit or loss of the Excise Revenue, calculated on an average of previous years or any other reasonable basis, or that they would be required to contribute a certain fixed amount determined on such calculation, or in some other way. At any rate, I think the time has come when a beginning may be made with some selected municipalities which might be vested with powers under section 84; and if, after a proper trial, it is found that the system does not work satisfactorily even with these official safeguards, the Government can, at any time, withdraw and revoke the power.

"There is one other consideration in this connection which I should like to place before the Council. At present to cope with the evils of illicit distillation, the paid informer has to be constantly employed, and it is necessary, as far as possible, to screen him and keep him out of view, because once his name transpires, there may be difficulty in utilising him. Necessity may justify the employment of that not too amiable or estimable gentleman, but I submit that it would be an advantage to the public interests on many grounds into which I need not enter, that the need for the employment of such undesirable people should be minimised. By trusting a selected Municipality, which had the interests of the whole of the rate-payers to secure, illicit distillation would be more effectively guarded against, and instead of these unreliable paid informers, you would have an unpaid but interested and more reliable voluntary agency doing the work.

"I shall pass over one or two other matters I had thought of referring to, which will no doubt be dealt with by other Hon'ble Members who are going to follow me. I wish to thank the Government sincerely for the grant of Rs. 4,80,000 to the District Boards which is proposed in the Budget. I trust they will now be able to take up more energetically and with greater determination the work of removing the water scarcity to which I have already referred. As regards the question of the Government share of the joint collection charges for the Road and the Public Works Cesses, I believe there are grounds on which, should the Government be pleased to take a liberal view, it might be asked to contribute half of those charges. But even on the accepted basis of its contributing a third share of the actual cost, Government has paid in the past about 7 lakhs of rupees less than fell to its share as appeared from figures given on a previous occasion. I appeal to the Government that the claims of the Boards to the balance may be taken into favourable consideration. Boards are the auxillaries of the Government in many important works, and I would remind the Council of the remark made in the last Resolution of the Government on the working of the District Boards that one of the reasons which arrested their progress was that their sources of income, except to a very limited extent, are 'fixed and inelastic,' while the demands made upon them are 'varied and constantly expanding.'

"I will conclude with one observation. I have heard it said in this Hall that the remarks which Members of the Council make here in connection with the Financial Statement are ineffective and infructuous, and that they cannot alter a single figure in the Budget, or a single line of the policy of Government. In that criticism, Sir, I do not agree, though I confess that there are not perhaps wanting times when discouragement comes to the mind; because I believe that if there is anything of reason in what they said, anything that comes from the heart and conscience, or is inspired by no motive less worthy than that of seeking, according to their light, to help the Government in the difficult work of administration and to advance the interests and voice the wants of the people of this country in my political creed, Sir, I do not regard these as two objects, but as one—then either now or it might perhaps be should have good copies which are useful. The Copyists' Department gives a revenue to Government, and I think it is the duty of Government to see that the man who pays for a copy gets good value for his money.

"There is another matter to which I wish to refer. It is very grieving to find that while the Budget before us makes provision for increase of pay to several classes of officers employed under Government in judicial work, from High Court Judges to Subordinate Judicial Officers, there is no reference whatever made to one class of officers, most of whom are employed now as District Judges. The class of officers I am alluding to are our Statutory Civil Servants, who are paid now under the two-thirds' rule. The Government of India appointed the Public Service Commission, who were directed to conduct a careful enquiry into the grievances, disabilities and disadvantages of the native members of the Statutory Civil Service. The finding of that Commission was that the difference of pay which existed had caused dissatisfaction, and they pronounced the distinction to be unjustifiable and invidious and not based upon any clear principle. The adjustment of their pay on the two-thirds' rule was pronounced by the Commission to be quite arbitrary and indefensible on general grounds. These expressions of the Commission are to be found in pages 65 to 86 of their report. It requires no prophet to see or to know that the Statutory Service was abolished soon after the Public Service Commission sent in their report. But though the system was abolished, it left in the hands of Government those who had been made Statutory Civilians before the system was abolished. The Statute which created the service has no provision in it to justify the two-thirds' rule of pay. The rules framed by the Government of India on the subject under the Statute contained no provision whatever which justifies this distinction in their pay. I know there is an executive order in the Civil Service Regulations, and to that order this two-thirds' rule is to be traced; but even that rule or executive order, which I understand is a Code for the guidance of the Accounts Department, has not been held invariable, for the present Maharaja of Darbhanga was allowed full pay. The remarks made by the Public Service Commission pronouncing the thing as indefensible on general grounds and stigmatising it as invidious and arbitrary, no doubt left the Government in an embarrassed position, and Government, therefore, decided to abolish the service altogether. It is perhaps too late in the day to discuss whether that difficulty could not have been got over by some other means; if it was necessary to get rid of something which had been pronounced invidious and indefensible by the Public Service Commission whether it would not have been infinitely better to remove the thing condemned and to abolish only the two-thirds' rule, and not the Statutory Civil Service? It was only the distinction of pay that the Commission had characterised as invidious and indefensible, and their remarks did not apply to the Service itself. Some of these Statutory Civil Servants have been removed by the cruel hand of death, and others have been removed by the merciful pension rules. I suppose there are very few of them left in the hands of Government, and it would not certainly cost the Government very much to allow the few who are left the full pay of the positions they hold. It is no doubt wise and worthy of the British Government to abolish a system which has been pronounced indefensible and invidious on general grounds, but I do not think it is wise to leave living monuments to testify to its existence in the past. I suppose the small expenditure that the Government might have to incur in allowing the remaining Statutory Civil Servants their full pay might be regarded as an expenditure on whitewash to obliterate a system which has been pronounced by the Public Service Commission as indefensible. In the Budget there is no special provision with regard to this two-thirds' rule. It has always been the practice to budget the full pay of these officers, and afterwards the difference between that and the two-thirds is shown as a saving effected. In the present Budget the same course has no doubt been followed, so that there is provision in the Budget already for the full pay of these Statutory Civilians, and from the fact that there is no reference to this class of Government servants, though there is reference to other classes of Judicial Officers, I was inclined to think that this was due simply to an oversight. I hope that it is an oversight, and that it is not intended this year to pay the members of the Statutory Civil Service at the two-thirds' rate.

"I do not think I have many more remarks to offer, but I feel that I should not resume my seat without thanking the Government for the sympathetic manner in which they have done their duty, though that duty was a most difficult one, with regard to checking the Plague. I have had the honour of knowing personally what deep interest the Statesman presiding over the Government takes in this matter, and how sympathetically he has been collecting facts and figures and anxiously devising means to check the plague without in any way encroaching upon the existing customs or doing anything which will show that the Government was not in full sympathy with the people."

The Hon'ble MAULVI SYED MAHOMED said:—"I beg to congratulate Your Honour's Government on the financial prosperity in Bengal, which has enabled the Government to apply the surplus to some of the long-defined necessary projects. The Members of the Provincial Civil Service are especially grateful to Government for the provision made for improving their position and prospects. They would have been more pleased could the Government find its way to a larger grant for redressing the grievances of such a large and deserving body of public servants. I, however, venture to express an earnest hope on their behalf that the Government of India will be pleased to sanction the scheme of the Hon'ble Mr. Baker. On behalf of the Muhammadan community, I respectfully invite the attention of Government to the urgency of providing additional space for Muhammadan cemeteries. Probably it is not generally known that the extension of public Muhammadan burial-ground in Calcutta has been a standing need for many years. Then, again, the reservation of a plot for burying mutilated dead bodies from hospitals in the new Muhammadan burial-ground known as Gori Ghariban, is most disagreeable to the Muhammadans."

The Hon'ble BABU BOIKANTA NATH SEN said:—"Bearing in mind that economy is the guiding star of the Hon'ble the Financial Secretary in the preparation of the Budget, I shall try to observe economy in respect of time for the discussion of the Financial Statement, and, therefore, I shall endeavour to take up as little time as I can, and will try to hurry on, only noticing the points I have to raise in connection with the Budget. We are quite in harmony with regard to the prosperity shown in the Budget, and I have also, with my hon'ble friends, to congratulate the Government and the Hon'ble the Financial Secretary for this Prosperity Budget. It has been observed by critics outside this Chamber that—'What is the use of discussing over the Budget. The Budget has been very carefully made by the Government and the Hon'ble Member on whom rests the financial responsibility, and has been passed by the Government of India, and it therefore needs no discussion. So what is the use of discussing it?' But, Sir, I understand from the invitation of the Hon'ble the Financial Secretary, and from certain remarks which fell from Your Honour on a previous occasion when the discussion on the Budget took place, that you recognised the importance of the remarks that were made by us, and that they did not go unnoticed or were not appreciated. Emboldened by these observations from Your Honour and the invitation of the Hon'ble the Financial Secretary, I conclude that it is not the wish or expectation of the Government that the discussion should be simply eulogistic, but that it should also be critical. With these remarks I proceed to notice some of the items on the receipt side as well as on the expenditure side of the Budget. In noticing the different items on the receipt side, I do not in the least intend to suggest that wherever there is an increase on the estimated revenue that the Government should not do so. What I mean to say is, that while revenue is sought to be developed, it should be developed with proper precautions. And in doing so there are certain dangerous lines which should be avoided. With regard to Land Revenue, the Provincial Rates and Excise, I beg to observe that the increase which is expected from settlements in respect of Land Revenue and the increase which is expected from Provincial Rates by re-valuation verge upon dangerous ground, and they offer inducements to encourage the officers concerned to make up the figure. Practical men who live in the Mufassal know about this, and they know what hardship arises from over-valuation. Objections are taken, no hereafter, our words will find some echo and meet with some response in the minds and judgments of those in whose hands lay rule and authority and power—those on whose shoulders Providence has assigned the terrible responsibility of shaping, for good or for evil, the destinies of millions of their fellowmen."

The Hon'ble MR. M. S. DAS said:—"I fully endorse the remarks made by the Hon'ble Member who preceded me, when he congratulated the Government on the prosperity aspect of the Financial Statement now before us. In the concluding words of his speech he referred to the grant to the District Boards, and remarked that speeches made by Hon'ble Members in this Council were viewed not at all favourably by certain Members of this Council or by Government. If I ever believed that it was useless to speak out one's mind here, I should be the last person to be on my legs. Now, with reference to the grant which the present Budget provides to District Boards, I may say that times without number, both in this Council and in newspaper articles outside this room, the Government has been charged with having diverted the Road Cess Funds to purposes other than legitimate. The Despatch of the Duke of Argyll, who was Secretary of State for India at the time, was quoted—Sir George Campbell's exposition of that Despatch was also quoted—to show how the Road Cess Funds do what were the duties of Provincial and Imperial Funds. Some of those who raised this outcry went to the length of saying that this diversion of the Road Cess amounted to misappropriation on the part of the Government. I have no doubt that this was entirely a wrong expression, because 'misappropriation' is a word which is found in the Penal Code. But though we very often pointed out to Government that the Road Cess and District Board Funds had been used for purposes other than legitimate year after year, Government took no notice of this complaint. In the present Budget, however, we have at last a liberal grant made by Government to the District Boards. I congratulate the Government for having made this liberal grant, and I should say we ought also to congratulate ourselves upon having a Government which is ready to lend a willing ear to just representations, and also upon having a Financial Secretary who is willing to consider the just needs of the District Boards. This grant is not only a liberal grant, but it is something more. It is a happy recognition of the principles of a friendly relation between the District Boards and the Government. There is no misappropriation now. The charge of misappropriation disappears, and we have instead the Provincial Funds and District Board Funds joining hands as friends willing to help each other. I hope this initial recognition of the mutual help principle will be more and more emphasised in after years.

"Now, Sir, I have a word which I should especially address to the Hon'ble Member in charge of the finances. I hope in distributing this liberal grant among the several District Boards, he will kindly bear in mind the special claims of the District Boards of Orissa, which, I think, have every right to a fairly good share. Orissa has just gone through a revenue settlement, which has brought in, I think, a net increase of about 13 lakhs of rupees to the Government revenue. This increase in the Government revenue means a net loss of 13 lakhs of income to the people of Orissa. I think, Sir, it is the duty of a Government—and especially of a Government presided over by a kind and sympathetic Statesman such as we have—to help the people to recover from the effects of this Revenue settlement. Fortunately for us the East Coast Railway has just been opened up, but we are very badly in need of feeder roads. I should say that the construction of feeder roads comes within the first legitimate duties of District Boards and within the legitimate purposes of the District Board Funds. The Secretary of State's Despatch, which has often been quoted, contains these words: 'It is, above all things, requisite that the benefits to be derived from the rates should be brought home to their doors; that these benefits should be palpably direct and immediate.' Feeder roads fulfil these conditions to the letter. They bring to the door of the cultivator the benefits of the railway; they open up facilities for finding a better market, and he gets at once better value for his agricultural produce.

There is no mistaking these benefits. So the construction of feeder roads is the real and legitimate province of District Board Funds, and I hope that the Hon'ble the Financial Secretary will see his way to give due consideration to the needs of Orissa. I believe I have made out a fairly strong case, and I hope my appeal will meet with a sympathetic response from him.

"The Hon'ble Member on my right, who has just sat down, wished to know why a higher amount has been put down in the present Budget by way of discount to stamp vendors? I am not at all anxious to know the reason; for it has been my experience always that the Hon'ble the Financial Secretary holds the purse strings very tight, and it is not at all likely that the outside public will get a pice out of him unless there is absolute necessity proved to the satisfaction of the Government. I do not grudge the stamp vendors the more liberal rate of discount they are to get, but I would beg to suggest that these stamp vendors should be saddled with additional responsibility in the matter of the returns which they have to submit about the sold stamps. The practice in times gone by was very different from what it is now. In former times stamp vendors were required to mention in these returns the names of each person to whom a stamp was sold, but that practice has been dropped. Who is responsible for the alteration of the practice I do not know, but with all due deference to him, I must say that his experience—if he has any experience at all—of Courts of Justice must have been very limited. Of course this is not the place to go in to the subject as to what sort of returns they should submit, but I believe that it is not impossible, after consulting people who have experience in this matter, to devise a form of return which will effectively minimise, if not entirley suppress, the fraudulent practice which exists now in the sale of stamps. As things are at present, a stamp vendor may keep back some stamps and show in the returns that they were sold. These stamps are utilised afterwards when dishonest people wish to manufacture fraudulent documents; for, as the name of the purchaser is not mentioned in the return, parties have every facility to ante-date the fraudulent documents engrossed on them. If it is the wish of the Government to find out the most effective check against this particular kind of fraud, it can be done by consulting Judicial Officers who preside over Small Cause Courts in the Mufussal, where most of these fraudulent unregistered documents are produced, and the Pleaders who practise in those Courts.

"I have to make one suggestion with regard to copies of English records. The copyists who are employed in the Mufussal Courts and who supply copies of English records to parties generally come from a class who have a very limited knowledge of English. They are paid by piece-work, and in their eagerness to increase their income and earn a little more, they do their work in a slipshod and irresponsible manner. No doubt these copies are compared before they are given to the suitors; but this comparing does not at all improve matters, because the persons who are entrusted with the comparing of the records are no better than the copyists themselves. A copyist has sometimes to copy a document of which he cannot read several words in the original. When he does not know the word he tries to copy the word by making certain curves, strokes and lines just as he sees them before him in the original document; such a document, whatever may be its interest to one interested in the deciphering of hieroglyphics, is certainly of no use to the suitor who pays for it.

"In this connection I beg to make a suggestion, and that is, to introduce typewriting machines into our Courts of Law to meet and remedy the present state of things. This would attract a better class of men—better educated men—and the result would be better and more satisfactory to those who pay for these copies, because it is impossible with the typewriter to imitate the curves, strokes and lines of words one cannot read. The difficulty is only with regard to the furnishing of these machines, and as to who should pay for them. My answer is that it should be the business of the copyists themselves to find these machines. I suppose that there would be many men who would consider it well worth their while to invest Rs. 200 or Rs. 300 in a typewriter in order to get an income of from Rs. 40 to 50 a month; for we know that men deposit Rs. 500 by way of security to get posts as bill-collecting sircars on salaries of from Rs. 20 to Rs. 25 a month. In whatever way this difficulty is met, it is but justice to the suitors that they doubt, but they are generally discarded. I am glad to say that I have not a similar remark to make about the Assessed Taxes.

"With regard to Excise, my hon'ble and learned friend to my left has gone over the ground, and I will only offer one or two more remarks with regard to the consumption and cheapening of prices. From the Resolution of Government on the report of the Excise Administration in the Lower Provinces for 1899-1900, which has been quoted by my hon'ble and learned friend, it appears that the consumption of distillery spirits is 44,000 and odd gallons in excess of the previous year, and in which there was also an increase, the difference in the percentage being 8·5. It is true that, with regard to outstills, the increase is not given, but it must be presumed from the increase in the revenue that there must have been a larger consumption. With regard to cheapening, my hon'ble friend has told all I wished to say, except one point, namely, that in certain districts the still-head duty has been reduced from Rs. 5 and Rs. 3-12 to Rs. 4 and Rs. 3, respectively. This reduction of still-head duty has apparently been made on the supposition that the higher rate stimulates illicit practices, but the correctness of this we fail to see. If there are illicit practices or illicit outstills going on, it is not on account of the higher rate. In the Mufassil, Sir, there is very little systematic illicit distillation going on, but what there is only takes place during pujas in some places and during marriages, and this illicit distillation is not on account of a higher still-head duty. With regard to the Excise Revenue, I will only submit one more remark, namely, that I fully endorse what has fallen from my hon'ble and learned friend on my left that local option ought to be introduced in some selected areas as an experiment.

"I will now take up the subject of revenue from Assessed Taxes. I do not, like my hon'ble friend on my left, wish to enquire why a reduced amount has been shown? I am confining myself simply to the ordinary collections. The ordinary collections shown in the Budget are Rs. 44,80,000, and against that is the remark that the actuals of ten months in 1900-1901 show a lower tendency. In my humble opinion the Government has acted wisely in having adopted this figure. The explanation given is, no doubt, a good one, but it may be explained in another way. I would explain it in this way. In the light of the working of the Income-Tax Act in a few districts in the past two years, the Government has now become convinced that there was over-assessment and wrong assessment, and in consequence of that, assessed amounts could not be realised, and they had to be remitted in consideration of their being first considered doubtful. Then coercive measures were taken and warrants issued, but the amounts could not be realised. These facts have forced themselves upon Government in the last two years. I am referring to the Resolution on the Report of the Board of Revenue on the financial results of the administration of the Income-Tax Department for 1899-1900. From this it would appear that in the past two years the net revenue was increased a little more than 5 per cent., and in the fourth paragraph of this Resolution, it is stated that the outstanding balance, including penalties, costs and arrears, was Rs. 2,06,635, against Rs. 1,81,239 in the year 1898-99. Of this balance, Rs. 48,751 are reported to be good and under realisation, Rs. 1,04,755 doubtful, and Rs. 53,129 bad and irrecoverable. Now in 1897-98 there were 5,753 distress warrants issued, and in 1898-99 there were 5,725. This clearly goes to show that there was an increase in the Assessed Taxes. It has been found that these amounts could not be realised, and therefore there has been a lower tendency; and so far the Hon'ble the Financial Secretary is quite correct, but it is, as we understand in consequence of over-assessment and wrong-assessment. Therefore, we have to congratulate the Government on this reduced future figure. In this connection, I would ask whether it may not be considered that the time has arrived for raising the taxable minimum from Rs. 500 to Rs. 1,000? In the majority of these cases in which coercive measures have to be taken, the persons against whom these steps have to be taken are people whose income is between Rs. 500 and Rs. 1,000. The revenue that will be lost by exempting this class will, I submit, be more than compensated by the contentment of the people, and the department will be saved all the worry that these coercive measures entail on the Officers of Government.

"I now come to the expenditure side, and propose first to deal with the question of improving the Judicial and Executive Branches of the Provincial Service I have to express the thanks of the members of both branches of the Provincial Service, and of the general public, as well as of my humble self, who made certain enquiries some time ago in this Council for the improvement of the status of these officers. I find myself in this delicate position that, while thanking the Government for what it has done, still, for the sake of justice, I feel it my duty to submit that a larger amount ought to have been sanctioned. There are several other heads to which I shall have occasion to refer hereafter, from which certain amounts might have been taken and appropriated for this purpose. In connection with this matter, Sir, I do not think it would be an improper diversion if I were to refer to the questions put by me in July last, and which were repeated by my friend to my right the other day, and he was told that the questions were argumentative.

"We do not know what scheme has been prepared with reference to this, and the question of the separation of the Judicial and Executive functions is also under the consideration of the Government. We do not know whether that has been taken into consideration. We are in the dark, and not being in full possession of the facts, it is impossible for us to offer any remarks or observations. What I beg to enquire is that, now that the Government has decided on a fair consideration of their claims believing that a case has been made out, what is the Government going to do? We thankfully accept what the Government proposes to do, but feel bound to point out that the amount is not sufficient. I find that the division of the amount between the two branches does not commend itself to me for its fairness or adequacy. Out of Rs. 1,40,000, only Rs. 40,000 goes for the improvement of the Munsifs and Subordinate Judges, and Rs. 1,00,000 goes for the improvement of the other branch. Rightly or wrongly, Sir, we are under the impression that the Executive Branch is the more favoured, being under the direct control of the Government. If half and half had been given, there would have been the principle of equality, but as it is, I fail to see how Rs. 40,000 has been considered sufficient for improving the status of Munsifs and Subordinate Judges. I suppose that Rs. 40,000 includes establishment. I had occasion to remark on the last occasion, and do so again, that these Munsifs in the mufassal are not sufficiently manned; they have got four clerks for the ordinary 3,000 suits and 3,000 execution cases, and for four clerks or muharrirs to write out the records of 6,000 cases is practically impossible, and they have to work at home. At least one more clerk ought to be given to these officers. If this is considered necessary by Your Honour's Government, a larger amount would be required than Rs 40,000. And we do not know how this sum of Rs. 40,000 is intended to be appropriated. I venture to submit that the amount is not sufficient for the two branches, and the distribution is also, in my humble opinion, not fair.

"Next I take up the amount which has been kept separate for distribution to District Boards. I have no doubt that the District Boards will feel grateful for the help Government is going to give, and it is very gratifying to find that Government is not going to hoard up its money but is prepared to spend it for the better administration of the Province, and the Boards, which form a subordinate branch of the administration, will be helped to do this. The Government has come to see that the District Boards have not got sufficient funds at their disposal to meet their demands, which are growing day by day, while their funds are inelastic; and Government has generously and spontaneously come forward to help them to enable them to do many things that they have been unable to do unaided. It has been recently remarked in some of the newspapers that the Government has misappropriated a large sum from the Road Cess by not making sufficient allowance for the collection of the Public Works Cess. I deprecate such remarks, at a time while Government is going to place certain sums of money in the hands of District Boards, and from the way Government is going to place this money in their hands this year, I think that it will not be for the last time and that this generosity will be repeated. I hope that the Government has been convinced that District Boards are not in a position to carry out the works placed in their hands, and that so long as it can afford Government will go on from year to year placing certain funds at the disposal of the District Boards. I hope this is not the first and last time that this is going to be done. In view of the present situation I deprecate the idea of making any reflection upon the Government based upon misappropriation, or its liability to refund what is said to have been misappropriated. We ought to receive the grant with thankfulness, and hope that the Government will continue to shew its liberality to District Boards in future.

"In connection with this matter I humbly beg to make one suggestion. We find that in this year's Budget under the head 'Registration' a sum of Rs. 7,70,000 is shown on the receipt side, and Rs 4,57,000 appears on the expenditure side: so that there is a net profit of Rs 3,13,000 We have been told by the Hon'ble the Financial Secretary the other day in placing the budget before the Council that the Government, under existing circumstances, having regard to the system of Provincial Finance, is not in a position to make a permanent assignment or transfer of revenue to anybody, and that it is not possible to make such a transfer, but I humbly suggest that Your Honour will be pleased to find some means to make over the Registration Department to the District Boards, and, if it be not possible, to continue to make over to the District Boards the amounts which are derived from registration of deeds as net profit. Their funds at present are inelastic, but if this Department be made over to them, they will have an elastic fund at their disposal. My countrymen do not object so much to indirect taxation as they dislike direct taxation. Where the rules at present permit, fees in connection with the Registration operation might be increased by them in case of necessity. I would, therefore, humbly suggest that for the future the Government may, if the General Funds permit, make over a sufficient amount to the District Boards, or at least the profit derived through the Registration Department may be made over to them.

"From the Statement before us I do not find out how this amount set apart for District Boards will be distributed among the different District Boards, whether the 10 per cent. of the Public Works Cess will be taken as a criterion and the distribution made according to that to all the District Boards, or whether the amount will be placed in the hands of the Divisional Commissioner and he be left to distribute it according to the necessity of each District Board? This does not appear from the Budget, and no doubt the Hon'ble the Financial Secretary will enlighten us on that point. I think it will be better if the principle of distribution be settled by the Government than leave the matter to the sweet will of the Divisional Commissioners.

"Now I come to the head 'Jails.' I find that, as compared with last year, the Budget shows a net profit of Rs. 3,00,000 from Jails. I submit that it is by means of prison labour that the Government was enabled to show this result, and that it would be a gracious act as well as an act of charity if the Government were to allow prisoners a more generous diet and give them a little fish, especially to Bengalis who consider it a necessary item of food. This will not cost very much and could easily be spared out of the profits made out of Jails.

"I have to submit a few remarks under the head 'Police.' The Budget does not show sufficient attempt to give effect to the recommendations of the Police Commission. These recommendations were, no doubt, not accepted in their entirety by the then Lieutenant-Governor, but I hope Your Honour will be able to re-consider the matter and take into consideration the claims of persons entitled to be appointed Inspectors. If Police reform is to be made, and if this reform is to be carried out, the recommendations of the Police Commission ought to be accepted in connection with the appointment of Inspectors.

"With regard to 'Civil Works' in charge of the Public Works Department, I find that in this year's Budget Rs. 2,50,000 has been provided for the completion of the Presidency General Hospital. With regard to Darjeeling, there is a provision of Rs. 2,50,000, an addition to the provision made last year of Rs. 4,00,000. I have been informed that a larger amount has been spent. With regard to the General Hospital two lakhs were provided last year, so that altogether Rs. 4,50,000 are to be given for this institution; for Darjeeling about 10 lakhs, and for the acquisition of land for the extension of the High Court, 2½ lakhs. I think a little economy might have been practised in respect of these items, and the money saved might have been provided for the purpose of improving the status of the two branches of the Provincial Service or to give to the District Boards. I venture to hope that something like this may be done when the estimates are revised hereafter.

"In connection with Civil Works, I find provision has been made for Munsifs' residence, and I think certain provisions will also have to be made on account of the structural arrangements for giving effect to the recent Government Circular prohibiting the admission of outsiders to public offices. I hope it will not be a diversion if I say a word or two here with regard to the exclusion of the public from public offices. The idea of the Government is to minimise corruption, but practically it will make the offices more corrupt. Where formerly one rupee was spent for improper purposes, two rupees will in future have to be spent. Information which people can get by getting access into these offices will now to a certain extent be stopped, as these offices become inaccessible, and the person who has access and can get information will get more money than if access had been given to the public. This will practically be the result. With regard to buildings occupied by Munsifs, larger buildings will have to be constructed, if strict observance of the Government Circular be insisted upon.

"I rejoice to find a grant of Rs. 1,21,000 for burial-grounds for Christians and Muhammadans, and I would have rejoiced still more if the Government had also made some provision for burning-ghâts for Hindus. Your Honour knows—and every one in this Council knows—that the Hindus remove their dead to the sacred Ganges to be burned there. Riparian Municipalities find the greatest difficulty in the cremation of bodies, especially in the rainy season. Only one or two have been able to construct burning-ghâts at their own expense, and therefore it would have been a matter for rejoicing if Government had taken in hand the construction of burning-ghâts or granted money to these municipalities for this purpose.

"The only other matter on which I desire to offer a few remarks is with reference to the Nadia Rivers. The Government have evidently been pleased to take, under the advice of its responsible officers, an optimistic view of the condition of the river. That the river is becoming worse and worse day by day cannot be doubted. The reports of the Executive Engineer, Nadia Local Rivers Division, will bear me out in that shoals are increasing in number, and I need not refer to the disastrous effect which this condition of the river will bring about hereafter. I will content myself by making a very modest and humble suggestion Last year the questions I put, I indulged in the hope that some steps might be taken for the improvement of the river. Dredging was spoken of to meet the case, but, under existing circumstances, it is evident that work by a dredger cannot soon be expected. I have therefore to suggest that the durma mats and bamboos used at present for the maintenance of the channel ought to be discarded: with the march of progress in the 20th century better appliances ought to be substituted. I mean that these mats should be displaced and corrugated-iron sheets used in their stead. These mats do their work for seven days only. I have tried to ascertain these facts from men actually engaged in the work. I have gathered these facts from them, and I have come to the conclusion that these mats remain intact for about two days, then holes come, and the water goes through, consequently there is a diminution in the current: then the mats commence to rot and the water is also polluted. Now, Sir, I think that if sâl posts be used instead of bamboos, which have risen in price, and corrugated-iron sheets in place of mats, in the long run there will be no excess of expenditure; for it is hoped that these corrugated-iron sheets will last for at least ten years, so that what has to be spent in ten years in mats and bamboos will more than suffice for corrugated-iron sheets and sâl posts. In making this suggestion I am not drawing upon my imagination or upon pure speculation, but I stand on experience. In the Gundak the experiment has actually been made, and there, where the depth used to be only two feet, it is now never less than five feet throughout the year. I therefore venture to suggest that this experiment be made. If the Government are pleased to consider that this is too expensive a matter, which I humbly beg to submit it is not, in view of the fact that it will last for ten years, I humbly ask that a trial be given to this plan. As these shoals extend along a length about a hundred miles, experiment might be made at one shoal, viz., the one just at the entrance and if found successful, it might be extended to other shoals.

"I do not think I would be justified in taking up any more time of the Council, and I will therefore resume my seat after repeating my thanks to the Council and to the Government for the allotments made to the District Boards and for the improvement of the condition of the members of the Provincial Service, and for the liberal spirit which the Government has shown in making provisions for objects of charity and public utility."

The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT said:—"The Council will now adjourn for half-an-hour."

The Hon'ble MR. ELWORTHY said:—"The Budget, which the Hon'ble Mr. Baker has laid before us, is one on which we may offer him our congratulations. The expenditure has barely exceeded the estimate, and the revenue is better by 13 lakhs of rupees. A large surplus is therefore available for special provisions for various useful and desirable purposes, provided that nothing unforeseen occurs to divert its application.

"We may be thankful that Bengal has been so prosperous, while some of the other Provinces have suffered so severely. Bengal has escaped the famine, which has afflicted other parts of India, and has shown much practical sympathy with the sufferers. I believe that I am correct in saying that in Bengal there is prosperity everywhere, and that the population has largely increased since the last Census. We are told in the opening page of the Budget that the condition of the people has improved, and reasons are given in support of the fact. It must be satisfactory to you, Sir, that, during your term as Lieutenant-Governor, the Province under your rule has thriven so well.

"With reference to the Budget itself, I, as a Commercial Member, representing one section of the community, feel that I am a layman with regard to the various branches of the administration, and I consider that it would be ambitious on my part to traverse ground of which I have had no experience and on which I cannot offer an authoritative opinion. But, Sir, there are some subjects on which I should like to make a few remarks, which I offer for your consideration.

"You have a surplus, which it is proposed to appropriate in the manner already explained to the Council by the Hon'ble the Financial Secretary. The objects for which these grants are made are undoubtedly laudable, some of them have been shelved in past years, waiting for the opportunity now offered. The expenditure on Special Provisions amounts to Rs. 21,30,000, and there is an increase over the Budget for the current year of Rs. 24,20,000, which will reduce the opening balance for next year to 20 lakhs, the minimum allowed by the Government of India. In making these grants, are we leaving sufficient reserve against contingencies?

"There are two contingencies of a serious nature,—Plague and Famine. With regard to famine, the Budget states that there is to be no allotment, as no expenditure is anticipated. We sincerely hope that no expenditure will be necessary; we, however, appear to be living in phenomenal times, and our rainfall during the past six months has been scant. Plague and famine are frequent companions.

"A considerable sum has been granted for plague, but it seems doubtful if sufficient has been reserved for dealing with the awful scourge that has increased in all directions throughout this thickly-populated Province, and which must surely call for heavier expenditure. I may be taking a view of the situation unduly pessimistic, but the outlook of the future is certainly very serious. Judging from the history of plague in past ages, there is certainty on one point that it comes with the intention of running its course, and that it defies the skill of the Physician. Sanitation, ventilation, disinfection and cleanliness appear to be the only means of checking its advance and of mitigating its virulence. How long it will remain with us it would be venturesome to predict. We hope that, as Bombay shows signs of recovery after five years, it may not stay with us the half century, the term of its duration, when it overran Europe some centuries ago. History tells us, and the present conditions confirm the fact,that its ravages are greatest in cities and towns in which the population is most congested, and in which sanitation is most deficient and difficult. In Bengal there are many large towns to which these conditions apply, and for which the help of Government is necessary in the matter of eradication and prevention of the disease.

"Probably, Sir, you may be able to re-assure us as to the measures being taken throughout the Province, and to allay the feeling of anxiety that exists in the public mind. The patience of the people under this affliction has been remarkable. There has been no scare, and the plague rules have worked smoothly. This must be most satisfactory to you, Sir, to whom this condition of affairs is mainly due. In Calcutta itself plague has increased year by year in the same manner as it did when it attacked Bombay. We have had a larger death-rate in successive years, and we are naturally anxious regarding the next two years.

"With regard to Calcutta, we find that the congested districts are those which give the heaviest death-rate, and that the people who do the cleansing are those who are most susceptible to the disease. Our main hope is in sanitation, ventilation, the cleansing of the City generally, and the opening out of the congested districts. It is impossible that much can be done immediately in opening out the congested districts, but we shall be glad if cleansing and disinfection be continued vigorously, so that we may do all that is possible to eradicate the disease or at all events to check the increase that we may expect during the next two years.

"I do not intend to adversely criticise the work of the Municipality on the question of the sanitation of the City. I feel that the Chairman and his Executive have struggled and done well in the face of extraordinary difficulties. My wish is to assist rather than criticise in the face of the danger which is awful to contemplate in so prosperous a province and so prosperous a city. The measures that are necessary for prevention and eradication add considerably to the duties of the Chairman, which already tax him to an inordinate degree. At a juncture of this nature, we hope that he will ask for and obtain all the help that he needs. Some help the Commissioners can give, but it will be to a limited extent for they are as a rule busy men. Real help is possible from the people themselves.

"With reference to the opening out of the city of Calcutta, we have waited some time for a statement of the intentions of Government regarding the scheme which is in course of preparation. We hope that we are within measurable distance of the details of a scheme so much needed in a City so overcrowded. We see no allotment either in the Imperial or in the Provincial Budget, and we fear that it has been hung up for an indefinite period. We should have been glad to take a considerable sum from the surplus at our disposal to help us in the improvement of the City.

"There is another subject to which I wish to refer is, the large sales of Jail Manufactures. At the last Budget debate, the Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee called attention to the steady increase of sales, and expressed the hope that these manufactures do not stand in competition with private enterprise. The Hon'ble the Chief Secretary, in reply, mentioned that the standing orders of Government are very clear on this point, and that, as far as possible, manufactures in Jails are in no way allowed to compete with private enterprise. This subject is one of great importance to the Association which I represent—The Trades' Association of Calcutta. The lot of the trader is not always a happy one; he has risks and anxieties which are little known to the outside world, and his business is often heavily charged with taxes—Local, Provincial and Imperial,—and he is the one of all classes to which the charitable subscription book is most frequently presented. It is not always that he can show a balance-sheet so cheerful as the Budget which we are discussing to-day. We look therefore with some suspicion on Jail Manufactures as interfering with our trading, and our suspicions are not always without foundation.

During the past year, we have referred to Government with regard to the outturn of the Benares Jail, which had become nothing less than a trading establishment, with its price list and its newspaper advertisements."

The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT said :—" Which Jail did the Hon'ble Member mention ?"

The Hon'ble MR. ELWORTHY continued:—" The Benares Jail. I was about to observe, Sir, that the list of manufactures in this Jail wound up as follows:—

'Almost any article may be manufactured in the jail; orders for the manufacture of articles will be registered and photographs sent.'

"There is praiseworthy temptation among the Jail authorities to extend the scope of the outturn with a view to show profitable working, and there is temptation to go beyond the rules laid down by Government. I hope that I may be permitted to ask the Hon'ble the Financial Secretary for a list of the articles manufactured in the Jails of Bengal. I note that the sales have been very heavy during the past four years, and that very heavy payments have recently been made for raw material. The sales in 1898-99 were Rs. 9,78,000, in 1899-1900 Rs. 11,40,000; the revised estimate for 1900-1901 is Rs. 13,35,000, and the Budget for 1901-1902 is Rs. 11,11,000.

"There is one more subject to which I wish to refer,—Education, and its technical, commercial and industrial sides. The Budget for this year gives 32 lakhs to Education, or 4 lakhs more than the revised estimate of 1900-1901. Provision is made for additional Instructors for the Sibpur College, for Industrial and Commercial Education, and for the improvement of the condition of teachers in Primary Schools. I am not sufficiently versed in Educational questions to tread on the very delicate ground of high education or of the joys and sorrows of the educational mill, which turns out more graduates than can find salaries adequate to the time and money spent by them. Their ambitions are naturally high, the market suffers from over-production: but for technical and commercial education, there is, we hope, an outlet commanding fair remuneration. I do not wish in any way to depreciate the advantages of Education. The mechanic himself is none the worse at his trade for being educated. But I contend that we shall do well to fit our young men for employment other than that of clerks and school masters.

"I am pleased to see a further grant to the Sibpur Engineering College. I have had some experience of the College. It turns out men who have been taught to work with their hands as well as their brains, a teaching that has made them manly, thoughtful and self-reliant; qualities useful to them in their course through life. The men who have come to me as Electrical Engineers have at once fallen into their positions ready to act on their own initiative and to take upon themselves responsibility. They have been most valuable and have commanded a higher rate of pay than often falls to the graduate of the University.

"In the discussion on the Budget Statement of 1900-1901, the Hon'ble Raja Ranjit Sinha Bahadur of Nashipur remarked that 'there are technical schools scattered here and there in some parts of Bengal; but for want of sufficient funds they are lying useless.' He further remarked:—'The indigenous arts and industries of our country are gradually become extinct and they cannot flourish, especially in this country, without State encouragement.' The disappearance of the indigenous arts and industries, which we all deplore, is unavoidable; it is a question of cost, supply and demand. It is subject to the inexorable commercial law, to which we have to bow.

"In commercial life we have to trim our manufactures to the changes of the age, and to be ever ready to seize the advantages offered by cheaper production by means of machinery. If indigenous manufactures have died their natural death, others have taken their places. Indian labour has conformed to the demands of the times, and it has succeeded, for where hundreds were employed in hand labour, thousands are now earning good wages in mills and factories, where modern appliances are used. Personally I am in sympathy with technical and primary education, which will enable them to hold their own in the industries of the times against the markets of the world. It is gratifying to see that this subject is receiving the serious attention of Your Honour's Government, as evidenced by the increased grant to technical education, and I feel sure that I echo the sentiments of all who have the good of the country at heart, when I venture to express a hope that more may be done in the future in this direction, even though it may be at the expense of other branches of education.

"This, Sir, is all that I have to say with regard to the Budget. I congratulate Your Honour and the Hon'ble the Financial Secretary on the prosperity which you have been able to show us."

The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT said:—"The Hon'ble Member told me that he proposed to ask me some question about plague in Calcutta. I may inform him that I caused to be prepared a chart showing the progress of the plague in Calcutta during the last two years, which I think may interest Hon'ble Members of Council. This I shall make more clear by the remarks upon the matter at the close of the debate."

The Hon'ble MR. SUTHERLAND said:—"There is a proverb, Sir, that what you do not see, does not hurt you, but on looking through the Budget Statement it is borne in on me that what I do not see hurts me considerably. Like the Hon'ble Mr. Elworthy, I cannot see, Sir, that any provision has been made in the Budget to improve the congested areas of this great City. It is impossible not to give expression to a feeling of disappointment, if not of despair, that the recommendations of the Special Committee appointed by the Chamber of Commerce in 1897 to report to the Building Commission, though the subject of much discussion, have not yet in 1901 taken practical shape. How accurately the fears of that Committee have been fulfilled we all know only too well. In the concluding paragraph of their report, they said:—'While recognising the difficulties in the carrying out of suggested improvements owing to the question of finance, we desire to urge our conviction that it is of paramount necessity to open up the specially congested districts in Calcutta by intersecting them by means of broad roadways. We consider this one of the necessary precautions to be taken against such a disease as plague, the introduction of which into Calcutta is quite possible.' Sir, the possible has become the actual; and as my hon'ble colleague on my right has pointed out, plague in Calcutta was bad last year; it is immeasurably worse this year: who can say to what extent it will have grown in 1902? The improvement of the city is so great and costly a task, one of such importance not only to us citizens, but to the whole Province and to India generally, that the Municipality with its limited resources can but touch the fringe of the subject. The Chairman of the St. Andrew's Dinner last November pointed out that in his opinion the improvement of the Metropolis was not a Municipal question, but one of Imperial importance, demanding the early attention of Government. I need hardly say I am in entire agreement with that gentleman's views. From all one hears, I gather that the Government of India is not unmindful of its duties to the Metropolis in this respect, and we can only fervently hope that before another year comes round, a scheme for opening out the congested areas of the town will be devised, and substantial grants from the Provincial and Imperial Funds be set aside to carry out this urgently-needed work. While on this subject, I may, I hope, Sir, be allowed to draw attention to a matter mentioned at that national gathering of Calcutta Scotsmen, to which I have just referred, and which is intimately connected with the question of the improvement of the town. The expansion of this City on sanitary lines is one of the problems which must be faced sooner or later, and, in my opinion, it is our business to look ahead and grapple with the problem sooner rather than later. Calcutta at present is like a person with only one lung, namely, the maidan, and we shall, I think, be conducing to her welfare and longevity if we provide her in accordance with Nature's precedent with a second lung in the shape of a maidan at Tollyganj. This can to-day be done comparatively cheaply by acquiring the land, which is at present available; while, if we delay, the natural expansion of the town may encroach on this free space to such an extent that the successful execution of such a scheme would entail an enormously greater financial outlay. I observe in the Budget that this year's grant towards the re-construction of the Presidency General Hospital amounts to 2½ lakhs of rupees. Assuming, in accordance with the arrangements previously come to, that the Government of India has, during the last five years, annually contributed for this purpose a sum equal to that expended by the Government of Bengal, it would appear that the greater part of the estimated cost of 22 lakhs to rebuild the hospital has already been expended. It would be interesting to know exactly how much of the original programme has been completed, and at what cost, as compared with the estimate given in the report by Mr. Risley's Committee in 1896. I believe that only a part of the original scheme has been carried out, for instance, the paying-patients' ward—an important part of the scheme has not been commenced. The old building now occupied by this class of patients appears unsuitable. We much need, I think, a well-planned building equipped with modern appliances, and I trust this work may soon be carried out. Perhaps the Government would be pleased to state how this matter now stands. In connection with the question of the re-construction of the General Hospital, I would express the hope that Government may see their way to adopt the recommendations of the Committee appointed to enquire into the working of the Port Trust in reference to the Hospital Port Dues, and that the balance of Rs. 1,14,000 now at credit of this fund may be disposed of in the manner recommended by that Committee.

"While, Sir, like Oliver Twist, other Hon'ble Members and I do not hesitate unblushingly to ask for more, I feel that in congratulating the Government on a prosperous Budget, I cannot do less than record our thanks for the liberal grants which have been made to a number of deserving objects."

The Hon'ble MR. APCAR said:—"I desire to place myself in line with my colleagues in congratulating the Government and the Hon'ble the Financial Secretary, on the prosperity Budget which has been presented on this occasion. And I desire also to congratulate the Council on the instructive speeches that have been delivered to-day. When we have representatives from the Mufussal with a grasp of their subjects and a thorough knowledge of detail, I venture to say it cannot but be an advantage to a Government that approaches the consideration of a subject with an open mind, to hear their views clearly stated. I was content to leave the discussion on the part of the non-official Members to them, and it had not been my intention to address this Council at all. And I would not have done so now, if it had not been for the speeches by the two Hon'ble Members who immediately preceded me. They have touched upon a subject, which, my hon'ble friend Mr. Baker will know, is one that I have paid considerable attention to, and that is, the opening up of the congested districts of this City. I think that the appeal made is a very reasonable one, and although I have nothing new to add to what they have said, I desire to emphasise their appeal. I am glad that the Hon'ble Member for the Chamber of Commerce, who so modestly veiled the identity of the Chairman of the St. Andrew's Dinner, has come forward and publicly recognised that the Imperial Government must be looked to to make good the defects in the sanitation in this City with regard to congested districts. It is not a very long time ago that the Municipality were being blamed for not undertaking these great works, and our protests, that it was quite impossible to spare funds from the current expenses of the Administration, were scouted. We were told that we ought to do that which we were required to do. I am glad that that question has been settled once and for all by the Building Commission that was appointed some years ago. In the finding of that Commission it is now made clear that the Municipality cannot afford to spend the money that is required to open out the congested districts of Calcutta, and that if anything has to be done, we have to appeal to the paternal Government to do so, and I trust, Sir, now that there has been this direct appeal made by the Hon'ble Members who represent the Trades Association and the Chamber of Commerce in this Council, that the matter will not escape observation.

"The Hon'ble the Financial Secretary will call to mind, I daresay, how, so far back as in May 1898, the Corporation passed a Resolution on my motion, appealing to the Government to take the subject in hand, and even if they were not prepared at that time to provide funds, at all events, not to delay in taking such steps and initiating such measures that everything might be ready when the time came that funds could be provided. I trust, Sir, even if there has been no provision made in the Budget, that there will be no delay in taking up the consideration of this subject. There must necessarily be a long enquiry and a careful consideration before money can be expended; and in this connection, I believe I am not out of order, since the question after all centres round the financial position of this City and of this Province, if I refer to certain projects which have been in the minds of some of us with regard to the opening up of some of these congested districts. There has been a suggestion made in the Public Press for the Corporation to intervene to pass a Resolution to support a Syndicate who are interested in pressing for their scheme for a Central Railway Station in Calcutta, and one of the grounds put forward is the opening out of an insanitary and congested district if their scheme is carried into effect. Now, the Municipality is represented on the Committee who have been, or are considering the whole subject, and we therefore are precluded from moving in the matter as has been suggested. I would add further that, while I have the fullest sympathy with those who advocate the opening out of the congested districts, I cannot agree that to support the scheme put forward by the Syndicate will effect that end; I do not say in the best, but even in an effective and desirable way. The idea, as I understand it, is to bring in a high level railway running across the heart of Calcutta, east and west, and a seductive and enticing name has been foreshadowed for an avenue which forms a part of the Syndicate's scheme.

"However reluctant I may be to negative any scheme that will reject such an acceptable name as is meditated being given to a street, I cannot say that I am in favour of any project which will cut off the breezes from the northern part of the town as a high level railway very appreciably would do. We have often considered the necessity of opening up congested districts in Calcutta, and one of my main contentions always has been the necessity of letting in the southerly breezes to the northern parts of the town. There are certain alignments that seem to be patent and seem to be readymade for our adoption. We cannot disregard the financial aspect of any scheme that may be undertaken, and this I submit brings me in order in connection with the Financial Statement if I refer to the excessive cost, and, as I strongly contend, the unwise policy of the widening of existing thoroughfares in which there are old established frontages, the compensation for which would cost very heavy sums.

"In connection with the Victoria Memorial I have heard it bruited that it will be an excellent subject to take up if Bentinck Street and Chitpore Road were widened. I desire to protest against any such policy, because I think the project would entail a waste of money. I quote, on the other hand, the experience I have gained with regard to the street now called Hurrish Chunder Mukerjee's Street. Instead of knocking our heads against the frontage of Russa Road, we have taken that road in the rear, we have opened out a highly insanitary quarter, provided new building sites, improved the sanitation of the quarter, and given facilities for traffic at a cost that will be trifling as compared with the expenditure that the widening of Russa Road, would have entailed. Among the proposals for improving the southern part of the town that of an alignment starting from the end of Free School Street to be projected to meet Halliday Street; and another, that of an alignment starting from Loudon Street projected to meet Amherst Street, which I fear but few of the European community know, although it is one of the finest streets in Calcutta. Either of these projects would in opening out congested districts and improving the locality, and in every way, be to the benefit of the general public.

"There are a great many other projects such as this all ready to hand, which have, I believe, been discussed in the Building Committee. I appeal to Government to take this matter in hand, and appoint a Committee to decide on alignments and devise a scheme how the money is to be obtained, and then I trust that we shall have another prosperity Budget next year, when we may perhaps hope for a provision for the projects that would then be matured. There are many points which are connected with the subject and many new roads required, which I have considered. I do not, however, desire to dwell upon the matter further here. I have had no idea of bringing forward anything new on the subject, but it has been my desire solely to support and emphasise the appeal that my friends the Hon'ble Mr. Elworthy and the Hon'ble Mr. Sutherland have made, and I think I have said enough on the present occasion to have carried out my desires."

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRANATH BANERJEE said:—"I desire to associate with referer myself thoroughly with the expressions of congratulation which have been so freely offered to my hon'ble friend in charge of the Financial Department. I desire to congratulate him on the form as well as on the substance of the Budget, on its contents which are varied as well as on its form which is remarkable for its simplicity. I note a remarkable improvement in the form of the Budget. I find items included in the Budget which never found a place in any of the preceding Budgets with which I am acquainted. I note this especially with regard to the details of expenditure under the heads of 'Police,' 'Medical' and 'Educational.' My hon'ble friend rightly gauged public sentiment in this matter, and my hon'ble friend has endeavoured to gratify public curiosity. Seeing that these extra items have been given in this Budget, it is obvious that they can be given; and if they can be given in this Budget, there is no reason why they should not be given in future, and I hope the improvement that has been noticed will be carried out on an ampler scale in the years to come, so that our Budget may year by year be assimilated to the Bombay Budget in the fulness of its contents and the amplitude of its details. I am in strong sympathy with the observation of my hon'ble friend on my right, which has been supported by my hon'ble friend opposite, that Calcutta needs opening up. But Calcutta has not the funds necessary for this purpose. You remember, Sir, when the agitation was set on foot against the old Corporation, the first thing the Government did was to appoint a Building Commission to enquire into the sanitary condition of the town and to suggest improvements. That Commission was presided over by Mr. Justice Trevelyan, and it made a distinct recommendation, quoting the authority of Lord Wellesley, an authority which I think the Council will respect, and that recommendation was that the opening up of Calcutta was more or less an Imperial duty and the Commission also found that the maximum of taxation had already been imposed upon the citizens of Calcutta, and that it was impossible to lay any further taxes upon them, and that, therefore, if the congested areas of Calcutta were to be opened up, and if justice were to be done to the sanitary needs of Calcutta in this respect, the Provincial Government or, at any rate, the Imperial Government must come to the rescue. What has become of the recommendations of the Commission in this respect? They have practically been shelved, and in the meantime the old constitution of the Corporation has been changed. It was expected at the time that with the change of the constitution of the Corporation, the millenium would come, but the millenium has not come. Calcutta remains as insanitary now under the new Corporation as Calcutta was under the old Corporation. The ravages of the plague form a mournful feature in the annals of the City. Has the new Corporation been able to grapple with this terrible disease? The new Corporation is as powerless as the old Corporation was. The only thing that could be done, and the only thing that ought to have been done, was the taking up of those measures of sanitation which the Building Commission had recommended. But this was not done. It was a question of ways and means. It was easy enough to upset the old constitution: a much more difficult matter to find the means to open up the congested areas. I am sorry to have to make these remarks, but I am bound to make them in the discharge of my duty to my constituents.

"In the Budget we find that the revised estimates show an improvement of Rs. 17,00,000. This is a matter upon which we have reasons to congratulate ourselves, but when we look into the matter closely, I think those reasons disappear, because the improvement, or at any rate a good part of it, is due to the improvement under the head of Excise. I will not repeat the arguments which have already been laid before the Council, but it seems to me that there are in the very epigramatic remarks of my friend noted on the receipt side of the Budget, a distinct indication that the policy of the Government in this matter has been a policy which is in violation of the repeated declarations of the official exponents of the Government. I take the policy of Government to be, in regard to Excise matters, the maximum of revenue with the minimum of consumption. But what do I find on reading the notes which my hon'ble friend the Financial Secretary has appended to the Excise Budget? I find that the consumption of ganja has been stimulated by a fall in the retail price of that commodity, which means that the increase in the revenue under the head of ganja has been due to increased consumption. Here, therefore, we have a maximum of revenue with a maximum of consumption, not a maximum of revenue with a minimum of consumption.

"Again, we find on the receipt side of Excise, an increase in the sale of opium. My friend ascribes it to the increased prosperity of the people. Much more likely that the people would drown their sorrows amid the fumes of opium than seek enjoyment in a drug which benumbs all powers of enjoyment. I have never heard of a man taking to opium in the height of his prosperity. I have heard of people taking to opium as an antidote to disease or misfortunes. I think, Sir, that this increase is due to the suppression of smuggling. Here the Administration is fairly entitled to a credit which it does not take. I believe the Police Force has acquired new efficiency in this respect, and to that we must ascribe this increase of revenue.

"Then coming to the Budget Estimates for this year, we find that the Government is in a position to make a grant of Rs. 24,00,000 to meet items of useful expenditure. I desire to congratulate the Government on the judgment and discrimination with which these items have been selected, subject to certain reservations, to which I shall presently call attention.

"In the first place I thoroughly associate myself with the expression of gratitude which has been re-echoed in this hall for the allotment made for the purpose of remedying the status of the Provincial Service in both its branches. There was a block in promotion so far as Deputy Magistrates were concerned, and there was a block so far as the promotion of Munsifs and Subordinate Judges was concerned. There were serious grievances affecting these services. They were brought to the notice of Government, partly through the representations of Associations, and partly through the interpellations of Hon'ble Members. My friend was pleased to describe these representations as being highly coloured. Whether highly coloured or representing the truth, at any rate, they embody the views which have been largely accepted by the Government. A sum of Rs. 1,40,000 has been assigned to improve the Provincial Service in both its branches. The details of that scheme are not before us, and it seems to me to be premature to discuss the matter without knowing anything about it. I hope that this expenditure is not limited to Rs. 1,40,000; I hope, whatever the full total may be, it may be equitably apportioned between the two branches of the service. I will not try to apportion their grievances: that is a matter for the Government, and I am convinced that a Government which has gone so far, will take into consideration their respective grievances and claims, and do what the justice of the case demands. In this connection I may be permitted to make an appeal to the Hon'ble the Chief Secretary in connection with the Subordinate Executive Service, and that is, when the new scheme is given effect to, the Government will make the promotions from the Subordinate Executive Service to the higher Provincial Service. In filling up vacancies in the Provincial Service, will he be so good as to take into consideration the claims of Sub-Deputy Collectors, especially of those who have gôt in through the open door of examination. I hope my hon'ble friend will take their case into consideration. There is really little or no difference in point of education and social position between Sub-Deputy and Deputy Collectors. They receive the same education and pass the same examinations; only they are lower down the list.

"I desire also to associate myself with the congratulations which have been offered to Government for the grant of Rs. 4,80,000 to the District Boards. I entirely sympathise with the observations of my friend to the right. It is no use repeating ad nauseam the charge of misappropriation which has been levelled against the Government. It is ancient history, and it is no use harping upon old themes. We ought to accept the situation and offer our gratitude to a Government which shows its sympathy in such a practical and liberal form. Here may I be permitted to express the hope that a portion of the Rs. 4,80,000 may be ear-marked for the purpose of water-supply. My hon'ble friend to my left has called attention to the matter and has clearly shown by figures read before the Council that the instructions of Government with regard to water-supply issued to District Boards have not been carried out. Therefore it seems to me incumbent on the Government to apportion a part of this money to this purpose. I would ask my hon'ble friend to give me some explanation with regard to a statement which appeared in one of the morning papers. It is said that in the Patna Division there are District Engineers who draw high salaries from Rs. 800 to Rs. 1,000, and that these salaries are drawn in defiance of the orders of Government. Is there any justification for these District Engineers drawing higher salaries than what District Engineers get elsewhere?

"Then I find that a sum amounting to over Rs. 2,00,000 is to be given as contribution to Local Boards for plague expenditure. I rejoice that the Government has accepted that view of the matter. Again and again from our places in this House we have sought to impress upon the Government the truth that plague charges are Provincial rather than Local. Popular views are always sound; for they are based upon considerations of justice and equity, and to us it is a matter of great satisfaction to find that Your Honour's Government has been converted to our views in this matter. I trust that the local bodies will now be relieved for good from all responsibility so far as plague expenditure is concerned.

"Then coming to the head of Police I find that Rs. 29,000 are devoted to the purpose of substituting Sub-Inspectors as investigating officers in place of Head-constables. This is in pursuance of the recommendations of the Police Committee. It seems to me that you will never improve the Police by giving a rupee or two as increase to the pay of the Constable, or by slightly improving the position of the Head-constable. What is wanted is that the Police establishment should be relieved of the mass of clerical work they have to do, that they should be confined to the real duties which belong to their profession, that they should not be let loose to prey upon the people on every occasion, that the higher ranks of the Police should be filled by men who are trained experts in the art of detection, and, further, that a detective branch should be organised in the Mufassal for the detection of crime, which the ordinary Police are not able to cope with. It is a matter of great satisfaction to find that this is one of Lord Curzon's twelve questions. I find that a sum of Rs. 17,00,000 has been devoted in the Imperial Budget to the improvement of the Police. Twelve out of these seventeen lakhs will be spent upon reforming the Burma Frontier Police, and only Rs. 5,00,000 will, therefore, be available for the improvement of the Civil Police in India. Our share will be something like Rs. 75,000. Will my hon'ble friend enlighten me whether that sum has been included in our Budget on the receipt side? We all feel greatly interested in the reformation of the Police. The Government is popular or unpopular, according to the conduct of the Police. The policeman is the representative of the Government before the villager. He is the embodiment of the authority and the justice of the Government. The importance of the reform of the Police cannot therefore be exaggerated. If you take up this question and deal with it in a statesmanlike manner, you will confer an incalculable boon upon the public. These are the principal items of expenditure on which Rs. 24,00,000 are to be spent.

"I ask the Council now to look at the other side of the shield. I have remarked that upon the whole the items of expenditure upon which it is proposed to spend 24 lakhs of rupees have been selected with discrimination and judgment; but it seems to me that there are certain items which ought to have had a preferential claim. I would refer in the first place to the increment of pay to the ministerial servants of Government. Again and again this question has been discussed here, but the discussion as yet has led to no practical result. The Bengal Government appointed a Salaries Commission. That Commission made certain recommendations, but these recommendations have been pigeon-holed. They have been the subject of oratorical displays round this table, but they have not passed beyond that stage. Yet the fact remains that men of opposite schools, differing from each other by all those differences which separate public men from one another, are agreed upon one matter, namely, that the ministerial servants of Government ought to receive an increase of pay. My hon'ble friend himself spoke in terms of great sympathy of this proposal. I am going to quote his speech in which he gave expression to this view in the strongest terms on the occasion of the Budget Debate in 1899. Speaking on the 15th April 1899, my hon'ble friend said :—'I should like, however, to state my personal views on this question. I may say that my sympathies are entirely in favour of giving to this class of officers an increase to the extent proposed by Mr. Risley.'

"After that expression of opinion one would expect that my hon'ble friend's sympathy would be embodied in a practical form, and would result in some tangible relief being given to this deserving class of servants of Government. But nothing of the sort has been done. Possibly it may be done yet. May I be permitted to express the hope that my hon'ble friend will find himself in a position to give an assurance on behalf of Government that this will be done at the earliest opportunity when the Government is in a position to do it? We will not quarrel with the past; we will let by-gones be by-gones; and if my hon'ble friend is in a position to give this assurance, he may be sure that it will be hailed with gratitude by a large class of public servants whose devotion to Government is unquestioned.

"Then there is another matter which, I think, ought to have been included in the expenditure of Rs. 24,00,000—I mean residences for Munsifs. If it is included, it must be under the head of 'Civil Works.' If it is included, I should like to know the amount of the grant, because it was understood that Government was practically pledged to provide Munsifs in outlying stations with suitable accommodation. I should like to know what has been done in this connection.

'There is one other matter to which I should like to call attention in this connection. Your Honour's Government sent out Dr. Rogers in 1899 to make a sanitary inspection of the Riparian Municipalities, which at that time were suffering from malarious fever. Dr. Rogers, I understand, made a most exhaustive enquiry, and he came to the conclusion that what was required was not so much drainage as pure water. Whether it is pure water or drainage is immaterial, but the fact remains that pure water is an unmixed blessing, and it would be a great benefit to these Municipalities, if they were given an assurance that a loan would be given to them to enable them to carry out a scheme for water-supply.

"There is one other matter to which I should like to draw attention, namely, the salaries of menial servants. There has been a rise, in many places, in the price of provisions, and our menial servants are entitled to certain allowances in case of a general rise. Will my hon'ble friend consider the propriety of granting them these allowances? I do not know whether the increase is sufficiently high to entitle these men to the increased allowances provided under the Government Regulations, but I am perfectly certain my hon'ble friend will be good enough to interpret the Regulations in a liberal spirit.

"In looking over this Budget, Sir, one thing that strikes one is the steady increase of expenditure, and the question which I have to ask my hon'ble friend is whether our revenue keeps pace with expenditure—whether during the period covered by this Budget, revenue has increased in the same proportion as expenditure? There must be increase of expenditure in connection with a progressive Government, and the great thing is to see that expenditure does not outstrip revenue.

"Having made these remarks, I should like to call attention to certain details of which I gave notice to my hon'ble friend. In the first place, under the head 'Land Revenue' page 19—'Charges of Administration'—'Subdivisional Establishment' there is a steady increase in expenditure. The actuals of 1899-1900 were Rs. 1,13,935, the revised estimate for 1900-1901 was

Rs. 1,16,000, and the budget estimate is Rs. 1,21,000. Then under 'Settlement Operations' there is also a large increase. Then under 'Stamp there is an increase under 'Presidency Executive Establishment,' and the explanation given is one with which I am not satisfied. I will read the explanation:—

'Increase in revised due to the adjustment under this head of rewards in Stamp cases paid in Calcutta formerly adjusted under 7.—Excise. Further increase in Budget due to a provision for rent of a godown at the Port Commissioners' jetty and for purchase of trestles.'

"That cannot account for the increase in the budget estimate for Executive Establishment. What I wish to point out is that the establishment shows a steady increase, and it seems to me that this is a matter which should be carefully looked into.

"Then I come to page 21, 'Customs,' 'Collector's Establishment,' 'Appraising Establishment,' and 'Preventive Establishment.' There is an increase in all of them, and no explanation is given.

"Then, again, we have 'Contingencies.' I am always afraid of contingencies. Contingencies cover a multitude of sins; and unless details are given it is difficult to control the expenditure.

"There is also an increase under 'Assessed Taxes' and 'Calcutta Establishment,' which is not explained.

"Then, again, under 'Forests,' it will be seen that there is a steady increase of expenditure. The grand total of expenditure for 1899-1900 is Rs. 5,45,205, for 1900-1901 is Rs. 5,80,000, and for 1901-1902 is Rs. 6,90,000. That is to say, there is an increase of Rs. 1,10,000 over the expenditure of last year. Now if we go back to the receipt side, page 14, we find that the grand totals are Rs. 12,00,000 revised, and Rs. 11,75,000 budget estimate, and, if you put these figures together, it comes to this—that on your revenue side there is a loss of Rs. 25,000 and your expenditure has increased by Rs. 1,10,000, so that the total loss comes up to Rs. 1,35,000.

"Then I find an increase under 'Salaries' due to the creation of three additional appointments in the Imperial and Provincial Services and the re-organisation of office establishment. Might I enquire how many of these appointments have been given to pure natives?

"Then I come to 'Contingencies,' page 22, under 'Law and Justice.' The figures are Rs 1,32,799 actuals, Rs. 1,35,000 revised, and Rs. 1,54,335 budget estimate. There is no explanation. There is a very large increase, and it is a steady increase. What do these contingencies include?

"Then I come to the 'Subdivisional Establishment.' Looking at these figures it strikes me that there is a mistake somewhere. If you look at pages 9 and 23, under the head of Subdivisional Establishment, you will find certain figures there, and these figures agree. There appears to be a double entry. You will find the same figures reproduced and in precisely the same order.

"Then under 'Jails'—'Superintendence,' there is no explanation; also under 'Contingency.'

"Then we come to the head of 'Police.' No explanation is given in respect of the figures for 'Training of Sub-Inspectors,' but this is a very small matter. The establishment also shows a steady increase.

"Then, again, we have 'Contingencies'—Rs. 1,79,595 actuals, Rs. 1,70,000 revised, and Rs. 2,79,400 budget estimate. Again there is no explanation.

"Then we come to page 25, 'Marine Establishment.' Again there is an increase, for which there is no explanation.

"All the increases that I have called attention to, particularly the increases in establishment, are matters which should be looked carefully into.

"Then, Sir, we come to 'Education.' Under the head of 'Miscellaneous' we find that the actuals are Rs. 99,181, revised Rs. 57,000, and budget estimate Rs. 2,02,000. I do not know what this means and how to account for this enormous increase in the budget estimate.

"Then, Sir, I come to the Civil Engineering College, Sibpur, Howrah. The actuals are Rs. 1,67,580, the revised estimates are Rs. 1,70,000, and the budget estimates are Rs. 2,17,000. In this connection, if your Honour will permit me, I desire to call attention to the Resolution of Government, which was issued,

I think, in the last number of the Calcutta Gazette. It seems to me that, under the terms of that Resolution, the Engineering Department of the College will be deprived of half the number of appointments at present open to that Department, and these will be given to the Apprentices. I should not object to a procedure of this kind at all, if adequate compensation were given to the students preparing themselves in the Engineering Department by improving their prospects to the higher Engineering Service. Half the appointments previously open to them are withdrawn without any compensation whatever. This is the first complaint I have to make. If, Sir, it is said that the Engineers are wanting in practical knowledge, then my reply is that the remedy is in the hands of the Government. Give them the practical training to fit them for the practical work they will have to do. Why withdraw these appointments from them? They will be most willing to undergo this practical training, and with the superior education they have, their practical training will enable them to beat the Apprentices.

"Now my second complaint is this: I find that those appointments are to be given, in their case, according to the results of the final examination, but in the case of the Apprentices, the Appointments will not depend upon the results of the examination, but upon selection. In the one case you apply a rigid test, and in the other case you enforce the reign of discretion. I should not have the least objection if all the appointments were given away after a rigid test, without the suspicion of any personal feeling of any kind coming into play.

"Then, Sir, I find under clause 3 of the Resolution that those who pass the B. E. examination, and who, after a course of practical training in the Sibpur College, are entitled to a certificate as Engineer, will no longer be permitted, as a rule, to pass through this practical course. I think that is practically settled by the terms of the Resolution, which I beg your Honour's permission to read:—

'III.—The probable number of vacancies in the Upper Subordinate Establishment of the Bengal Public Works Department will be estimated annually. The number of graduates of the Calcutta University (being students from the Sibpur College), who will be placed on their "practical course" in the Public Works Department, will be one more than the number so estimated, but not less than four in any case.

'They will be taken in the order in which they stand in the University list, and if a mining student is among the number, he will be allowed to reckon his mining course as equivalent to the "practical course."'

Hitherto all B. E.'s were entitled to go through a course of training in the Practical Course. Without that training, they could not obtain a certificate in Engineering. The number of B. E.'s entitled to receive a training in the Practical Course being now limited, every B. E. will be denied the opportunity of obtaining for himself a certificate as Engineer. After a Resolution like this, I should like to know how many graduates will join the Engineering Department of the Sibpur College. I have most carefully thought over the matter, and I have consulted gentlemen who ought to know something about it, and I have no hesitation in saying that a Resolution like this will be considered disastrous by the University graduates and under-graduates, who are now receiving their training in this College. I placed myself in communication with the Hon'ble Mr. Buckley. He said that he considered my objections as being perfectly just. I hope my hon'ble friend will see his way to modify the Resolution I beg of him to do so in the interests of technical education, which he has so much at heart. The Government is most anxious to promote technical education, but with a Resolution like this, I feel perfectly certain few will be tempted to join the Sibpur College, the only technical and scientific institution that we have on this side of India. I would ask your Honour to do what the justice of the case demands, with due regard to the great interests which are committed to your care.

"I do not know that I need take up much more of your time. There are just one or two other matters to which I would call attention.

"Under the head of 'Medical' I find the figures for 'District Medical Establishment' showing an increase.

"I feel an interest in the Albert Victor Leper Asylum. I am one of the Governors, but I am one of the sleeping Governors. We do not hold any meetings at all. I remember once one was called at 7 o'clock in the morning, when most people are in bed, and I was not able to attend. As a Governor, I naturally feel an interest in this Institution. I find a note here showing that the decrease in the revised estimates is due to smaller payments for the diet of patients and clothing. I should like to have some information on this matter.

"Then, Sir, we find at page 27 a sum of Rs. 5,000 for a grant to the Tea Association, and another sum of Rs. 7,500 for a grant to the Indigo Association. I should like to know, Sir, why these grants were made, and is there any precedent for such grants?

"Then we find Rs. 5,000 for special Commissions of Enquiry. You budgeted Rs. 5,000 last year, and spent only Rs. 1,000 on special Commissions of Enquiry. Are any Commissions of Enquiry expected this year? If not, the grant seems to me to be excessive.

"Then I come to the Midnapore Canals. The expenditure in the Budget Estimates shows a great increase over the Revised Estimates, but no explanation is given for this increase.

"As regards the Orissa Canals, we find a progressive expenditure, while the revenue is steadily declining.

"Lastly, I have to call attention to the note at page 30—Increase for the introduction of the Local Self Government Act in the Chota Nagpur Subdivision with effect from the 1st April, 1900. Will my hon'ble friend be good enough to inform us whether the elective principle will be recognised in Chota Nagpur. He would lay the people of Chota Nagpur under a great obligation if he would consent to the gradual introduction of the elective principle into selected areas in that Division.

"I do not know that I have anything more to add. I desire once again to congratulate my hon'ble friend, the Financial Secretary, and to express, on my own behalf and on behalf of those whom I have the honour to represent, our gratitude to your Honour's Government for the sympathetic attitude of the Government, as expressed in the various provisions made in the Budget of this year."

The Hon'ble MR. BUCKLEY said:—"I propose only to deal with those matters referred to in the discussion to day which concern the department under my charge, leaving the other points raised to be met by my colleagues. I shall first of all reply to the remarks made by the Hon'ble Babu Boikanta Nath Sen with reference to the revenue from the Sone Canals, but in this matter, as in others to which Hon'ble Members have referred, if they had only looked a little further back than the actual figures presented to them in this Budget, they would have seen for themselves that the facts are not as they think them to be. The Hon'ble Babu Boikanta Nath Sen was under the impression that we might expect an increase of revenue from the Sone Canals: we do expect it, and we have been expecting it and getting it for many years past If the Hon'ble Member will refer to the published reports on these works, he will see that, generally speaking, there has been a large increase in the revenue. That increase has not been suffering any general dimunition, but in this particular year, the revenue from this Canal has been a little lower than that of last year, but it is far higher than the average of a few years ago. The chief reason is, that this year the rabi season has been unfavourable for Canal irrigation.

"Then as regards Agriculture Receipts to which the Hon'ble Babu Boikanta Nath Sen referred. The difference is small. The revenue collected is mainly for grass-cutting and petty items.

"The Hon'ble Mr. Das referred to the question of Feeder Roads, and he was apparently under the impression that the expenditure on Feeder Roads was going to be curtailed, or that they were the concern only of the District Boards. I desire to inform him that Government has for some years past taken a great deal of interest in Feeder Roads, and has been endeavouring to extend them as much as possible, and expenditure has been incurred every year from Provincial Revenues.

"The Hon'ble Babu Boikanta Nath Sen, in referring to the Nadia Rivers, spoke of a matter which is in itself extremely interesting. I can assure him that the suggestion he made will be duly considered. I may say, however, that I do not myself think that the substitution of corrugated iron for mats will be successful, but I will discuss the matter with the local officers. I have, Sir, a book before me which refers to the works carried out on the Missippi, and there they work with mats in a manner which is not dissimilar to that we employ on the Nadia rivers. The Hon'ble Member thought, however, that mats were a failure, but they effect their purpose in a very remarkable way. His main contention was, that these rivers were deteriorating and that measures should be taken to stop this. I should be delighted if that could be done. It was only some few weeks ago that I came across an old book, written some twenty or thirty years ago, where they complained of precisely the same deterioration of these rivers, as we hear of to day. The fact is, I believe, that these rivers are sometimes better and sometimes worse. I do not think they are materially worse now than they were twenty years ago. It has frequently been said that the large decrease in revenue is due to the deterioration of these rivers. I have here the figures for the last ten years, and I find a steady and large decrease in the receipts from both. It is now about half what it was ten years ago.

"Now, whatever the reason for this decrease is, it is certainly not entirely due to the deterioration of the rivers. They may have deteriorated to some extent, but not to anything like the extent which the figures might be taken to indicate. The hon'ble gentleman suggested that we should dredge the rivers and clear out the shoals in that way. If he studies the reports of the last few years, he will see how extremely difficult the task would be, and what a large sum would be required. In this book before me it is stated that a certain year large quantities of sand came in from the Ganges and choked up the river to a length of five-and-a half miles. Now, if we spend three lakhs in buying a dredger, and Rs. 60,000 or Rs. 70,000 a year in working it, we may be able to deal with such quantities of sand. Roughly speaking we would have to double the expenditure, and even then it is doubtful if we could keep the channels clear. I do not think that the revenue brought in from the rivers would justify such a large expenditure.

"Now I will turn to the remarks of the Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee, who referred to the Orissa Canals receipts showing a steady tendency to decrease. There is no doubt that the Orissa Canals are not altogether a successful undertaking and the receipts do show a steady tendency to decrease. They are not like the Sone Canals which I mentioned just now. But the decrease is not largely in water-rates: the decrease is in navigation mainly. The opening of the Railway is the cause of the decrease, which, I am afraid, will be permanent. These Canals however serve a useful purpose in insuring the country against a failure of the rice crop. The hon'ble gentleman is aware of the fact that in the year 1866, I do not know how many thousands of people died in Orissa from want of food. The Orissa Canal has entirely prevented that. The Government of India in a recent Resolution has emphasised the necessity for the construction of works which may prevent famines, and these Canals fulfil that purpose. With one exception, the water-rates charged on these Canals for rice are the lowest in India, and I believe that the people do get, even in ordinary years, the full value of their expenditure in increased outturn of crops.

"The Hon'ble Member refered to the apparent increase in the expenditure on Marine Establishment. Here again if the Hon'ble Member will be good enough to look further back than the figures before him, he will see that the facts are different from what he thinks they are. It is true that the revised estimate for last year was Rs. 73,000, and the budget for the present year Rs. 89,000; but the fact is, that the revised estimate for last year is abnormally small. This is explained almost entirely by the fact that in that year several of the more highly-paid officers were on furlough and officers on lower salaries were acting for them.

"The Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee also referred to the Midnapore Canal, and appeared to think that there was an increase in expenditure. This is not the case. The fact is exactly the contrary, but it so happens that the revised estimate of last year is the lowest on record, so the figure for this year shows an apparent increase; but it is largely below the average. The navigation receipts of the Canal are now being largely reduced by the Railway. The steamers which run on the canals, are being taken off, and we are reducing the expenditure as much as possible.

"The next point I will take up is in connection with the remarks of the Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee, who said he was under the impression that District Engineers were being paid in excess of the maximum fixed, in defiance of the orders of Government. The Hon'ble Member is partly right, but he is not right when he says that it is in defiance of the orders of Government. There are seven gentlemen who get more than Rs. 650 per month, which was laid down in a Resolution as the maximum pay of District Engineers. Of these seven, two are Bengali gentlemen, and the other five are Europeans. But in each case, the salary has the sanction of Government. The higher salaries are mainly paid in the districts in the Patna Division, and the reason is, that it is considered desirable there to have men of higher qualifications than are necessary elsewhere. One of the grievances of the District Engineers is, that they cannot obtain promotion. District Boards not infrequently press for increases of salary for the District Engineers, and this increase has to be resisted when the salary given is sufficient for the work to be done. But the officers as they gain in experience and efficiency, naturally and rightly, expect an increase in salary. This should be attainable by transfer to more responsible charges. But, for some reason or another, District Boards are generally unwilling to take Engineers from other districts, and this fact hampers the promotion of deserving men. The Hon'ble Member may have noticed a Notification which is now appearing in the Gazette, which has, among other objects, the intention of improving the prospects of promotion of District Engineers.

"The Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee spoke on a matter to which, I gather, he attaches a great deal of importance, namely, the Resolution which appeared in last Wednesday's Gazette about the Sibpur College. The hon'ble gentleman appears to object strongly to the orders of Government, and he criticises those orders severely. I think the criticisms which he has made are perfectly fair and reasonable, and I am very glad to have an opportunity of answering them. The first objection the Hon'ble Member makes is, that this Resolution is a reduction of the privileges of the 'Engineer' students. Now, this is true; but it is necessary, in the first place, for me to explain that the Sibpur College is divided into two branches; the 'Engineer' Branch, which is primarily intended to qualify men to be Assistant Engineers in the Public Works Department, and for similar appointments on the Railways and elsewhere, and the 'Apprentice' Branch, which is under a different organisation, the object being to train students to fill positions as Upper Subordinates in the Public Works Department, Foreman Mechanics, and Clerks of Works, &c. The candidates who enter the 'Engineer' Department are guaranteed one appointment in the Engineering Establishment of the Public Works Department in Bengal, and that appointment is still reserved for them under this Resolution. But these 'Engineer' students have hitherto not only obtained this prize appointment, but they have also almost exclusively obtained the appointments in the Upper Subordinate Establishment for which they were not specifically trained; while the students in the 'Apprentice' Department of Sibpur, who are trained as Upper Subordinates, have not for many years obtained any appointment in the Public Works Department in Bengal. I believe this is without precedent in any Engineering College in India. The position which the Government has taken up in this matter is very strongly supported by the speech made by the Hon'ble Mr. Elworthy, who spoke in the highest terms of the men he has obtained from the 'Apprentice' Department of Sibpur. These men do, as Mr. Elworthy said, get employment with the Commercial community in Calcutta, and the general employment elsewhere, and, in a good number of cases, the salary they get is higher than that of the Upper Subordinate Establishment of the Public Works Department, but these men were absolutely debarred, until this Resolution came out, from ever entering the Upper Subordinate Establishment. I cannot think that the Hon'ble Member would think it right that any students from the Sibpur College should be placed under such distinct disadvantages, and that they should not have any avenue of approach whatever to the Public Works Department. I do not deny that the 'Engineer' Department will suffer to some extent by this change, but it is one which it is perfectly fair to make on behalf of men who have proved themselves by the positions they actually attain to be eminently fitted for the Upper Subordinate Establishment. I have a list of 10 or 12 of these apprentices who are now getting Rs. 100, Rs. 150, and even Rs. 250 a month in private employ in Calcutta, yet, if I understand the hon'ble gentleman rightly, he would not even give them a chance of getting Rs. 80 a month under Government. Bengal has, undoubtedly, favoured the 'Engineer' class of Sibpur most unduly by allowing them to monopolise all the appointments in the Bengal Public Works Department. It was expected that these 'Engineer' students would obtain higher appointments as Civil Engineers in India, but a large number have consented to take the lower appointments as Upper Subordinates. In other Provinces, appointments in the Upper Subordinate Establishment are largely given to men who have been trained, as they are trained in the 'Apprentice' Department of Sibpur, as practical workers, and this is the class which has for years been almost entirely excluded in Bengal.

"The Hon'ble Member made the objection that the selection of the men for appointments in the Government service is not to be by examination. This is not quite correct. What the Resolution intends to do is this: Half the men will be taken from the 'Engineer' Department by the results of the University Examinations, and His Honour the Lieutenant Governor will nominate the other half from the the 'Apprentice' Department without reference to the results of any examination. The total number of men who will thus be placed on their 'Practical Course' will be double the probable number of the appointments in the following year. At the end of the period of the Practical Course they will be subject to an examination, and those who succeed in that final examination will get the appointments in the Public Works Department. It is quite true that the apprentices who are to be put on the Practical Course will be nominated by His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor, and not taken after passing an examination. This has been deliberately done for a good reason, and is in accordance with precedent. The same thing is done in the Subordinate Executive Service. A certain number of men are taken for that service by examination only, and His Honour selects others, who have passed a qualifying examination, at his pleasure.

"Then the Hon'ble Member said that the result of this Resolution will be that some of the 'Engineer' students who pass will not be able to get their Assistant Engineer's certificate, because they will not pass through the 'Practical Course.' Here he is under a misapprehension. Last year and the year before last we were unable to take all the 'Engineer' students on the 'Practical Course,' but they went through that course in the Sibpur Workshop. And they did get their certificates as Assistant Engineers. The intention is to do the same with future students, provided that the number who require to go through this course after passing the University Examination is a moderate one.

"The Hon'ble Member concluded by saying that this Resolution would be absolutely disastrous to University students. I doubt if that will be the effect. These students still have the prize appointment of Assistant Engineer in the Bengal Public Works Department reserved for them and an equal chance of half the appointments in the Upper Subordinate Establishment: they hold a far higher certificate for theoretical knowledge than is granted to those who pass through the 'Apprentice' Department. It is true that the number of appointments as Upper Subordinates to which they can attain is reduced; but if they do not attain to these, and if they really are superior to the students who pass through the 'Apprentice' Department of Sibpur, we know that business-men, like the Hon'ble Mr. Elworthy, will be able to give them work—carrying, in many cases, higher salaries than they can obtain in the Upper Subordinate Establishment of the Public Works Department."

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE said:—"I shall endeavour, Sir, to give as fully yet as briefly as possible the information which certain Hon'ble Members have asked for with regard to various matters connected with the departments under my charge. Under the head 'Land Revenue,' the Hon'ble Mr. Bose wished to know the reason why in the Revised Estimate of last year there was an increase of Rs. 3,00,000 in the revenue. Rather more than half of that sum is due to the recoveries of Settlement Survey Charges being better than was anticipated, about half a lakh more than was expected was realised in Government Estates, and a large increase, representing about one lakh in value, occurred in the applications for grants of waste land. The same figures that are given in the Revised Budget are given in the Budget for the present year, and so far as the increase relates to settlement, I understand that the Hon'ble Babu Boikanta Nath Sen considers that we are treading on dangerous ground. I cannot share the views of the Hon'ble Member, for very great care is taken by Collectors in preparing the estimates of the increases that may be anticipated. Nor do I share with him his fear that officers will violate their consciences by endeavouring, in spite of their own convictions to the contrary, to work up to the estimated increase.

"The same Hon'ble Member considered that the recent order prescribing certain arrangements for the purpose of keeping out the public from office rooms would create a greater evil than the one it was intended to stop. To this I would say that presumably those who may experience any such evil will bring it to the notice of the Deputy Collectors in charge of the department concerned, who will no doubt promptly put an end to it.

"With reference to the Hon'ble Mr. Das's suggestion about typewriters, the matter will receive attention, and may I hope be carried into effect. Enquiries have been made with reference to the increase under the head of 'Settlements.' Part of the amount is due to additional expenditure required with reference to operations commenced before this year, and part to the inception of certain new settlements to be undertaken this year.

"Under the head of 'Forest,' the Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee took exception to the increase in salaries. He first of all referred to the fact that the expenditure is out-stripping the revenue, and showed that we should lose Rs. 1,35,000 yearly. As you are aware, Sir, for a long number of years the Forest Department has been suffering from want of a proper and adequate staff, and the matter has been represented to the Government of India who have assented to an increase, not only in the superior staff, but also in the ministerial establishment. The increase in the superior staff entails a cost of Rs. 22,800 in the present year, and consists of one Deputy Conservator of the first grade, one of the 3rd grade, and an Assistant Conservator, 2nd grade, the last being transferred to the Provincial Service. The increase in the clerical establishment consists of 14 clerks, whose salaries this year amount to Rs. 9,700. With reference to the question regarding sub-head 'V' the case is this—Government being unable last year to give an extra allotment for certain necessary works, the cost had to be met by postponing the carying out of some items for which money had been provided. These items are included in this year's Budget, and in addition a sum of Rs. 19,000 is assigned as part payment for the construction of a new steam launch to replace the Cygnet, and Rs. 2,000 to purchase an elephant that is required.

"The Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee desired to know how many natives there were in the Provincial Service. The answer is two.

"I share with the Hon'ble Mr. Bose the hope that the revenue under sub-head 'III' will show an increase.

"I will now deal with the remarks relating to Education. First of all the Hon'ble Mr. Bose desired to know whether any increase had been made in any of the normal grants for Education, and, considering that the recent orders changing the system of vernacular education necessitated an increase in the grant, asked if such had been provided. To both these questions the answer is in the negative.

"In speaking of Female Education, the Hon'ble Member asked that a greater stimulus might be given by increasing the grant, and, referring to certain remarks of the Director of Public Instruction, asked whether any provision had been made in the Budget for their furtherance? No such provision has been made, while as to the need of a greater stimulus, the Hon'ble Member has apparently forgotten that at present double rates are offered for each girl that succeeds at primary examinations. Much has been said with reference to the very small proportion of girls of school-going age who attend school, and various causes have been assigned to explain this. But the most potent, if modern vernacular literature is to be accepted as an authority, has been omitted, viz., that a strong re-action has set in against the education of girls.

"With reference to his eloquent appeal on behalf of higher education, by which I mean scientific and technical as apart from literary, I may observe that research scholarships have already been established, and Government, I have but little doubt, will always be willing to spend money for the advance of scientific as well as technical education in this country.

"Turning to the details regarding which information is wanted, the Hon'ble Mr. Bose wanted to know why it was that the grant for furniture and apparatus last year had not been worked out. The explanation is that certain goods amounting to over ten thousand rupees and for which an indent had been sent to England, did not arrive before the year closed. Thus the value could not be debited aganist the grant.

"I have been asked to explain the decrease under the head of 'Grants-in-Aid'. The greater part of this is due to the transfer of schools in Chota Nagpur to the District Boards of that Division, and part of it, viz. Rs. 6,000, to withdrawal of grants.

"As regards the Building grant, the Hon'ble Member ventured a hope that the Deaf and Dumb School will be granted half-a-lakh. The amount which has been sanctioned for that Institution is Rs 30,000, and I am afraid I am not in a position to hold out any hopes that this will be increased.

"The same Hon'ble Member pointed out that in the Budget of the coming year as compared with the past, after taking into consideration the item given in page 7 of the Budget Statement, there appears to be a decrease of nearly one lakh. This is due to the transfer of the schools in Chota Nagpur to the District Boards.

"Then as regards the additional establishment at Sibpur, the information desired is given in part in the Budget itself, namely, the provision of two additional Foremen Instructors and an additional Professor, while as regards the additional instructive staff there referred to, the details have not yet been worked out.

"Concerning the Provident Fund for Gurus, I am unable to give the details of the scheme, because they are still under the consideration of the Government of India.

"The Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee asked for details of the grant of Rs. 5,000 to the Tea Association, and Rs. 7,500 to the Indigo Association, and whether there was any precedent. The grant of Rs. 5,000 to the Tea Association is not a new matter. This is the second year of the grant which is given for three years, for the purpose of assisting the Planters to obtain the services, at an estimated cost of Rs. 18,000, of an expert who will be able to investigate matters relating to the cultivation and manufacture of tea. The grant of Rs 7,500 to the Indigo Association is also for three years, and it is to enable them to obtain the services of a Biologist, was granted in order to enable the Planters to obtain a Biologist whose services, so the experts consulted by Government considered, would be of great advantage to the industry.

"With reference to the remarks of the Hon'ble Mr. Bose under the head of 'Emigration' and his enquiry as to the state of things which led to the increase in the past, and whether there is any likelihood of any improvement in the future, I can only say that the amounts are entered after knowing the needs of the Colonies. I have now, Sir, I think, furnished replies on all the points concerning which information was desired."

The Hon'ble MR. BUCKLAND said:—"As the burden of replying to the criticisms which have been offered will fall on the Hon'ble the Financial Secretary, I will confine myself to the observations that have been made in connection with the departments for the time being undermy charge. The first subject to which I wish to invite the attention of the Council is based on the remarks which have been made by the Hon'ble Mr. Das as to the two thirds' rule. I am not quite sure that I heard all that he said, but, so far as I understood, I think he raised a question with regard to the Statutory Civil Service, and he referred to some passages in the report of the Public Service Commission of the year 1887. A great many things have happened since then, and this question has been often considered,—'Whether natives of India who fill the appointments previously held by English or European officers should get the same pay'? It seems to me quite impossible to hold out any hope that any change will be made in the system of the two-thirds' rule, which has now obtained for a great many years past. No doubt there are some officers in the country, such as High Court Judges, who receive the same pay whether they are natives of India or Europeans; but the main principle has been accepted that Rs. 1,000 a month paid to a native of India goes quite as far as Rs. 1,500 a month to an English officer. There is no reason why a native officer should receive the same pay as an European for doing the same work in India. The question may be regarded in another way: when any European officers are deputed on duty to Europe, they only receive two-thirds of the pay they were receiving here; therefore I can hold out no hope that the cry raised with regard to the abolition of the two-thirds' rule will meet with any consideration.

"I will not follow the remarks of each individual speaker, but I propose to take them up in groups, and to deal with those relating to each group at a time.

"I will first deal with the observations made with regard to the scheme submitted to Government about the improvement of the Executive and Judicial branches of the Provincial Service. An entry of Rs. 1,40,000 has been made in the Budget for this purpose, and on the following grounds:—A scheme for the improvement of the Subordinate Judicial Service has been under consideration for the past two or three years, and this year there seemed to be a hope of some conclusion being arrived at; so that the sum of Rs. 40,000 was first put in the Budget for the purpose. But, as at least one Hon'ble Member in the room knows, in the course of last year a memorial was submitted to Government for the improvement of the Subordinate Executive Service, praying that something might be done when the finances come to bear a more flourishing aspect, and as the memorial came to be examined, it appeared that some remedial measures were required; the opportunity was then taken to enter in the Budget a lakh of rupees for the improvement of the Subordinate Executive Service. It was then that two schemes for the improvement of the two Services were proposed by this Government. I cannot at this moment enter into the details, because it was only on the 12th March that the schemes were submitted to the Government of India, and it would be quite inconsistent with official procedure to disclose the schemes; but I can go so far as to say that these will, if sanctioned, entail an annual expenditure of about two lakhs of rupees, and the sum of Rs. 1,40,000, which has been entered in the Budget, means the amount which is likely to be spent in the course of this official year if these two schemes receive the sanction of higher authority within a reasonable time. The Rs. 1,40,000 is just a little over two-thirds of the two lakhs for which we have asked, and if we obtain sanction somewhere about July, it will meet the expenditure which will be incurred in the course of the year. It has been noticed that Rs. 40,000 only has been allowed the Judicial branch, and one lakh to the Executive. I do not anticipate that, if the two schemes are sanctioned together or one before the other, there will be any difficulty in making a re-adjustment, though I cannot, of course, bind the Financial Secretary or His Honour in making this remark; but I have little doubt that something like that may be done, as money is available.

"The next subject is one which was referred to by the Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee when he pleaded the cause of the Sub-Deputy Collectors. Up to 1895 Sub-Deputy Collectors were allowed to go up for the examinations for Deputy Collectorships, but, in 1895, Government saw reason to stop this practice, and, since then, only a limited number of Sub-Deputies have been allowed to become Deputies by appointment. But I ought to add that every Sub-Deputy must know perfectly well that, if he exerts himself and deserves well of his superior officers, he stands a very good chance of being recommended for promotion. It is within my own knowledge that last July the Board of Revenue were specially asked to submit the names of ten Sub-Deputy Collectors who were qualified to be appointed Deputy Collectors. They submitted ten names, and four out of these were immediately appointed, and only quite recently four more of them have been appointed Deputy Collectors in the last grade. That accounts for eight out of ten, and one of the other two has not passed the required examinations, and is therefore not qualified. One more remains to be selected when the next batch of promotions takes place. Also at this time of the year the examination is held for the Provincial Service, and some Sub-Deputies will be appointed by selection as well as the Deputy Collectors appointed by examination. These gentlemen have before them the chance of being appointed Deputy Collectors in the same way as at present. The whole matter of the Provincial Service has for years past been well considered, and promotions have been made with greater regularity. For some time the Provincial Service has been suffering from the enormous over-admissions of a previous period. From 1891 to 1896, 175 men were taken in; that is, at the rate of about 35 a year. I was looking at the figures the other day, and I saw that, during the last four years, it has been possible to bring in only 26 recruits to the Provincial Service. The result of the over-admissions was that we had for some time a long list of so-called probationers The number has been greatly reduced since the re-organization of 1899: there are not in the probationary grade now more than 7 men, and if these new schemes, which I have alluded to, are sanctioned, it will in future be possible to admit more men annually to the establishment by examination.

"I will now pass on to the remarks that have been made with regard to the Police. It will be within the recollection of the Council that the Committee who sat in 1892 made a number of recommendations which would cost Rs. 7,00,000 in the aggregate, and the Government has ever since 1892 been working on the lines of these recommendations. For some years the number of Sub-Inspectors have been steadily increased, in accordance with the recommendations of the Committee of 1892. They recommended that Sub-Inspectors should be increased by 717, that is, about 68 a year. Provision has been taken in the Budget for Rs. 28,000 to meet the cost of turning 68 Head-Constables into Sub-Inspectors. I believe I am correct in saying that this plan of turning Head-Constables into Sub-Inspectors will be completed next year or the year after. At the same time, of course, the number of Head-Constables is to be considerably reduced, viz., by 655 in all, and the number of Constables has been largely increased. When I say that the policy of the Government has been to work upon the Committee's recommendations, it is impossible to say how far the Police will be altered in the near future, as there are always proposals and suggestions in hand for improvements in the Police.

"The Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee mentioned that he would like to see a Detective branch in connection with the Mufassal establishment. Now, this is a question of policy on which I am unable to give him any information, because, being a question of policy, it has to be carefully considered, especially with reference to the question whether there should be a Detective establishment in each district, or whether, as I understand is done in Scotland Yard, there should be a Detective establishment at head-quarters, from whence men would be available to be sent out whenever it becomes necessary for an intricate or important case to be investigated? I understand from something I have seen elsewhere that the Government of India is rather inclined to the latter view, but at this moment nothing more can be said on the subject.

"The Hon'ble Mr. Bose made allusion to the provision made in the Police Budget for four probationers in excess of the present scale. The second grade of Assistant Superintendents and the probationers were some time ago amalgamated. There are now 30 of these gentlemen, and as 23 is the sanctioned number, this grade contains 7 in excess. Some of them will be absorbed in the course of next year, so the Accountant-General has insisted upon provision being made in the Budget for four of them in excess.

"The same Hon'ble Member has also referred to certain expenditure under 'Contingencies.' I have found that, in the Eastern Railway Police system, the sum entered is the same as that in the sanctioned estimate of last year, and in the Bengal and North-Western and Tirhut State Railways the sum put down for Contingencies is Rs. 483 less than last year.

"I will now turn to the subject of Jails. It has been pointed out that the charge for superintendence is larger this year than it was last year; but the explanation is very simple. The officer who at present fills the post of Inspector-General of Jails was only acting last year. He has now been confirmed, and his pay is therefore larger. There is also another item—the pay of his Personal Assistant—which has also risen in due course, and there is a larger provision under the head of 'Travelling Allowance.' The increase under the head of 'Contingencies' is accounted for by higher rates, rents, taxes, servants, postage stamps, furniture, &c.

"As usual some observations have been made about the diet of prisoners. It need hardly be said that the food allowed to prisoners depends much more on sanitary considerations and upon the Jail Superintendents and the Doctors than upon the money available in the Budget, and I have no reason to suppose that the standard diet which has long been in force in Jails is otherwise than a healthy one, or that it should be increased in any material respect. The Chief Secretary last year, Mr. Bourdillon, made all the remarks that can be made on this subject. It is a well-known fact that prisoners actually increase in weight when in Jail, and, in individual cases, they have all reasonable comforts provided when they are sick.

"The Hon'ble Mr. Elworthy has referred to the subject of Jail Manufactures. The principles upon which Jails are allowed to manufacture have long since been laid down by the Government of India. They make things chiefly for the use of other departments; for instance, to provide cloth for the police and chaukidars and for the warders and other departments of Government. Beyond that they are allowed to sell their surplus stock, to a small extent, I think, it will be admitted, of certain goods which may otherwise be bought in the bazar. The figures before me show that the total value of their outturn is about 19 lakhs, of which 14½ lakhs represent the value of the goods supplied to other departments, whereas their cash sales to the public represent about 4½ lakhs. The Hon'ble Member asked to be provided with a list of articles manufactured in Jails in Bengal. I hold in my hand a pamphlet which gives all the information he wants, and he can obtain a copy at the small charge of 8 annas. A number of the articles obtainable from Jails are of common and domestic use, but the list is swelled by a number of other things for which there cannot be any great demand. Any one who wishes can provide himself with a new pattern triangle at the small cost of Rs. 73, or an European automatic drop gallows of the latest Alipore pattern for a sum of Rs. 328. I hardly think he would care to invest in any of these things, or even a new cooking-range for a thousand men. This pamphlet gives a list of all the articles which the Jails manufacture, but there is no intention whatever to aim at underselling the public trader. The principles laid down by the Government of India are borne in mind by the Jail Department.

"The Hon'ble Babu Boikanta Nath Sen made a suggestion with regard to the Registration Department. I fully expected to see my friend opposite—the Inspector-General of Registration—jump out of his seat when the Hon'ble Member proposed that this Department should be made over to the District Boards I have never before heard the suggestion made, and have grave doubts whether it will ever enter the field of practical politics. The surplus of the Registration Department, which is nearly three lakhs, is absorbed in the general revenues. Before that could be made over to the District Boards, it would be necessary to be sure that the Department could be worked or administered by a District Board. I personally fail to see how it could be done, and I cannot hold out any hopes that the suggestion will meet with any consideration.

"Then as regards the remarks made with reference to Law and Justice. The Hon'ble Mr. Bose called attention to the increase in the Mufassal of Rs. 11,700. The simple explanation is, that provision has been made to establish a Government pleadership in Champaran and for a larger sum for fees to pleaders in Criminal Courts. It is under the same heading that the Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee made reference to certain contingencies amounting to Rs. 1,200. The explanation is, that this sum is entered in the Budget to meet the increase in rents and taxes.

"The only other remark which I have to make is with respect to Munsifs' residences. This is an old subject, it was brought up in debate in this Council some years ago, and has been constantly alluded to. Some years ago a programme was prepared for the construction of 18 Munsifs' residences to be constructed in some outlying districts in order of urgency. In the Budget for 1900-1901, a sum of Rs. 15,000 was provided as sufficient for four residences. Steps were taken in connection with nine buildings. There was an extra grant of Rs. 10,000 in 1900-1901, but part of the money was diverted, and after various changes the final allotment was of Rs. 17,607 for nine works. There has been delay arising from various causes. At the present moment there are nine works in progress, some are actually well-advanced, and in others the Public Works Department have only lately got hold of the land. This year the allotment on the Budget is Rs. 27,500, which should suffice for these nine residences in hand and for four more to be taken up. I cannot promise that, at this time next year, these will have been completed, but at any rate the work is in progress, money has been allotted, and it depends on the energy with which the Public Works Department (always, supposing that obstacles are not put in the way by the alteration of plans) spend the money allotted in this year's Budget.

"The only other subject to which I have to refer is, that which was touched upon by the Hon'ble Babu Boikanta Nath Sen, about structural arrangements being made in the offices attached to Judicial Courts. The Hon'ble Member seems to think that the public have a right to enter Government Offices whenever they like, whether the Government like it or not. I must point out that these offices are the offices of Government, and the Government have a perfect right to keep out of them all outsiders, whether they are pleaders, or mukhtears, or barristers of the High Court, or any one else who is not in Government employ. Would any merchant or attorney allow any member of the public to come into his office at will and tamper—I use the word 'tamper' advisedly—with the records there or the clerks at work in his office? It is the object of Government to try and put down, as much as possible, the tampering and corruption which are well known to prevail in these offices: these orders have been passed with the best of motives; and to deal effectively with the prevailing corruption, it will be of no use to take half-measures. Therefore, the other day I said from my seat here that, as soon as possible, orders would be issued for structural arrangements to be made in all judicial offices to exclude all but the persons employed in those offices and to provide facilities outside the offices for those who have legitimate business with the sarishtadar, or for pleaders who have a right to look at records under certain conditions in certain cases, or for other persons requiring information. I have taken the earliest steps to redeem that promise, and a Circular will be issued calling upon Judicial Officers to make suggestions. I was sorry to hear the Hon'ble Member say that these orders would lead to a more impure state of things, and it seems to me an unusual ground to take, to say that, where corruption would be more difficult and more costly, there would be more of it. I should have thought that the economical argument was the other way, and that, if it can be made more costly to corrupt the Court amla, there would be less corruption. So far as the Government are concerned the orders will be issued and the structural arrangements made in due course of time. This concludes the list of subjects with which I have to deal on behalf of Government."

The Hon'ble MR. BAKER said:—"In winding up the debate on the Budget last year, you observed, Sir, that not in your time would the Lieutenant-Governor enjoy those ample balances which had been the privilege of former times; and you impressed upon us the warning that the resources of the Province must be husbanded and expended with the greatest circumspection. On the necessity for economy and circumspection I need not dwell at present. They are as imperative now as they have ever been in the history of the Province, although most of the gentlemen who have addressed us, advocating measures of expenditure, have apparently lost sight of it. But I venture to think that the Budget, which has been discussed to-day, affords good ground for the hope that days of renewed prosperity are not far distant. Three years ago, immediately after the Famine year 1897, when the Budget for the year 1898-99 was laid on the table, it was seen that there was an opening balance of only Rs. 5,39,000. During the three years that have elapsed since then, this cash balance has risen to over Rs. 42,00,000, notwithstanding that, during this period, we have had to spend over 13 lakhs on plague, 12 lakhs on earthquake repairs, and 14 lakhs for the protection of Darjeeling. Bengal is no doubt less fortunate than Burma, where the Local Government is unable to find objects on which to spend its enormous accumulations, and where the budget grant for Public Works is 88 lakhs as compared with 45 lakhs in Bengal. But if we are not absolutely rich, we have at all events enough to justify us without improvidence in embarking on a certain number of modest, but useful projects to meet the growing requirements of the Province. These projects have been enumerated in the Financial Statement, and I need not recapitulate them. They have been referred to in the discussion to-day with general approval. But, as usual, the Hon'ble Members who have addressed us have had no difficulty in bringing forward a long list of other schemes to be pressed upon our consideration. Some of these are new schemes and others are old acquaintances brought forward on the Spencerian principle, that varied iteration is the only means by which alien ideas may be enforced on reluctant minds. I shall refer to one or two projects of both classes, omitting those which have been dealt with by the other Secretaries. Amongst the first class of new projects which I shall touch upon, I think the foremost place may justly be claimed by that which was brought forward by the Hon'ble Mr. Sutherland, and afterwards referred to by several other speakers. I mean the proposals with regard to the opening out of congested areas in Calcutta. The Hon'ble Mr. Sutherland and some of the other hon'ble gentlemen who addressed us have expressed disappointment that no allotment for this work has been made in the Budget, and they comment on the delay that has taken place since the Building Commission of 1897 submitted their report; and I am very glad to have this opportunity of explaining generally how the matter stands. The Building Commission sent in its report at the end of the year 1897. It was a very long, very elaborate, and a very important report, and it included, among many other matters, proposals for revising the Building Law of Calcutta. That part of the subject was taken up first, and dealt with in connection with the Calcutta Municipal Bill; and when that Bill was put into shape by the Select Committee of this Council, the other part of their recommendations was taken in hand. Government have by no means been idle. All the chief difficulties of the scheme centre round the question of finance. A scheme to drive a series of first class roads through the heart of Calcutta, through the most crowded parts of the town, where the need for them is greatest and the cost of land is high in proportion to the overcrowding, is a scheme the cost of which must necessarily be enormous I understand that in London, the great road from Holborn to the Strand is estimated to cost over £4,000,000 sterling, but by the application of the principle of recoupment, the London County Council estimate to reduce the net cost of the scheme to something like £100,000. No such result can be hoped for in Calcutta. According to the best estimates, the cost of the full scheme which was put forward by the Building Commission for 15 miles of road, will not be less than 2½ crores of rupees, and to devise a satisfactory method of providing this vast sum, without imposing too heavy a burden on the people, is a task of great difficulty, and one that requires anxious consideration, for the greater part of this sum will have, in some form or another, to be provided by the people of Calcutta. The Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee and the Hon'ble Mr. Apcar appear to have had it in their minds that the greater part of the cost of the scheme is to be borne by the Imperial Government. That is not correct. The people of Calcutta are those who will benefit most by the scheme, and it is only just and proper that they should pay their full share. It is my personal opinion that Calcutta has a claim on the Imperial Government for some measure of assistance; but at all events, the lion's share of the cost, not less than four fifths of the whole, must be provided by the people of Calcutta. For the last two years we have been in active correspondence and communication with the Government of India and the Secretary of State on this subject as to the best means of financing this scheme. This correspondence is not yet complete, and I cannot, I am sorry, take the Council into our confidence at present as to the precise nature of the proposals put forward, but I think I may go so far as to say that there are good grounds now for the hope that we have at last threshed out a scheme of finance, and that we are on the eve of effecting an agreement for the provision of the necessary funds in a manner which will be equitable to all parties, and the best practicable in the circumstances. In any scheme so large as this, progress must necessarily be slow. Even if the large sum required were available at once, it would not be possible to carry out such a scheme for several years, and where the money has to be raised gradually, it is scarcely possible that there shall not be considerable delay. It is inevitable that at least 8 or 9 years, or perhaps more, must elapse before it can approach completion. But in the meantime we are hopeful that a beginning may be made and the work started before the necessary legislation is taken in hand. His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor trusts to be able to start work in anticipation of the necessary legislation at an early date.

"In this connection, I should like to refer to a remark which fell from the Hon'ble Mr. Sutherland, with regard to giving Calcutta a second lung in the form of a maidan at Tollygunge. I entirely agree with what he said on that subject now, and also with what was said by the Chairman of the St. Andrew's Dinner. I agree, especially as this work, if taken up, will be not only a farsighted proceeding, but it will also be comparatively inexpensive, and because it is inexpensive, it is incumbent on the Corporation to do it.

THE GENERAL HOSPITAL.

"I now turn to the remarks made by the Hon'ble Mr. Sutherland with reference to the General Hospital. He wished to know how much of the original project had been carried out, and how much had been spent as compared with the original scheme, and he referred to the paying patients block, and expressed the hope that an entirely new building, equipped with all modern appliances, would be provided. This matter stands in the following position:—In 1896 the Committee, presided over by Mr. Risley, drew up a scheme for the re-modelling and re-construction of the entire hospital. The estimated cost was 22 lakhs, but immediately after the estimate was prepared and before the work could be taken in hand, there occurred the Famine of 1897, and all work had to be temporarily stopped for want of funds. In 1898 it was taken up again, and it was speedily found not only that a number of necessary items in the original scheme had been omitted, but also that the provision made for several of the larger works was also inadequate. When the revised estimates for the whole scheme were worked out, they were found to come up to 33 lakhs of rupees. There was no possibility of providing this sum, and therefore it became necessary to re-cast the whole scheme. Up to the end of March last we have spent in all Rs. 14,82,000 on this work in three years. Of that sum the Local Government has provided half, and the Government of India the other half. The works which have been practically completed are, first of all, the new block for males with which I think the Hon'ble Mr. Sutherland is acquainted; the main kitchen; the Nurse's quarters; land for the whole scheme; land also for the quarters of the Superintendent, the subordinate staff and servants; furniture for the hospital, and a beginning has also been made with the infectious diseases block. We have not built the proposed Female block, nor the Administrative block; we do not propose to construct a dairy, and there has been some delay in the construction of the quarters for the Subordinate Staff. Most of these works, I think, may be regarded as capable of postponement. As regards the paying patients' block, which it has been decided not to proceed with at present, I think the Hon'ble Mr. Sutherland will desire some further explanation. The reason why we considered that the construction of that block should stand over is, that the existing block for paying patients is capable, in the opinion of the Engineers, of being re-modelled and improved, after which, though it would be very far from perfect, it will suffice for a number of years to come. We propose to convert the double rooms on the upper storey into single rooms for each patient; we propose to divide the large ward on the second floor into a series of single rooms, and we propose to re-furnish the whole block and provide it with electric fans. In this way we shall obtain a very large saving on the original estimate, which was for 4 lakhs of rupees. If, however, it should be possible to obtain subscriptions from the local public, I am in a position to say that the Government will be ready to re-consider their proposal: what work will then be undertaken will depend upon what contributions are paid by the community. A certain sum can, in all probability, be obtained indirectly by acting upon the three suggestions made by the Hon'ble Mr. Sutherland to-day. I refer to what he said about the Hospital Port Dues Fund. His recommendation was, that Government should take steps to put into force the proposals put forward by the recent Committee appointed to inquire into the Port Trust. These were three in number. One was that half the cost of the Port Health Officer should be paid by Government, instead of the whole being borne by the Hospital Port Dues Fund The second was that the rate of Hospital Port Dues should be reduced to such a figure as would be just enough to meet the expenses debitable to the fund. The third was that the accumulated balance of Rs. 1,14,000 should be applied to the New General Hospital. I think it may be possible to give effect to this last suggestion, so that a portion of the funds for the new paying patients block can be indirectly provided in that manner. As regards the other recommendations which have been made by the Committee of Enquiry into the Port Trust, I agree with them, for the same reason that the Hon'ble Mr. Sutherland agrees, with the remarks of the Chairman of the St. Andrew's Dinner.

LOANS TO MUNICIPALITIES.

"I now turn to the suggestion of the Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee with regard to Loans to the Riparian Municipalities, to enable them to carry out a scheme of water-supply. The Hon'ble Member is under a slight misapprehension. The Budget we are discussing is the Revenue Budget; the Loans Budget is an entirely different matter, and it does not fall within the scope of our present proceedings, but as the Hon'ble Member has taken great personal interest in this matter, and as it is one of great importance, I should like to assure him that we have made provision in the Loans Budget for this purpose. Originally we provided 5 lakhs to enable Riparian Municipalities to carry out a scheme of water-supply, but unfortunately it was struck out by Government on account of want of funds; but in view of the importance of the project, we re-cast our Loans Budget and we have been able to provide two lakhs of rupees for this purpose, and although this is very much less than will be necessary to carry out the entire scheme, it will enable these Municipalities to make a beginning.

BURNING-GHATS.

"There is one more of the new proposals which—wish to refer to before I turn to the older projects which have been brought before this Council, and that is the suggestion made by the Hon'ble Babu Boikanta Nath Sen, that the Government, which is providing cemeteries for Mahomedans and Christians, should do something in the way of providing burning-ghâts for Hindus. I am afraid I cannot accept the suggestion. The Burial Boards, both Mahomedan and Christain, are excluded local funds. They deal exclusively with Calcutta; and it is because they are excluded local funds that such grants as we have to make to them are specified expressly in the Budget; but in the case of burning-ghats, there are no such funds. Burning-ghats are entirely in the hands of Municipalities, both in Calcutta and in other Municipalities. Any grants given for the purpose of assisting Municipalities to construct a burning-ghat, or for any other purpose would appear as a contribution to the Municipalities. Nor can I admit that there is any obligation on Government to assist Municipalities in this matter; it is one for which they must provide themselves.

SALARIES OF MINISTERIAL OFFICERS.

"Now I turn to the remarks in connection with the salaries of ministerial officers. The Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee has quoted certain remarks I made on this subject in Council two years ago To what I said then I altogether adhere now. I regard the question as one of great importance, which will have to be faced and considered in a sympathetic spirit. But when we came to consider whether the increase should be given on the present occasion, we had to weigh the relative claims of several other projects which are before us, and the conclusion we came to was that this particular one must wait. It would have cost a large sum of money, not less than Rs 4,00,000 a year. It was recurring expenditure, which once incurred becomes permanent and irrevocable. It was doubtful whether the Government of India would sanction it, affecting as it must the scale of salaries in other Provinces. We felt that the benefits to the Province and the intrinsic necessity of the other schemes were greater. We could not, for instance, give this proposal priority over the additional grants to District Boards, and I should have been sorry to see such measures as the improvement of the Provincial Civil Service, or the Provident Fund for Teachers, shelved to make way for it. But Hon'ble Members may rest assured that it is not lost sight of, and that it will be taken up when a suitable occasion arises.

GRAIN COMPENSATION ALLOWANCE.

"As regards grain compensation to menial servants, we will give this allowance where necessary. One or two applications have been received, and the matter will be considered and dealt with in the ordinary course. Last year we gave these allowances in the districts of Chota Nagpur and one or two other places, and this year, if it becomes necessary to do so, you may be sure we shall do the same. Full provision is made in the existing rules for the grant of compensation for the dearness of food when the price of their staple rises above a certain figure. I cannot admit that these officers have any claims to further concessions.

VILLLAGE WATER-SUPPLY.

"Then there is that hardy annual, the Water-Supply. On this point I can do little but repeat what I have said on previous occasions. Government fully sympathise with the desire of so many Members of this Council, that the people in Bengal should enjoy the advantage of a pure water-supply, or, at all events, some sort of supply; but the task is one for the people themselves to undertake. The Government can no more undertake to supply pure water for the whole rural population, than it could supply the same population with food, clothing or employment. What is wanted is not so much new tanks, as that existing tanks should be re-excavated. If the villagers will only combine to provide the labour, and if landlords and zamindars will sink their personal quarrels and make their tanks available, I am certain that the greater part of those difficulties and these complaints will disappear. In the meantime, District Boards are doing their share of the work. During the last five years their average expenditure has exceeded a lakh of rupees a year. The Hon'ble Mr. Bose has pointed out that this expenditure falls short of the minimum payment of five thousand a year, which the Government some years ago directed should be spent by each Board. The only reason I can give is, that the resources of District Boards have been unequal to the task. The resources of many Boards were exhausted in dealing with the famine, and they have not had funds to spare for work of this description. I cannot undertake to do what the Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee suggested, viz., ear-mark any part of the new grant to District Boards for water-supply; but at all events it will be manifest that, with the additional grants it will be possible for the Boards to comply with the order passed five years ago that Rs. 5,000 are to be spent on this object every year. The Hon'ble Mr. Bose has asked that the Registers of sources of water-supply may be produced, but I do not quite see what use can be made of them. My impression is that these Registers are useless. I am certain that an enormous amount of labour and a good deal of expense would be required in preparing and printing them, and I do not see what practical uses will be made of them.

"As regards District Magistrates exercising their influence to promote the excavation of tanks, all I can say is that the influence of every District Magistrate is being constantly exercised in this direction.

"As regards legislating to get possession of lands, I am not prepared to recommend legislation for such a one-sided purpose.

PROVISION FOR PLAGUE.

"And now I turn to various remarks of Hon'ble Members, which do not involve expenditure. In the first place the Hon'ble Mr. Elworthy, in the course of his interesting speech, expressed a doubt whether we were not spending somewhat too much. He pointed out that the deficit for the year was Rs. 22,00,000, that being the amount by which the expenditure exceeded the revenue of the year, and he doubted whether sufficient provision had been made in the Budget for plague and famine. I think I can re-assure the Hon'ble Member. In the first place, our revenue for next year has as usual been estimated with caution. In some items, such as Assessed Taxes, it has, I believe, been placed distinctly too low. I have here side by side the figures showing the Budget estimates of revenue for each year since 1895-96, and the actual revenue of the year. In each year of the series the actual excess over the Budget has never been less than 10¼ lakhs, and the average betterment during the period has been 15¾ lakhs. Therefore I think we shall certainly find that our cash balance at the end of the year will be nearer 30 lakhs than 20. Then, again, out of the 22¾ lakhs of excess expenditure, at least 12¾ lakhs are non-recurring, and there is only a comparatively small part of the whole which is recurring expenditure. I have drawn up a statement showing how much is recurring and how much is non-recurring. The only items of recurring expenditure are the grant for the Provincial Civil Service Rs. 1,40,000, that for the Provident Fund for Gurus Rs. 2,25,000, the Dairy Farm at Pusa Rs. 46,000, and that for Plague Camps, Rs. 65,000, which gives a total of Rs. 3,76,000 which will become permanent. To this we may add the Rs. 4,80,000 which we propose to give to the District Boards. I should be sorry to see this reduced or withdrawn, but we have most carefully guarded against any undertaking to make it permanent, and we could withdraw it, if necessary. I would remind the Council, as I did on the 30th of March last, that it is not open to the Local Government, under the present system of finance, to alienate any portion of their revenue, and we can make no promise to the District Boards that this Rs. 4,80,000, or any part of it, will be continued next year until we see our way clearly. It is not a final settlement of the question, but only a temporary arrangement, pending the revision of the Provincial Contract, which is due at the end of the present year. As regards the provision for plague or famine, it is true we have made no provision for famine. It is not usual to do so, unless there is some indication of scarcity, which happily is not the case at present. And, moreover, under the orders of the Government of India, passed in 1882, we are not required to provide a reserve on that account. As regards plague, we have provided Rs. 5,65,000, which is Rs. 2,80,000 more than we provided last year. I am in the hope that this provision is ample, but in the event of it not being so, we have a further reserve under Contributions of Rs. 2,84,000, which can be made available and applied to this purpose, and if the need is still greater, we shall find whatever may be necessary by making retrenchments or by postponing expenditure elsewhere.

EXCISE AND LOCAL OPTION.

"The Hon'ble Mr. Bose, the Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee and the Hon'ble Babu Boikanta Nath Sen have made remarks on Excise matters, and the Hon'ble Mr. Bose dwelt upon the question of local option. As regards the latter, it does exist to this extent that under a rule passed ten years ago, Municipal Commissioners in Mufassal Municipalities are entitled to be consulted as to sites of liquor shops. That rule is by no means, a dead-letter: it is constantly enforced, and wherever the views expressed by them appear reasonable they are given effect to. Beyond this I do not think it would be right or proper to go, and the ultimate decision must rest with the Revenue Officers. I can hold out no expectation whatever that the provisions of section 84 of the Bengal Excise Act will be put in operation. I know of scarcely any body of persons so little fitted by constitution, knowledge or interest to control the granting or withholding of Excise licenses as the average Mufassal Municipal Committee. They may be representative of a particular class or section of the community. But that class is certainly not the class which is interested in the sale of excisable articles. By entrusting Municipal Committees with licensing powers, we should subject the consumers of liquor or drugs to a class tyranny of the worst kind. They would possess power without responsibility, and having no financial interest in the result, they would be under the constant temptation to earn a cheap reputation for vicarious temperance at the cost of the general tax-payer. The Hon'ble Mr. Bose said this difficulty could be met by giving the Committees a share of the Excise Revenue, or by making it incumbent on them to raise a minimum sum. I can imagine the Hon'ble Member indulging in a covert smile when putting forward this proposal. But I do not think that he expected that it would be taken seriously. The control of an important branch of Government Revenue must remain in the hands of Government Officers. I do not propose to follow the Hon'ble Member in his dissertation on the Excise Administration of Bengal. This subject has been discussed threadbare already. The whole question was carefully and exhaustively considered in 1888-89 under the orders of the Government of India, and the conclusions arrived at by the Government of India and the Secretary of State, have been published in the Gazette. The policy then laid down has governed the action of the Bengal Government ever since. The distillery system is in force in the Presidency, Burdwan, Dacca, Chittagong and Orissa Divisions (except a few outlying tracts) in the Sonthal Parganas, in parts of Chota Nagpur and in all the large towns of Patna and Bhagalpur. The out-still system is in force in the remainder of the province for which it is best suited. That it has led to increase of drinking I totally deny. The other day Maulvi Wajid Hossein, who has served for 20 years in Patna, assured me he could see no difference in that respect now from what he saw 20 years ago. Persons who know the people of the adjacent districts of the North-West Provinces, Benares, Goruckpur, and Mirzapore, as well as those of Bihar, state that there is not a pin to choose between them in this respect. Yet the former have the distillery system, while the latter have the dual, or Patna system. And in the North-West Provinces the total number of liquor shops is very nearly double the number of out-stills and distillery shops in the whole of Bengal taken together, in spite of the greater area and larger population of this Province. There has been no abnormal increase of Excise Revenue. It has risen by only 13¼ lakhs since 1895-96, or at the rate of 2 per cent. per annum. The Hon'ble Mr. Bose said that prosperity was only one cause of the rise of Excise Revenue, and he rejoiced that the constituency which he represents, judged by this standard, was not prosperous. He is quite right. There is another factor which affects the Excise Revenue, and that factor is the drinking habit or the drug-consuming habit of the people. Where Muhammadans predominate, very little liquor is drunk; the greater part of the country liquor is consumed by Hindi-speaking people; and where Bengalis predominate, the use of drugs is in the ascendant. I may mention that these different peculiarities of different communities are set forth in the very report from which the Hon'ble Member quoted. Differences of this kind make it difficult to compare Bengal with Madras and Bombay, and still more to compare Bengal with England.

"Then with regard to the reduction of Still-head duty, few questions are more difficult than to accurately adjust the Still-head duty to the precise pitch which will not drive people to illicit distillation. That is one of the objections to the distillery system. Every suggestion to raise or lower the rate of Still-head duty is most carefully considered by the Board and Excise Commission. Our general tendency is to raise it and not to reduce it.

"The Hon'ble Babu Surendranath Banerjee referred with some indignation to the fall in the price of ganja, and he seemed to hold that in some way or other the Government were responsible for this. The Government is no more responsible for this than for the variations of the seasons. The cause of the fall in the price of ganja is the fact that in the previous year the season was favourable and the crop was an unusually large one. In 1898-99 the total yield was 5,417 maunds, and in the following year it went up to 7,551 maunds, giving an increase of nearly 50 per cent. over the previous year. Government cannot regulate the retail price of the drug which must fluctuate according to supply.

"Then the Hon'ble Member in referring to the explanation given with regard to the Opium Revenue, said he was unable to accept the suggestion put forward in the Financial Statement that it was due to the increased prosperity of the people. I think it is a pious belief of the Hon'ble Member that no increase in the Excise Revenue can ever be due to increased prosperity. He thought that we might take credit for suppressing smuggling, which he thought accounted for the increase. I hope the Hon'ble Member is right in thinking that the increase is due to the suppression of smuggling. But I fear not. Much of the increase comes from Calcutta, and there is reason to fear that smuggling to Burma and Chittagong is on the increase. As regards the other details, I have taken notes of the information asked for, and I will furnish the Hon'ble Members with it privately. There is, however, one point in connection with distribution of the grant to District Boards, which I will touch upon.

FEEDER ROADS IN ORISSA.

"The Hon'ble Mr. Das made an appeal to us, that in making the distribution the Government should bear in mind the question of Feeder Roads in Orissa. This is a matter in which Government has a large interest. Only a month ago we gave over Rs. 17,000 to the Balasore District Board for the construction of feeder roads. We are fully alive to the fact that the East Coast Railway will not be complete unless feeder roads are provided, and the Hon'ble Member may be sure we will give to his division the full share which is its due.

"In conclusion, I beg to express my acknowledgment to those Hon'ble Members who facilitated our task by giving previous notice of the points they were going to raise."

The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT said :—"I am not surprised at the chorus of satisfaction to-day over the finances of the Province. It is a long time since any one could have called them satisfactory. The treasure chest was swept out by the Famine of 1896-97. As fast as it began to fill again, it was emptied by new misfortunes—misfortunes not so disastrous as befell our stricken neighbours in the Central Provinces and Bombay, but severe enough to prevent improvement on the ordinary administrative lines of Government. There was first the earthquake which cost us 12 lakhs, then came the plague, which has already cost us 22 lakhs. Last of all, the landslips at Darjeeling, which have cost us in the protection of the town and railway 14 lakhs. Thanks, however, to seasons of agricultural prosperity and to the stern and resolute character of my friend, the keeper of the public purse, we have emerged, for the time, into a period of cheerful surplus. Having got that surplus the question of course arose as to what we were to do with it. We have had a vast amount of advice, some of it excellent, some of it not. No conceivable surplus would ever meet all the delighted and sanguine suggestions that are made for its expenditure. But after hearing all that has to be said, I think that on the whole in the distribution we have done well. I will not repeat what the Hon'ble Mr. Baker has so well said, but there are one or two matters, in which I have taken a special interest, on which I should like to speak to you. The first is about District Boards. It has long been evident that they are starved. The revenues which are given them to administer are not sufficiently expansive. The ferries and pounds, whose income they receive, do not, under modern conditions, expand at all, and the local cesses are enhanced slowly and gradually. The result is that no new work is undertaken, or if it is undertaken this is done at the expense of those schemes, which the District Board was intended to, and indeed was bound to, maintain. No new roads, for example, are made, or if they are made, the old roads are not kept in proper repair. In the great division of Rajshahi the mileage of unmetalled road has been actually reduced by 87 miles during the last five years. It was absolutely necessary that the District Boards should be helped out of their dilemma, and in an incautious reply to an address at Bhagalpur 18 months ago, I promised that relief should be given. In the Budget under discussion, that promise has at last been redeemed. The needs and the difficulties of districts vary, but the necessary enquiries as to the distribution were made in anticipation, and substantial help is now ready. The guarantee of help can only be given for the current year. With the next year will come a new financial contract, and on that contract will depend the future help we can give to the Boards. But the relations between the Supreme and the Local Governments are singularly like those of the Local Government with the District Boards. The Local Government complains, like the District Board, that the revenues assigned for its work are not sufficiently elastic to cover the growing and imperative wants of a growing community, and at every contract there is a scramble for the increased revenue which the Central Government has jealously reserved to itself. The Local Government complains like the District Board that it is starved, and urges with audacious persistence that the starving of it is in very truth the starving of the country. I venture to think and hope that these views are gradually receiving less opposition in the highest quarters, and if we have frankly admitted the claims of the District Boards, well we are only doing as we would be done by. If the conditions of the contract permit, our help to the Boards will be continued. The improvement of the communications is a most pressing want of the interior of Bengal. There is another question in regard to the District Boards, on which I should like to say a few words. We want to give them the means of doing more work. We have given them the means to-day. But the work they do must be better done. The reports on their public works made it necessary to have a Committee to examine them. The Committee found that the Public Works of the District Boards were, as a whole, badly done, and not only so, but very dearly and expensively done. The Committee recommended—and it was not a Committee of Public Works Officers alone—that we should revert to the old system, in which the District Engineers were part of the Government machinery of Public Works. To this I did not agree. Such a reversal of the policy of 1882 was impossible, except on proof that nothing else would suffice, and the real cause of the complaint about District Public Works was the absence of proper professional supervision. The Executive Engineer of the Government service is carefully supervised by a higher and more experienced officer of the department. But the superintendence of the District Engineer is confined to his Collector, and the occasional visits of an Inspector of Works with an area too large for him to efficiently traverse—an Inspector whose comments have been in too many instances, I have seen, entirely disregarded by the District Engineer and his Board. This must not be. With the help of the Government of India, the cadre of the Province has been increased by two Superintending Engineers, the circles of the staff of Superintending Engineers have been reduced to manageable dimensions, and the technical instructions they give to the District Engineers in the carrying out of the works ordered by the Board must be obeyed. The next matter in the Budget on which I should like to say a word is the institution of a Provident Fund for the masters of the primary schools. These men are practically Government servants. They are practically the only class of our servants for whom no provision is made for support in old age. I think they have the strongest possible claim on our help. They have an immensely important duty. On them rests the development of that primary education which is recognised as so essential to the progress of a nation. If they are active, it will flourish; if they are dull and despondent, it will not. This is of the greater consequence in Bengal, where we have laid the foundations of a Kindergarten system in the primary school, which is designed to arouse and foster the intelligence of the scholar, but which also demands intelligence and good humour in the teachers. In the Central Provinces we began the scheme of a Provident Fund, but it was scattered by the blasts of famine, and it is a particular satisfaction to me that the circumstances of this Province have enabled us to make an actual start here. The improvement of the Subordinate Judicial Service has been a matter of long correspondence. The Secretary of State took one view; the Judges another. The plans we have submitted will, I think, give satisfaction to both. It has always been an axiom that the Subordinate Executive Service should be run on somewhat parallel lines. I think the axiom was a just one. The altered ease and dignity of a judicial career are traditionally attractive to the learned men of India, and if the Executive is to be maintained at the standard its critics expect and demand, its emoluments must be maintained at a fairly equal level. This principle has been followed in our proposals.

"There are other matters of the deepest interest, the Calcutta improvements for example, on which I have nothing to add—I regret to say it, to the remarks which have been made by the Financial Secretary on behalf of this Government.

"There remains one matter to which the Hon'ble Mr. Elworthy has called my special attention. I understand he wants any information we can give him as to the situation and the prospects of plague, specially in the city of Calcutta. Let me give you, as briefly as I can, the facts. In 1898, the plague began in April and culminated in June. The highest number of deaths in a week was 22.

"In 1899, it began in February and subsided in April. The highest mortality was 278 in the week ending 7th April.

"In 1900, the epidemic again began in February, again subsiding in April. The highest point was 990 in the week ending 23rd March. In 1901, it again began in February. It has again begun to fall in April. The highest point was 1,119 in the week ending 30th March. You will realise the extraordinary closeness of this periodicity more clearly from the charts which I have caused to be prepared for your information than from the figures I have given you. In each of the last three years there has been a strongly marked epidemic in the six weeks between February and April.

"What has been done to check or prevent this? In 1898 we began with segregation and inoculation. The segregation was of a different character from that hitherto tried. But you remember the wild stories, the wilder credulities, the panic and the exodus. Next year we tried disinfection. It was notably successful. The cases were few in which plague was found to have recurred in a disinfected house. It did not, however, prevent the spread of plague, and in the epidemic of 1900, three times as severe as its predecessor, we tried the disinfection of all the houses surrounding an infected house. In the interval of quiescence between May and December last, the Plague Officers of Calcutta, to whom I wish to pay a high tribute for patience, tact, and assiduity in their duties, succeeded in disinfecting every room of every bustee in the City. It was thus we faced the epidemic of 1901. The chart and the figures I have given you for 1900 exclude suspicious cases. Those for 1901 include them. If you include them in 1900, the number of plague deaths in the period, 1st January to 31st March, is higher by 106 than in 1900. The two epidemics were, therefore, identical in intensity. Was it due to the disinfection measures that there was no great increase in 1901? Opinions will, of course, differ, but I have myself no doubt on the matter. We know from Major Deane's report on the last epidemic, the immense value of individual disinfections We have recent evidence as to the value of wholesale disinfection. The town of Gaya was attacked by plague in November last. It later spread to the district. The Calcutta plan was introduced in the city. In villages disinfection is impossible. Now these are the figures. Plague deaths for the week ending 1st December; City, 119, country nil. For the week ending 5th January; City 71, country 28. For the week ending 2nd February; City 22, country 318. For the week ending 2nd March; City 20, country 666. For the week ending 30th March; City 17, country 1,559. Under identical climatic conditions, the disease abated in the city as it grew in the country. In Patna city again and the rural area of the sub-divisions the figures are:—Week ending 1st December; City 101, country 22. Week ending 5th January; City 362, country 97. Week ending 2nd February;

City 458, country 243. Week ending 2nd March; City 132, country, 789. Week ending 30th March; City 47, country 1,289. Again, under identical conditions of climate, plague has fallen under disinfection, whilst it was rising where there was none. Lastly, the percentage of deaths in Calcutta is falling. This was the observation made to me the other day at the Campbell Hospital. It is confirmed by the figures given me by Major Deane. In 1900 the Plague Officers saw 948 living cases of plague. Of these there died or disappeared 715, or 75·5 per cent. In 1901 they saw in the same period 1,438 cases, of whom 972 died or disappeared, or 67·6 per cent. In most other forms of epidemic disease, a decrease in the mortality means a waning of the disease. As to the prospects of the future, no man dare prophesy. But the experiences of the past are hopeful. Possibly wholesale disinfection months before the arrival of the epidemic was not directly worth the cost. But the people who, a year ago, were strongly obstructive now co-operate with a good-will, which is gratifying to all who have to do with them, and the next epidemic, etc., will be more easy to meet.

"In the Mufassal, the spread of the disease has been very grave. The only measure you can successfully take there is evacuation. Wherever plague has already been, the people have learnt its value. In January last I travelled across the Patna and Gaya districts via Bihar, and wherever plague had appeared, the people were already in camp. In Barh and the Monghyr district the plague has been in consequence this year much milder. Villages that have become free have been re-infected by the too early return of the villagers, or by the admission of people from infected villages. Against these dangers the people are learning to guard themselves. But the difficulty of moving and persuading them is immense. And nothing has struck me more than the rapidity with which the disease spread in the rural areas of the district of Gaya, where the Collector, Mr. Oldham, has been more successful than any other officer in the Province in winning the co-operation of the people in his measures. Gaya presents a new feature. The people have taken evidently to inoculation. Wherever they do so, they shall be heartily encouraged. Its protective power, the period for which it protects, is still in much doubt, and the experiences in the Punjab and elsewhere show that, like every other measure we try, it is not a panacea. But it does undoubtedly do good.

"It is not to be denied that the prospects for the next winter in the Mufassal are most serious. If the villagers will only help themselves, the remedy is in their own hands. The people of the Kumaon hills, to whom plague is familiar, stop it at once by leaving their houses. So can the people of Bengal, and in many parts they have now found this out. The District Officers and their staff in the infected areas have had a tremendous task. Their labours are not yet over. I apologise to the Council for this long speech; after all it is not longer than some of those to which we have listened with interest. I congratulate the Council on a debate of more spirit than in the circumstances I expected."

The Council was then adjourned sine die.

The mean pressure, temperature, etc., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground

NOTICE TO MARINERS—No. 173.

[First Publication.]

PACIFIC OCEAN—Fiji islands.

Caution.—Extensive bank reported to the north-eastward.

The British Admiralty has given notice (No. 306 of 1901) that the S S. Manapouri on the 7th January last, saw the bottom and obtained soundings of 13 fathoms over a distance of about 11 miles, in approximately lat. 15° 55′ S, long. 176° 50′ W.

This is near the position of the shoal reported by Captain Wilson of the schooner Zephyr in 1875, who stated that in lat. 15° 58′ S., long 177° 10′ W., he saw an extensive shoal on which there was a rock awash (see Notice to Mariners No. 58 of 1876).

In June 1876, H.M.S. Pearl, when passing the reported position of the shoal, obtained two soundings of 5½ fathoms at night. Sail was shortened and course altered, but almost immediately afterwards no bottom could be obtained at 12 fathoms. The position given by H.M S. Pearl was lat 16° 0′ S., long 176° 6′ W.

In 1879, Captain Carmichael of the schooner Louisanna reported obtaining soundings of from 15 to 17 fathoms in lat. 15° 56′ S, long. 176° 56′ W.

The Zephyr shoal was searched for in 1895 by H. M. Surveying vessel Penguin, Commander A. Balfour, and soundings of 11 fathoms were obtained in lat. 15° 53′ S., long. 176° 46′ W., or near the position given by the S.S. Manapouri.

The shoaler water reported by H.M S. Pearl and by the schooner Zephyr was not found, although the weather was somewhat rough, so that Commander Balfour was of the opinion that did such soundings exist, the sea would have been breaking over the locality.

In consequence of the above reports, Mariners are warned that much shoaler water may exist in this locality than is at present shown on the Charts.

RESOLUTION.

APPOINTMENT.

Dated Darjeeling, the 6th June 1901.

READ—

The Resolution of the 1st June 1900, reviewing the result of the examination held in that year, and appointing candidates to be probationers in the Executive Branch of the Provincial Civil Service and in the Subordinate Civil Service.

The Notification of the 31st December 1900, publishing rules for the examination of 1901 for admission to the Executive Branch of the Provincial Civil Service and to the Subordinate Civil Service.

The Reports of the Examiners at the examination held on the 9th, 10th, 11th and 12th April 1901.

The three Probationary Deputy Collectors and two Probationary Sub-Deputy Collectors appointed on the result of the examination held in 1900 have all been absorbed into officiating or substantive pro tempore appointments. A Probationary Deputy Collector and a Probationary Sub-Deputy Collector elected on the result of the Agricultural Examination of the Sibpur Engineering College still remain to be provided with similar appointments.

2. In December last it was notified that at the examination to be held this year five candidates would be selected for Probationary Deputy Collectorships, on a subsistence allowance of Rs. 50 a month, and three for Probationary Sub Deputy Collectorships, on a subsistence allowance of Rs. 30 a month. It was announced that three Probationary Deputy Collectorships would be given to the first three candidates on the list in order of merit, that for the remaining two Probationary Deputy Collectorships two candidates would be selected by the Lieutenant-Governor from those who had obtained not less than one-third of the total marks, and that a similar selection would be made for the Sub-Deputy Collectorships.

3. The examination was held on the 9th April and the three days following. One hundred and five applicants obtained permission to compete, and 99 actually appeared and sent in papers, of whom 12 were Muhammadans, 5 Bihari Hindus, and 2 Uriyas. The total number of candidates who obtained one third marks and above was 96.

4. The following three candidates, who gained the three highest places in order of merit, are, in accordance with the terms of the notification of 31st December 1900, entitled to, and will receive, appointments as Probationary Deputy Collectors:—

	Number of marks
Babu Rebati Mohan Chakravarti, M A.	596
„ Akshay Kumar Sur, B A.	571
„ Praphulla Sankar Sen, M A.	566

The Lieutenant-Governor selects Babu Dayanidhi Das, B.A., a Uriya, for the fourth appointment, and Maulvi Syed Abdus Samad, B A., a Bihari Muhammadan, for the fifth appointment.

These probationary officers will receive a subsistence allowance of Rs. 50 per mensem, and, if the reports from the districts in which they are stationed are favourable, they will, after such period of probation as may seem advisable, be appointed to the officiating grade, or if possible to the eighth grade of Deputy Magistrates and Deputy Collectors, as vacancies occur. They will not be vested with magisterial powers until they are so appointed. Separate orders will be passed posting these officers to districts.

5. The following are the three candidates selected by the Lieutenant-Governor to be Probationary Sub-Deputy Collectors—

Babu Bhuban Mohon Chatterji, B.A.
„ Jitendra Nath Sircar, B A.
„ Amarendra Nath Pal Chaudhuri, B.A.

These probationary officers will receive a subsistence allowance of Rs. 30 per mensem at present, and, if they are satisfactorily reported on, will be gradually absorbed into the fourth grade of Sub-Deputy Collectors as vacancies occur. Separate orders will be passed posting them to districts.

6 The above appointments are subject to the condition that the candidate in each case must obtain the medical certificate of fitness required by rule 5 of the rules contained in the Notification of the 31st December 1900, quoted in the preamble.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of the above Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

C. E. BUCKLAND,

Offg. Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

ANNUAL ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE METEOROLOGICAL DEPARTMENT FOR 1900-1901.

THE following report is published for general information.

F. A. SLACKE,
Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

DARJEELING,
The 8th June 1901.

THE Bengal Meteorological Department was under my charge from 1st April to 24th July and again from 28th September to the end of the official year. I was absent on privilege leave from 25th July to 27th September, when Mr. G. W. Küchler, Assistant Meteorological Reporter to the Government of India, acted for me.

2. On the 31st March 1901, the number of observatories under my direct control was 46, i.e., one less than on the same date last year. The decrease was due to the voluntary observatory at Shortt's Island having been closed on the 31st July. The observatory was situated in the Light-house grounds, and as the Light-house was ordered by the Government of Bengal to be dismantled owing to encroachment by the sea, the observatory had to be closed.

3. Purulia and Daltonganj observatories, which were started and hitherto maintained by the Government of Bengal, were, by order of the Government of India, transferred to the Imperial Meteorological Department, with effect from 1st April 1900. They have hence been classed as "third-class observatories," instead of as "voluntary observatories" in the table given below.

4. The following table gives the names and distribution of these 46 observatories;—

Second-class observatories.

Chittagong.	Darjeeling.	Hazaribagh.
Darbhanga.	False Point.	Saugor Island.

Third-class observatories.

Arrah.	Daltonganj.	Narayanganj.
Balasore.	Dehri.	Naya Dumka.
Bankura.	Dinajpur.	Noakhali.
Barisal.	Faridpur.	Pamban (in Madras).
Berhampore.	Gaya.	Patna.
Bhagalpur.	Jalpaiguri.	Puri.
Bogra.	Jessore.	Purnea.
Burdwan.	Krishnagar.	Purulia.
Buxar.	Malda.	Rampur Boalia.
Chaibassa.	Midnapore.	Ranchi.
Chapra.	Motihari.	Raniganj.
Comilla.	Muzaffarpur.	Rangpur.
Cuttack.	Mymensingh.	Sirajganj.

Voluntary observatory.

Cooch Behar.

5. From the above table it will be seen there were six second-class observatories recording three sets of observations (viz., at 8 A.M., 10 A.M., and 4 P.M.), thirty-nine third-class observatories recording one set of observations (viz., at 8 A.M.), and one voluntary observatory, which also records one set of observations at 8 A.M.

6. As stated in previous administration reports, daily weather telegrams were received from the first-class observatory at Alipore and from nineteen other stations in Assam, Burma, Madras, and Ceylon for inclusion in the daily weather report issued by this office.

7. There has been no alteration in the system of observations hitherto in force, except that the record of pressure and temperature by automatic instruments was introduced at the stations given below:—

Station.	Date of commencement of observation.
Puri	1st September 1900.
Cuttack	29th August ,,
Chittagong	28th March 1901.

An additional allowance of Rs. 5 per month has been sanctioned for the observers at the abovenamed stations for these barograph and thermograph observations.

8. Inspection of observatories.—By an order of the Government of Bengal (No. 147, dated 11th January 1901), I have been directed to inspect eight or ten observatories each year at times when weather is of so settled a character that the issue of the daily weather report may be carried out by my head clerk. I have also been directed to so arrange that each observatory is inspected at least once in two years. Under this arrangement, I visited Saugor Island on the 7th and 8th March, and Midnapore on the 25th March.

The following observatories were also inspected during the past year:—

By Mr. Eliot, Meteorological Reporter to the Government of India and Director General of Indian Observatories—

Gaya—Inspected on 3rd and 4th February.

By Babu Jati Lal De, head clerk, Meteorological Office, Bengal—

Malda—Inspected on 10th and 11th February.
Purnea—Inspected on 14th and 15th ,,
Rangpur—Inspected on 16th and 17th ,,

By Mr. C. Gactano, an officer of the India Meteorological Office—

Cuttack—Inspected on 27th and 28th August.
Puri—Inspected on 30th and 31st ,, Midnapore—Inspected on 6th January.
Balasore—Inspected on 8th ,,
Chaibassa—Inspected on 25th and 26th February.

9 The observatories at Gaya, Saugor Island, Cuttack, Puri and Malda were found to be in good condition at the time of inspection, while those at Rangpur, Midnapore, Balasore and Purnea were in, more or less, unsatisfactory condition.

10. Second-class observatories.—Very accurate observations were received from Hazaribagh and Darjeeling, and the remaining observatories generally did good work.

11. Third-class observatories.—The observers at Barisal, Berhampore, Bogra, Burdwan, Cuttack, Dinajpur, Krishnagar, Muzaffarpur, Narayanganj, Patna, Raniganj and Sirajganj submitted accurate observations throughout the year. The observers at Faridpur, Motihari, Purnea and Rangpur have been careless as before. The observer at Pamban seems to have paid less attention to his work than in previous years. Generally correct observations were received from the remaining observatories.

12. The Rangpur observatory has, for some time past, been in an unsatisfactory condition. Both Babu Gopal Chandra Mitra, Signaller, and Babu Barada Charan Sircar, Postmaster, who acted as observers, seemed not to take the least interest in the work The latter left Rangpur in January last, when Babu Nibaran Chandra Banerjee took over charge. The observatory was visited on the 16th and 17th February when it was found to be in tolerably good condition. Since the inspection there has been some improvement.

13. The Purnea observatory continued to be in a most unsatisfactory condition, and the observer, Syed Izhar-ud-din Ahmad, Civil Hospital Assistant, failed to give satisfaction in his work. He was transferred from Purnea in October 1900, when Babu Kristo Kumar Das, Civil Hospital Assistant, was appointed observer. The observatory was inspected on 14th and 15th February when it was found to be in bad condition. The observer knew his work, but apparently took very little interest in it. Since the inspection there seems to have been some improvement in the nature of the observations submitted.

14. Voluntary observatories.—As stated in paragraph 2 of this report, the Shortt's Island observatory was closed on the 31st July 1900. The observations recorded by Mr. W. D'Crutz, the Light-house-keeper, were, for the most part, accurate and trustworthy. The observatory at Cooch Behar continued to send accurate observations.

15. It was stated in paragraph 11 of my last administration report that arrangement had been made for the removal of the Malda observatory from the Hospital grounds to the Circuit-house compound. The removal was effected on 1st August 1900. The thermometer shed has been erected on a piece of open ground close to the Post office. The wind instruments have been fixed to the roof of the Circuit-house and the rain-gauge close to the shed. The position of the wind instruments was, however, found on inspection by my head clerk in February last, to be very unsatisfactory owing to the close proximity of lofty trees. Arrangements are being made for the removal of the windvane and anemometer to a better site.

16. The following observers were granted special awards by the Meteorological Reporter to the Government of India and Director-General of Indian observatories for storm observations, &c., taken by them during the past year;—

Station.	Amount.	Station.	Amount.
1	2	3	4
	Rs.		Rs.
Barisal	24	Rampore Boalia ..	1-4
Burdwan	7	Saugor Island	2-8
Mymensingh	1-8	Shortt's Island	36
Puri	2	Pamban	5

17. Work at and inspection of rain-gauge stations.—The number of rain-gauge stations on the 31st March 1901 was 362, i.e., 7 more than on the corresponding date in 1900. The increase is due to the establishment of the following stations:—

Station.	District.
1	2
Barkol	Chittagong Hill Tracts.
Katbari	Singhbhum.
Serai Killa	Ditto.
Kharswan	Ditto.
Chhindipada	Angul.
Tikerpara	Do.
Kumerkhole	Do.

18. The work of inspection of rain-gauges by local officers was very satisfactorily done during the past year. Three hundred and one visits of inspection were made. The total number of rain-gauges inspected was 194. Generally the rain-gauges and the rainfall records were found to be in good order. These frequent visits of the inspecting officers have resulted in a marked improvement in the nature of the rainfall returns submitted by the rain registering officers.

19. The following table shows the distribution of the 362 rainfall-stations in the various districts in Bengal, as it stood on 31st March 1901 and the number of stations inspected in each district during the past year:—

District.	Number of rain-gauge stations.	Number of rain-gauge stations inspected.	District.	Number of rain-gauge stations	Number of rain-gauge stations inspected.
1	2	3	4	5	6
Burdwan	5	5	Chittagong . ..	7	5

Hill Tippera	1	Nil	Angul	11	6
Tippera	8	7	Tibet	1	Nil
Noakhali	7	6

20. From the above table it will be seen that no rain-gauges were inspected in the districts of Nadia, Cooch Behar and Purnea, while in Birbhum, Hooghly, Howrah, 24-Parganas, Murshidabad, Darjeeling, Mymensingh, Shahabad, Saran, Muzaffarpur, Monghyr, Cuttack, Balasore, Puri, Ranchi and Singhbhum, nearly half or more than half of the number of stations were not visited.

21. The system of supplying rain-gauges and measure glasses to the rain-registering officers in Bengal from the Meteorological Office, Bengal, by an arrangement mentioned in paragraph 17 of my last administration report was found to work satisfactorily.

22. Departmental reports.—The short annual report on the meteorology of Bengal for the year 1900 with two maps illustrating the actual and percentage rainfall was prepared before the close of the past official year. (It was submitted to the Government of Bengal on 12th April 1901).

23. The report on the meteorology of Bengal for the monsoon season of 1900 was prepared and submitted to the Government of Bengal on the 11th January 1901. The usual number of rainfall maps illustrating the distribution of rainfall over the province, the district variation from the normal and the percentage variation from the normal for the monsoon period of 1900 were also prepared and submitted to Government with the monsoon summary.

24 The monthly rainfall table for Bengal and the meteorological table for Bengal and Assam with a summary of the chief features of the weather of the month was published in the Calcutta Gazette about the middle of every month.

25. The following annual rainfall tables were prepared and published in the Calcutta Gazette:—

Table I—Showing the monthly and annual rainfall at 360 stations in Bengal for 1900.

Table II—Showing the monthly and annual average rainfall at 254 rainfall stations in Bengal.

Table III—Comparison table of the rainfall of 1900 at 254 rainfall stations in Bengal with averages of previous years.

Addenda to the rainfall table of the Province of Bengal for the year 1900.

26. A set of three charts showing the distribution of actual rainfall, the variation from the normal and the percentage variation was prepared and submitted monthly to the Government of Bengal and furnished to the Sanitary Commissioner for Bengal during the period May to October 1900.

27. The Bay of Bengal and Bengal daily weather report dealing with observations taken at 66 meteorological observatories was published from 1st May to 31st October, and the smaller report, the Bay of Bengal report, was published during the rest of the year.

28. The daily flag signal message to Saugor Island and Elephant point (Rangoon) and the daily weather telegram to the following officers were continued throughout the year:—

Port Officer, Akyab.
Ditto, Moulmein.
Ditto, Rangoon.
Ditto, Negapatam.
Ditto, Coconada.
Vice-Chairman, Port Commissioners, Rangoon.
Deputy Port Conservator, Madras.
Port Conservator, Cuddalore.
Ditto, Porto Novo.

29. The daily weather telegram was sent to the Port Officer, Chittagong, from 16th May to 16th November (inclusive).

30. The Port Conservator, Calingapatam, has been added to the list of recipients of the daily weather telegram. The telegram was sent to him regularly on Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays commencing from 5th October 1900.

31. The weather telegram to the Master Attendant, Colombo, was discontinued from 16th February 1901 by order of the Meteorological Reporter to the Government of India and Director-General of Indian observatories. Instructions have, however, been received to send him telegrams when a cyclone is forming in the Bay and thereafter until the cyclone has dispersed.

32. Warnings of expected heavy rainfall were sent to—

The Superintending Engineer, Orissa Circle.
Ditto, Sone Circle.
Ditto, South-western Circle.
The Executive Engineer, Cossye Division.
Ditto, Balasore Division.
Ditto, Akhoyapada-Jajpur Division.
The Proof Officer, Balasore.
The Superintendent of Telegraphs, Madras Division.
Ditto, Bengal Division.
The Traffic Superintendent, East Coast Railway.
The Engineer-in-Chief, East Coast Railway.

33. Information of the occurrence of rainfall above one inch at Daltonganj was sent to the Sub-Engineer, Dehri Workshops.

34. The following officers have been added to the list of recipients of telegrams of expected heavy rainfall by order of the Meteorological Reporter to the Government of India and Director-General of Indian observatories:—

The Executive Engineer, Eastern Sone Division.
Ditto, Arrah Division.
Ditto, Buxar Division.
The Sub-Engineer, Dehri Workshops.

35. There was no addition or alteration in the code of storm signals.

36. The dates of the principal storms and barometric depressions occurring during the past year are given in the first of the two following tables, and the action taken in the matter of issuing storm warnings and hoisting storm signals is indicated in the second of these tables :—

Table giving a brief statement of the storms which affected the Bay of Bengal Coasts during the year 1900-1901.

Number of storm.	Period of depression or storm.	Character of storm.	Coast affected.
1	2	3	4
1	June 10th to 13th ...	Cyclonic storm of moderate severity, which began in the south or south-east of the Bay about the beginning of the second week of June, and moving north-westward crossed the Orissa Coast on the 12th.	Orissa and Bengal coasts.
2	July 13th	Feeble barometric depression formed at the head of the Bay and developed and moved from the place of its formation so quickly that it only formed a feature of the weather for a day or two at most. The influence which it exerted on the weather was also of the slightest.	Ditto.
3	July 30th to August 1st	Small cyclonic storm which appeared in the north-west of the Bay at the end of July and passed inland in the neighbourhood of Balasore on the 1st of August.	Ditto.
4	August 9th to 11th ...	Small cyclonic storm formed off the Orissa coast, and developing slowly reached its greatest intensity by the morning of the 11th of August when its centre was in the immediate vicinity of False Point. It crossed the coast on the same day and passed rapidly inland in the direction of the Central Provinces.	Ditto.
5	August 17th to 19th ...	On the 16th of August, weather became unsettled at the head of the Bay, and a cyclonic storm gradually formed which reached its greatest intensity on the morning of the 18th when at 8 A.M., its centre was slightly to the south-west of Saugor Island and moving in the direction of Balasore. The storm proved to be one of exceptional severity for the period of the year.	Ditto.
6	September 16th and 17th	Barometric depression surrounded by a well defined cyclonic circulation of winds. Its centre was off the Orissa coast at no great distance from False Point on the 16th of September. The depression was one of slight importance and considerably below the average depth at the end of the monsoon season. By 8 A.M. on the 17th the centre had moved westwards across Orissa.	Ditto.
7	September 18th and 19th	A new centre of disturbance was shown near Saugor Island on the 18th, when pressure was nearly ·2 inch below the normal. By 8 A.M. on the 19th the centre of low pressure, which was near Saugor Island, had apparently moved westward, and the exceptionally heavy rainfall had begun in South-West Bengal.	Ditto.
8	October 4th to 6th ...	Shallow depression which was over the centre of the Bay with general cyclonic winds on the 3rd and 4th of October. It became a well-defined cyclonic storm when it was close to the Orissa coast on the morning of the 6th. The greatest defect was 3 inch, so that the depression was of the kind usual in the monsoon season In crossing Orissa it became diffused and partly filled up.	Ditto.
9	October 23rd and 24th ...	Barometric depression which entered the Bay from the east about the 20th of October and developed into one of considerable depth while crossing the Bay towards the Madras coast which it crossed on the 24th.	Circars and Coromandel coasts.
10	November 2nd and 3rd	Barometric depression which formed over the central parts of the south of the Bay at the beginning of November and became diffused on approaching the Madras coast on the 3rd. It caused cloudy weather with a few light showers over a wide area.	Ditto.

37. The thanks of the Department are due to the tea and indigo planters, to the Moravian Missionaries at Pedong and to Mr. H. E. Hobson of Yatung (in Tibet) who have kindly continued to send rainfall returns during the past year, to the Surveyor-General, Ceylon, for sending meteorological observations taken at Colombo and Trincomallee for the daily weather report and to Messrs. Mackinnon Mackenzie & Company, Agents of the British India Steam Navigation Company for allowing the commanders of their vessels to telegraph summaries of the weather experienced during their voyages.

38 Office establishment.—As in past years the various members of my office staff have performed their duties to my satisfaction. In the closing months of 1900 and the opening months of the present year, the work was carried on under exceptional difficulty, in consequence of frequent sickness, which, I think, must have been due to exposure during the heavy rain in the latter half of September. Soon after that period of flood two of my clerks died, and for some months afterwards some of my more experienced clerks were absent at intervals on sick leave.

REPRESENTATION OF THE BHAGALPUR DIVISION IN THE COUNCIL OF THE LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR OF BENGAL.

THE following correspondence is published.

C. E. BUCKLAND,
Offg. Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

No. 920J., dated Bhagalpur, the 31st May 1901.

Memo. by—H. C. WILLIAMS, Esq., Commissioner of the Bhagalpur Division.

COPY of the following submitted to the Chief Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

I support the petition of the Landholders' Association. They are loyal supporters of the Government, and in the matter of subscriptions to deserving objects and also in public spirit, set an example to other Divisions, and they certainly seem to have good grounds for their complaint that they have lost their opportunity for election through no fault of their own.

Dated Bhagalpur, the 30th May 1901.

From—BABU TARINEE PROSAD, Secy. to the Bhagalpur Landholders' Association,
To—The Commissioner of the Bhagalpur Division.

IN accordance with a Resolution passed at the meeting of the Bhagalpur Landholders' Association, held on the 24th instant, I beg most respectfully to submit to you a copy of the memorial relating to the Council election adopted at the meeting, and pray that you may be pleased to forward the same to Government with such favourable remarks thereupon as you may think fit.

TO THE HON'BLE SIR JOHN WOODBURN, K.C.S.I.,
Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal.

The humble memorial of the Bhagalpur Landholders' Association.

MOST RESPECTFULLY SHEWETH:

That your memorialists desire to approach your Honour with this humble representation regarding the Resolution No. 215A D., dated the 13th May 1901, published in the Supplement to the Calcutta Gazette of the 22nd May 1901, and the Notification No. 217A.D., dated the 13th May 1901, published in the Calcutta Gazette of the 15th May 1901, inviting the District Boards of the Patna Division to recommend a member for the Local Council.

That your memorialists feel aggrieved that the Bhagalpur Division has not been invited to nominate a member this year. Ever since the creation of the reformed Legislative Council in 1893, the Bhagalpur Division has not been represented by a member chosen by its own constituencies. In 1895 the District Boards of the Bhagalpur Division were invited to nominate a member in pursuance of a scheme of rotation which had been determined by the Government of Sir Charles Elliott by its Resolution, dated the 25th March 1893. The election, however, proved infructuous for reasons to which it is unnecessary to call attention, though, to your humble memorialists, it was a matter of personal gratification that their President, the Maharaja of Gidhour, was on that occasion nominated to a seat in the Council. Under the scheme of rotation it was the turn of this Division to recommend a member to the Local Council in 1899. But the Division was not invited to exercise this valued privilege that year, as it was deemed necessary, in the interests of an important public measure, the Calcutta Municipal Bill, to confer the right of nominating a member upon the Presidency Division.

Obviously, under the circumstances, your memorialists felt that this Division was entitled to the privilege at the earliest opportunity, when the constituencies would again be invited to nominate their members. Such an opportunity has now occurred; but your memorialists regret to find that the expectations which they have so long entertained are as far from realization as ever. Through sheer force of circumstances, Bhagalpur has till now been less fortunate than the other Divisions in the Province. Every Division has since 1893 twice exercised the privilege of nominating a member to the Council. The Presidency Division has exercised the privilege three times; the Patna Division will have exercised it thrice, when its District Boards will have returned a member this year. Your memorialists beg leave respectfully to submit that in point of wealth, culture and public spirit, this Division is fit to take its place by the side of the most advanced Divisions in the Province.

The scheme of rotation sketched in the Resolution of the 25th March 1893 is illustrative, and Sir Charles Elliott did not consider himself and his successors bound by it. Your memorialists submit that it was with reference to this reservation and the necessities of the occasion that in the year 1899, the Municipalities of the Bhagalpur Division were not invited to return a member for the Council. If this Division were to wait until other Divisions had enjoyed that privilege in due course of rotation, the District Boards of this Division will come in in the year 1903, and the Municipalities in the year 1907. Your memorialists, however, venture to submit that when in the year 1899 Bhagalpur was not called upon to nominate a member, it was never intended that it was to lose one chance altogether. On the contrary, the people of Bhagalpur have always hoped, and have been suffered and encouraged to indulge in the hope, that their claims would be considered at the earliest opportunity. Now that such an opportunity has come, it would be a grievous disappointment to the people if their claims be again overlooked. The people hail the privilege as an inestimable boon to them, and cannot adequately thank the Government for it. How highly this privilege is valued will appear from the addresses which were presented to your Honour when you were pleased to visit Bhagalpur in July 1899.

The Municipal address thus referred to this matter:—

"According to the rotation originally prescribed by the Government, it will be the turn of the Municipalities of the Bhagalpur Division to recommend a member for appointment to the Bengal Legislative Council on the retirement of the Hon'ble Member of the Chittagong Division. We hope that this arrangement may be adhered to, and the Municipalities of this Division will be called upon by the Government at the time proposed to exercise the privilege of election, which privilege, we need hardly say, is much valued by us."

Your memorialists of the Bhagalpur Landholders' Association also approached your Honour with an address in which they pointedly called attention to the fact that this Division had not returned a member since the creation of the reconstituted Council. They said as follows:—

"We highly value the privilege which has been conferred on the people of electing their representatives to the Local Legislative Council. According to the rotation previously laid down, it will be the turn of the Municipalities of this Division to recommend a member for a seat in the Bengal Council on the retirement of the Hon'ble Member for Chittagong. We hope and trust that this Division will not be deprived of its turn, more especially as, since the privilege has been granted, this Division has not been fortunate enough to have a member in the Council as recommended by the representatives of the people, though the appointment of the President of this Association, as a member of it, when a tie took place at the election in the Division in the year 1895, was doubtless gratifying to us."

Your Honour's reply is thus reported in the Bihar News, a local weekly:—

"His Honour said that the Municipalities of the Bhagalpur Division, to recommend a member for appointment to the Bengal Legislative Council, must of necessity await their turn, as it comes to them after the retirement of the Hon'ble Member of the Chittagong Division and that of the Dacca Division next year. He had promised the election to the seat next year to the Dacca Division, after which only the Bhagalpur Division will get its turn in rotation."

That your memorialists gather from the reply of your Honour that the turn of the Bhagalpur Division would come after the retirement of the Hon'ble Member of the Chittagong Division and after the claims of the Dacca Division had been satisfied. Both these conditions have now been fulfilled; and your memorialists naturally looked forward to their Division being invited in 1901 to nominate a member to the Council.

It is true that the Notification has already appeared in the Gazette inviting the Patna Division to nominate a member. But your memorialists feel that their prayer is such a just one and that the considerations in favour of their exercise of this much valued privilege are so overwhelming that they are confident that from a just, wise and beneficent ruler of your Honour's wide experience and large administrative capacities, they cannot but receive a sympathetic and indulgent hearing, and that your Honour would be pleased to invite the Division to which they belong to nominate a member this year to your Honour's Council.

And your memorialists, as in duty bound, shall ever pray.

BHAGALPUR,
The 30th May 1901.

TARINEE PROSAD,
Secretary.

No. 679A.D., dated Darjeeling, the 8th June 1901.

From—C. E. Buckland, Esq., C.I.E., Offg. Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal,
To—The Commissioner of the Bhagalpur Division.

I am directed to acknowledge the receipt of your memorandum No. 920J., dated the 31st May 1901, forwarding a memorial, dated the 30th idem, from the Bhagalpur Landholders' Association, praying that the Bhagalpur Division may be invited to nominate a member this year to the Lieutenant-Governor's Council, and to reply as follows.

2. Under the Regulations framed in 1893 under section 1 (4) of the Indian Councils Act, provision was made for the nomination to seven seats by the Lieutenant-Governor on the recommendation of certain bodies. Among these bodies were—

(B) such Municipal Corporations or groups of Municipal Corporations other than the Corporation of Calcutta as the Lieutenant-Governor may from time to time prescribe; and

(C) such District Boards and groups of District Boards as the Lieutenant-Governor may from time to time prescribe.

Two seats in the Council were assigned for the recommendation of each of these two bodies, and the Municipalities and District Boards of the Province were grouped respectively by divisions in distinct portions of the scheme of rotation then proposed for the purpose of making such recommendations. These two bodies are quite distinct, and, in the absence of any special reason, the seats assigned to one never have been and cannot be offered to the other for recommendations to be submitted. The whole memorial now under consideration is based on the erroneous assertion that the Bhagalpur Division should be regarded as a single constituency. This is not the case, and never has been the intention of Government. For purposes of representation in the Council, the Municipalities of the Division are separate from the District Boards of the Division. The latter had their turn in 1895. The turn of the former is not due till next year.

3. The seat for which the District Boards of Patna have been invited to nominate a candidate is that to be vacated on 27th July next by the Hon'ble Babu Baikantha Nath Sen, the representative of the Burdwan District Boards. The last occasion on which the District Boards of Patna elected a representative for nomination was in 1893, and since that date the District Boards of every Division have been invited once each to select a candidate, the Bhagalpur Division having its turn in 1895. The turn of the District Boards of the Patna Division has therefore come round again, and, in the absence of any special grounds, the Lieutenat-Governor sees no reason for inviting the District Boards of the Bhagalpur Division to nominate this year in supersession of the claims of the District Boards of the Patna, Chittagong and Dacca Divisions. In the ordinary course the turn of the District Boards of the Bhagalpur Division will come in 1904.

4. Owing to special reasons which were set forth at the time, it was in 1899 considered desirable to invite the Municipalities of the Presidency Division to nominate a candidate for one of the seats assigned to Municipalities, so that the turns of the Municipalities of the Dacca and Bhagalpur Divisions, which then stood next in order on the roster drawn up in 1893, were temporarily postponed. In 1900 the representative of the Chittagong group of Municipalities vacated his seat, and the Dacca group were invited to nominate a candidate. This year the representative of the Presidency group of Municipalities vacates his seat, and in the ordinary course the Municipalities of the Bhagalpur Division would have been invited to recommend a successor; but owing to the modification of the rules which came into force in June 1900 (as the Bhagalpur Landholders' Association were informed in my predecessor's letter of 2nd March 1900) not more than one seat in the Council may be assigned on the recommendation of groups of Municipalities. The Lieutenant-Governor is therefore precluded from inviting the Bhagalpur Municipalities to nominate a candidate for a seat in the Council until the representative of the Dacca group of Municipalities vacates his seat in September 1902. In accordance with the modified rules the British Indian Association has been invited to recommend a gentleman for nomination to the seat to be vacated this year by the representative of the Presidency Municipalities.

5. It is clear, therefore, that neither the Municipalities nor the District Boards of the Bhagalpur Division have any claim whatsoever to recommend for that vacancy which has now been offered to the District Boards of the Patna Division, and that the Bhagalpur Landholders' Association are under a misapprehension when they consider that their Division as a whole has any grievance in this matter.

6. I am to request that the Bhagalpur Landholders' Association may be informed of these facts in reply to their memorial. A copy of the correspondence will be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

The results of observations at the Alipore Observatory are not rigorously comparable with the registers of past years (at the Park Street Observatory). The barometer is about 3 feet higher at Alipore, and, other things being equal, reads therefore ·003 lower. The diurnal range of temperature is also greater at Alipore, and the mean temperature apparently about 0°·5 higher; and, finally, the thermometer which furnished the record of temperature at the Surveyor-General's Office during 20 years and upwards is found to read 0·6 higher than the Kew Standard thermometer, which is the standard of reference at the present Observatory.

The mean pressure, temperature, etc., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

d, drizzling rain; t, thunder; ≤, lightning; o, overcast.

Draft rules relating to diseases common in India to be issued under section 6, sub-section (1), clause (p) of the Indian Ports Act, 1889, as amended by Act III of 1901.

SECTION I—FOR THE GIVING OF NOTICE.

Rule 1.—The master of every in-coming vessel on board of which there is or has been during the previous seven days, either among the passengers or crew, any case of cholera, small-pox, measles, scarlatina or other epidemic disease or of diphtheria, or, in the case of a vessel not carrying a doctor, any death from any cause, or if two or more deaths from unknown or suspicious causes have occurred on the voyage, shall report every such case or death to the pilot immediately upon his going on board at the Sandheads, and the pilot shall hoist a signal, which shall be during the day flag R of the Commercial Code at the main, and during night two white lights, one over the other, at the fore, and the pilot in charge, in addition to hoisting the signal R at the main, is to telegraph from Saugor, or the nearest telegraph station, the name of the particular disease, number of cases on board, and number of deaths from epidemic disease or other suspicious causes that have occurred during the voyage, both to the Port Officer and to the Health Officer of the Port of Calcutta, using table 22 of the Pilots Cypher Code.

Rule 2.—The Port Officer on receiving information by telegraph from Saugor, or any telegraph station, that a vessel, having small-pox on board, has passed the station upwards, shall at once communicate the information to the Health Officer of the Town and the Deputy Commissioner of Police with a view to obtain the services of vaccinators with a supply of lymph in sufficient time to commence the necessary vaccine operations immediately after the ship's arrival, and to obtain the assistance of the police for removing cases of small-pox or other contagious diseases on the ship's arrival to the Campbell Hospital.

Rule 3.—The Deputy Commissioner of Police shall, as early as possible after receipt of this information, instruct the River Police Inspector to place himself in communication with the Health Officer of the Port to receive such instruction as that officer may consider to be necessary for the efficient operation of these rules and for the removal of the sick to hospital.

SECTION II—BERTHING OF THE VESSELS.

Rule 4.—If the number of deaths or cases of disease referred to in rule 1 do not exceed two, the vessel will not be prohibited from proceeding to her usual place of anchorage in the harbour, and the passengers or crew not suspected to be suffering from any of the diseases described in rule 1 need not (except in the case of pilgrim and emigrant ships) be detained on board pending the inspection of the Port Health Officer, but the master of the vessel will be held responsible that no one of the passengers or crew suffering from or suspected to be suffering from any such disease, is allowed to depart before this inspection. The master shall also prevent the landing of infected bedding, clothes or personal effects which he has reasonable cause to consider likely to be infected.

Rule 5.—If the number of deaths within the previous five days has exceeded two, or the cases of any such disease are, or have been during the previous five days, more numerous than two, or when from their occurring on pilgrim or emigrant ships, or for other special reasons, further precautions may be deemed advisable, the master shall hoist the signals referred to in rule 2 above and anchor the vessel at Mateabrooz, and shall not allow any of the passengers or crew to leave the vessel until the Port Health Officer has made his inspection.

Rule 5 (a).—In the case of a pilgrim or emigrant ship the pilot should notify the fact by signal from Saugor, and should not proceed beyond Diamond Harbour without the permission of the Port Health Officer.

Rule 6.—So long as the abovementioned signals are shown, no tindal or other person in charge of or navigating any boat shall, without the permission of the Port Officer, attempt to make such boat fast to, or shall take it alongside, such vessel except the Harbour Master, who may be allowed to take over charge of the vessel from the pilot, who may then be allowed to leave the vessel.

SECTION III—THE INSPECTION OF THE VESSEL.

Rule 7.—Whenever the Port Health Officer receives the notice referred to in rule 5 above, he shall proceed on board the vessel and examine her, and the master shall give him every facility for the examination of the passengers, crew, personal effects, cargo, and any part of the ship. In the case of a report of a death or deaths from any cause on a ship not carrying a doctor, he shall institute such enquiries as he may deem necessary to determine the cause of the death or deaths. If he is satisfied that the death or deaths was or were not due to cholera, small-pox or other infectious or contagious disease declared by the Governor-General in Council to be common in India, he shall permit the vessel to proceed to anchorage and to discharge passengers and cargo without any further restrictions. If he is not so satisfied, he shall proceed as provided in rule 9 et seq. of these rules. The inspection by the Health Officer will ordinarily take place between sunrise and sunset.

Rule 8.—On the completion of the inspection provided for in rule 7, such of the passengers and crew as are found to be free from any of the abovementioned diseases and unlikely to carry infection, shall be allowed to land. All baggage, personal effects and cargo, except such articles as the Health Officer is entitled to disinfect, may also be landed.

Rule 9.—If a case of any of the diseases mentioned in rule 1 happen on any vessel after she has entered dock, the master shall forthwith cause information thereof to be given to the dock master, and shall be responsible that the sick person shall be isolated as much as possible and that free communication with the dock wharf is stopped until the Health Officer has inspected the vessel and enquired into the case.

NOTE.—The regulations in sections 4, 5, and 6 should be carried out only when the Port Health Officer considers them necessary either to prevent the spread of disease, or for other reason.

SECTION IV—THE TAKING OF THE SICK TO HOSPITAL.

Rule 10.—When the Health Officer considers it necessary, in order to prevent the spread of disease or for any other reason, he may inspect the vessel, including the passengers and crew, and may arrange for the conveyance of all persons suffering or suspected by him to be suffering from such disease to Campbell Hospital, unless the sick person or his friends can make adequate provision elsewhere.

Rule 11.—The Health Officer shall inform the Municipal Health Officer in all cases in which he arranges for the conveyance of a patient to Campbell Hospital or other place within Municipal limits, and shall furnish the address of any private accommodation to which he permits the removal of a patient.

Rule 12.—Where small-pox is the disease on account of which the vessel is deemed infected, the Port Health Officer shall offer, without charge, vaccination or re-vaccination of all persons willing to be operated upon, and shall cause to be vaccinated, with the consent of their guardians, all children below ten years and over six months of age who do not bear marks of vaccination or of small-pox.

SECTION V—THE DISINFECTION OF INFECTED ARTICLES.

Rule 13.—The Port Health Officer shall, if he considers it necessary, either himself undertake, or direct the master of the vessel to undertake, the destruction or disinfection of all clothing, bedding and other articles of personal use which have been used by any person suffering from any of the diseases above mentioned and are or likely to have been soiled with infective matter, or to retain infection.

Rule 14.—When a vessel with one or more of the abovementioned diseases on board has passengers in a filthy and unwholesome condition, the Port Health Officer may cause the clothing and personal effects of such persons to be disinfected before allowing their disembarkation.

Rule 15.—In the case of undecked native craft, the Port Health Officer may direct the disinfection, or in special cases the destruction, of food-stuffs which have been exposed to contamination and he thinks likely to be infected.

SECTION VI—THE DISINFECTION OF THE INFECTED PARTS OF A VESSEL.

Rule 16.—The Port Health Officer shall, as the result of the examination made under rule 7 above, direct the disinfection of any portion of the ship that has actually been exposed to contamination, and may prohibit the discharge of bilge-water or water ballast within port limits. If the disease is cholera, the Health Officer may direct the master to have the bilges and water tanks emptied and cleaned.

SECTION VII—GENERAL.

Rule 17.—The methods of disinfection, both of articles and vessels, shall be those prescribed in the appendix to these rules.

Rule 18.—Dead bodies shall be disposed of as follows:—

1. If a death occurs on board a vessel before the vessel enters Port limits, the body shall be buried at sea, in not less than 9 fathoms of water, in such manner as shall insure its sinking at once and remaining below water.
2. If a death occurs during the day on board a vessel within Port limits, the ensign and house flag are to be immediately lowered half-mast, and kept in such position from sunrise to sunset as long as the body remains on board.
3. The master of the vessel will cause the death of any person on board to be made known at once to the police, either by letter or otherwise, and shall also forward to the Port Officer a written report as soon as possible after the occurrence, in which all the circumstances attending the death are to be fully detailed.
4. No dead body is to be removed from the ship, within Port limits, without the permission of the Police authorities. Unless the special permission of the senior officer of Police at the Port to its interment on shore shall have been obtained, a dead body shall be buried at sea, in not less than 9 fathoms of water, in such manner as shall insure its sinking at once and remaining below water.

Rule 19.—The master of an infected vessel shall comply with all the directions which the Port Health Officer considers it necessary to give under the foregoing rules.

NOTE.—The penalty for disobedience is prescribed in the new sub section (3) which the draft Bill adds to section 6 of the Indian Ports Act.

Rule 20.—Nothing in these rules shall be deemed to prevent a vessel whose master is unwilling to submit to the above regulations from proceeding to sea, provided that there has been no communication between such vessel and the shore or with other vessels in the Port.

APPENDIX.

Instructions for disinfection.

1. Personal effects, rags, infected bandages, papers, and other articles without value should be destroyed by fire.

2. Under-clothing, bedding, wearing apparel, mattresses, carpets, &c., which are contaminated or suspected and other articles to be disinfected should be exposed for fifteen minutes to saturated steam under pressure if possible at a temperature of not less than 100°C. (212°F), care being taken that the steam shall reach all parts of each article to be disinfected.

3. Disinfecting solutions—

(a) Solution of corrosive sublimate, of 1 part in 1,000, with the addition of ten parts of chloride of soda.

The solution should be coloured with aniline dye or indigo. It should not be placed in metal vessels.

(b) A 5 per cent. solution of pure crystallized carbolic acid, or 5 per cent. of crude commercial carbolic acid free from tar oil in a warm solution of soft soap.

(c) Fresh slaked lime.*

4. Special instructions to be observed in the employment of disinfecting solutions—

The lime, clothing and articles, soiled by the excreta of patients, should be soaked in the solution of corrosive sublimate. The solution of pure carbolic acid, and the solution of soap and carbolic acid, are equally suited to the purpose. The articles should remain in the solution for at least six hours

Articles which cannot be subjected to the temperature of the stove (100° centigrade) without injury, such as leather goods, woollen articles stuck together with glue, felt, velvet, silk, &c., should be washed with the solution of corrosive sublimate; coin can be disinfected with the solution of soap and carbolic acid.

Persons engaged in nursing the sick should wash their hands and faces with the solution of corrosive sublimate or with one of the carbolic solutions.

The carbolic solutions will be useful more particularly for disinfecting articles, such as metals, instruments, &c., which can neither be subjected to a temperature of 100° centigrade, nor placed in contact with corrosive sublimate. They may also be used at ports not provided with a disinfecting stove of the prescribed pattern.

Slaked lime is particularly recommended for disinfecting excreta. Expectorated matter should be burnt.

5. Disinfection of ships with plague patients on board—

The cabin or cabins, and all parts of the ship occupied by the sick or suspected should be cleared out, and all articles in them should be treated as described above.

The partitions should be disinfected with the solution of corrosive sublimate with an addition of ten parts of alcohol. The washing should commence from the top, horizontally, and be continued downwards, so that the whole surface of the partition becomes covered with a coating of minute drops.

The boarding should be washed with the same solution.

Two hours after, the walls and flooring should be washed over with plenty of water.

6. Disinfection of the hold of an infected ship—

To disinfect the hold, sulphate of iron in quantity sufficient to neutralize the sulphurated hydrogen, should first be thrown in, the bilge-water should be pumped out, and the hold washed with sea water. Solution of corrosive sublimate should then be thrown in.

The bilge-water should not be pumped out while the ship is in port.

R. B. BUCKLEY,

Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

* To get very strong slaked lime, take lime of good quality, slake it, by moistening it gradually, with half its weight of water. When the operation is completed, put the powder in a carefully corked receptacle, and place it in a dry spot. As each kilogramme of lime absorbs 500 grammes of water in order to become slack, it acquires a volume of 2 litres 200, and it is sufficient to dilute it with double its volume of water, say 4 kilogrammes, to obtain a whitewash, which will be of about 20 per cent. strength of lime.

PACIFIC OCEAN—FIJI ISLANDS.

Caution.—Extensive bank reported to the north-eastward.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No. 306 of 1901) that the S.S. Manapouri on the 7th January last, saw the bottom and obtained soundings of 13 fathoms over a distance of about 11 miles, in approximately lat. 15° 55′ S, long. 176° 50′ W.

This is near the position of the shoal reported by Captain Wilson of the schooner Zephyr in 1875, who stated that in lat. 15° 58′ S., long 177° 10′ W., he saw an extensive shoal on which there was a rock awash (see Notice to Mariners No. 58 of 1876).

In June 1876, H.M.S. Pearl, when passing the reported position of the shoal, obtained two soundings of 5½ fathoms at night. Sail was shortened and course altered, but almost immediately afterwards no bottom could be obtained at 12 fathoms. The position given by H.M.S. Pearl was lat 16° 0′ S., long. 176° 6′ W.

In 1879, Captain Carmichael of the schooner Louisanna reported obtaining soundings of from 15 to 17 fathoms in lat. 15° 56′ S., long. 176° 56′ W.

The Zephyr shoal was searched for in 1895 by H. M. Surveying vessel Penguin, Commander A. Balfour, and soundings of 11 fathoms were obtained in lat. 15° 53′ S., long. 176° 46′ W., or near the position given by the S.S. Manapouri.

The shoaler water reported by H.M.S. Pearl and by the schooner Zephyr was not found, although the weather was somewhat rough, so that Commander Balfour was of the opinion that did such soundings exist, the sea would have been breaking over the locality.

In consequence of the above reports, Mariners are warned that much shoaler water may exist in this locality than is at present shown on the Charts.

The Report on the Administration of the Jail Department for the year 1900.

The Reports for the years 1898 and 1899 and the Resolutions of Government recorded thereon.

IN 1897 the number of convicts admitted to the jails in the Province rose to an extraordinarily high figure, but the numbers returned to the ordinary average in the two succeeding years. In 1900, however, there has again been a most marked rise from 35,600 to 39,324—a figure which has only been exceeded during the decade in 1897. It does not of course fall within the province of the Jail Department to comment on the reasons for this increase, which must be looked for in the report on the police administration, but the increase has been most marked in the short-term prisoners, especially those convicted for theft, and among the jails showing the greatest rise are thoe of the Chota Nagpur and Orissa Divisions, where alone during the past year scarcity has been felt. In spite, however, of the number of admissions of convicts falling in the years 1898 and 1899 to the average of the six years preceding 1897, the average jail population of convicts has during these years been considerably higher than in any year before 1897. In the year under review the average jail population of convicts alone has risen from 17,265 to 18,453; in 1897 the average population of convicts was 17,366; and as the number of admissions in the two following years was not greater than before the famine, the rise in the average population can only be due to an increase in the number of long sentences, that is, in the number of persons convicted for serious crimes. From a jail point of view, the position deserves serious consideration. Excluding hospitals and observation cells, the jails of the province provide altogether accommodation for an average of 17,808 convicts. During the year the average convict population (excluding the sick) was 17,332. The margin is dangerously narrow, and even with the freest system of transfers, it is impossible to avoid serious overcrowding in some of the jails where the prisoners are chiefly short-term convicts. The system of cubicles is being gradually introduced, and it is clear that, if the average population continues so high, it will be necessary to add considerably to the jail accommodation.

2. The statistics of the convicts disclose no very striking variations from the previous years. Roughly 2 per cent. more were Hindus, and the proportion of Muhammadans decreased by the same amount. The number of illiterates remained constant at 89·97 per cent. of the whole, but the percentage of the cultivating class was slightly lower at 55·99 per cent. The number of habitual convicts admitted during the year rose to 7,000. The number of juvenile prisoners rose from 307 to 471, of whom 43 were girls. As only 7 of these were sent to the depôt for girl convicts at Bhagalpur, it is presumed that the rest were sentenced to terms shorter than three months. The very considerable rise in the number of juvenile offenders sent to jail is unsatisfactory, and it is hoped that it arises from merely temporary causes and does not mean that the courts are paying less attention to the more suitable methods provided by law for dealing with juvenile offenders. The number of cases in which solitary confinement formed part of the sentence has risen from 85 to 307, and this form of punishment has been more frequently used for the purposes of jail discipline.

3. The mortality in the jails almost throughout the Province was unusually high: the death-rate rose from 23·4 to 40·3, and was higher than it had been since 1894. The report was silent as to the causes of this abnormal rise, but careful explanation was very plainly needed.

The Inspector-General now represents rightly that the year was an unhealthy one: the provincial death-rate was 36·63 as compared with 31·21 for 1899 and 26·52 for 1893. In nearly every district the death-rate was greatly above the average. The price of food-grains ruled high throughout the Province in consequence of the large exports to the famine-stricken districts of Western India. Except in Palamau and parts of Ranchi, there was no actual famine, but the high price of grain everywhere no doubt drove many of the poorer classes to crime. The statistics in Statement No. XVII show that the high death-rate of last year was directly due to the poor condition in which so many of the prisoners were admitted. While the death-rate among prisoners who had been less than six months in jail was 54·7 per thousand, it was only 36 per thousand among those between six months and a year in jail, 27·5 among those from one to two years, 22·4 among those from two to three years.

Another cause of the high mortality in the jails was the prevalence of cholera. The Inspector-General reports that there were cases of this disease in 18 of the central and district jails and in several of the subsidiary jails, and there were 78 deaths. Out of a death-rate of 47 per thousand among under-trial prisoners, no less than 9·9 was due to cholera, contracted in nearly every case either before arrival in jail, or while attending court. The death-rate from cholera among convicts was 4·2 per thousand, and if this disease were excluded, the death-rate would be 35·4. In 1898 there were only 3 deaths from this disease and the same number in 1899. In nearly every instance the introduction of cholera was clearly traced to newly-admitted prisoners or to under-trial prisoners attending court. There was a severe epidemic of cerebro-spinal fever at the Bhagalpur Central Jail, which resulted in 17 deaths. Too little is known about this disease at present to say what is its cause or how it can be guarded against. The large number of deaths from phthisis and pneumonia is attributed to overcrowding and defective ventilation caused by the unusual number of convicts, which kept most of the jails filled almost to the limit of their capacity.

The Inspector General of Jails also attributes part of the high death-rate of the year to the absence of many of the most experienced Superintendents. Owing to the recall to military duty of so many officers, only 19 of the 48 jails of Bengal were under the charge of officers of the Indian Medical Service; the others were under the superintendence of Military Assistant Surgeons, native Assistant Surgeons, or medical men temporarily engaged, who, though they may be sufficiently careful in their treatment of the sick, are not equally attentive to all the little details of management on which to so great an extent the healthiness of a jail depends. This may be true, but other Provinces suffered from the same disadvantage.

4. Coming now to details, it appears that, of the 48 central and district jails in the Province, in 12 the death-rate was below 25 per thousand, and in 16 below 30 per thousand. These 16 jails include 5 out of the 8 central jails, which habitually show much better results than district jails, being on the whole much better constructed, and no doubt better managed, while as a rule only selected prisoners are sent to them.

In the following 11 jails the death-rate exceeded 60 per thousand—Burdwan, Hooghly, Jalpaiguri, Rangpur, Mymensingh, Faridpur, Barisal, Chittagong, Chapra, Motihari and Daltonganj. In 4 of these, Hooghly, Chapra, Motihari and Daltonganj, there were severe epidemics of cholera. The other jails in the list are all situated in the most unhealthy districts in the Province, and ordinarily show death-rates greatly above the provincial average. Four of these jails (Jalpaiguri, Mymensingh, Faridpur and Motihari) were selected as representative, and the table below shows the death-rate of the corresponding districts and of the districts (and their jails) adjacent to each:—

The Inspector-General has submitted a detailed explanation of the high mortality in the four jails as below :—

Jalpaiguri Jail.—There were six deaths—three due to malarial fever or its sequelæ, two to diarrhœa, and one to dysentery. The casualty roll shows that five of these prisoners were noted as being in bad health when admitted into jail and one in indifferent health; four were sent straight to hospital on admission, three of whom died within a month, and the fourth in little more than two months. But for these deaths the death-rate would have been 27·9 instead of 83·8. With an average jail population of only 70, great variations in the death-rate must be anticipated. The jail showed a low death-rate for the previous quinquennium, in two years of which no death occurred. No fault is to be found with the jail itself, which is on the latest plan; it is supplied with a Pasteur-Chamberland filter, and the prisoners are allowed a ration of meat four times a week. Dinajpur showed a lower death-rate than the quinquennial average, but such variations cannot be satisfactorily explained.

Mymensingh Jail.—There were 31 deaths. The principal causes were dysentery (11), pneumonia (6), and general debility (3). Of those who died, 6 were in good health on admission, 15 were admitted in indifferent health, and 10 in bad health. During the year temporary buildings had to be erected to provide accommodation for the prisoners in excess of the capacity of the permanent wards, it being impossible to find room in the Dacca or any other jail for the excess. There was no overcrowding in any of the wards, but too many buildings were and are still crowded within the enclosure. The new two storey barrack which has been sanctioned will, when completed, make it possible to clear away the temporary buildings. The quinquennial death-rate in the Dacca Jail was only 15·8; the death-rate in it has been very low for some years; only selected prisoners are sent to it, as in the case of other central jails; it has been built on the most recent plan, and above all it has been under the charge of one of the most experienced and careful medical officers of the Province.

Faridpur Jail.—There were 29 deaths: 14 due to dysentery, 6 to pneumonia, and 3 to phthisis. This is a very badly constructed jail, the wards being on a bad plan and all crowded together. During the year it was under the charge of a temporarily engaged medical officer, inexperienced in jail management, and there was injudicious management in the allotment of labour and a want of care in bringing under treatment prisoners who were in poor condition. The death-rate for the five previous years in the small Noakhali jail was 11·2, there having been no deaths in two of the years.

Motihari Jail.—There were 27 deaths, 7 due to cholera, 6 to diarrhœa or dysentery, 5 to anæmia and general debility, and 4 to pneumonia. Of the 20 who died from diseases other than cholera, 8 were reported to be in good health on admission, 7 in indifferent health, and 5 in bad health. This is a well-constructed jail, but the district adjoining the Terai is notoriously unhealthy.

6. Of the remaining eleven jails, Burdwan, Hooghly, and Chittagong are, on the average of the previous five years, fairly healthy. Barisal and Chapra steadily improved during the previous two years as the result of more sanitary construction. The jails on which the attention of the Inspector-General must be carefully concentrated during the current year are Rangpur, Faridpur, Barisal, Motihari and Daltonganj. The last, the only onewhich the Lieutenant-Governor has not himself seen, is a discredit to the administration. It is a small jail, but the death-rate is always the worst in the Province, and the Inspector-General is requested to submit a special report on it with recommendations for its improvement.

7. The prisoners were employed as usual mainly on manufactures, and the number told off for duties which are not of an irksome kind is steadily reduced to a minimum. Although the number of convicts was very large, the high proportion of sick reduced the average number available for remunerative labour; and the cash earnings of the year were Rs. 2,89,250, or Rs. 16 per head of average number sentenced to labour, against Rs. 4,55,932, or Rs. 26-15 per head in 1899, when the cash profits were unduly swollen by the clearance of old stock owing to the demands for South Africa. Taking into account the stock and liabilities at the beginning and close of the year, the profit was Rs. 4,85,633, or Rs. 26-14 per head, as against Rs. 4,98,683, or Rs. 29-7 per head, in the previous year. As against this, the total cost of the jails, excluding public works charges, was Rs. 15,75,727, or an average of Rs. 75-14-5 per prisoner. The total public works charges amounted to Rs. 98,762, which included the cost of building three new subsidiary jails. In several jails the repairs and construction works were carried out by jail labour, and, provided this is done under proper supervision, it is an economical and desirable method of employing prison labour.

8. During the year the scheme for improving the warder service by readjusting the grades and increasing the pay was sanctioned by the Government of India. It is hoped that the service will now be sufficiently attractive to facilitate recruitment and strengthen discipline.

9. There is one other matter on which the Lieutenant-Governor would have been glad to see some remarks by the Inspector-General. Three years ago the system of marks for good conduct was certainly not understood by the convicts in general. It was the exception to find a convict who knew how much remission of his punishment he had actually earned. It is now rare to find a convict who does not, and it should be at last possible to judge whether the system is in truth effective in the prevention of prison offences and worth the trouble it entails. The Lieutenant-Governor cannot say that the evidence of the returns is very satisfactory. In 1896, on a prison population of 15,895, there were 35,548 prison offences, a ratio of 2·2 per prisoner; in 1900, on a prison population of 18,453, there were 41,576 prison offences, still a ratio of 2·2. The character of the prison offences seems to have been also unchanged for the better. In 1896 the major punishments were 9 per cent. of the total; in 1900 they were 11·2 per cent. But these are figures for the grand total of the prisoners. The mark system is applied only to prisoners whose term exceeds a year. The figures have therefore been taken out for the eight central jails, where the system must apply to all the prisoners. In these eight jails the number of prisoners in 1896 was 8,464; the number of prison offences 18,892; the number of major punishments 2,654; the ratios 2·2 and 14·0, respectively. In 1900 the number of prisoners was 9,766; the number of offences 22,855; of major punishments 3,426; the ratios 2·3 and 15·0, respectively. The Inspector-General has elsewhere expressed the opinion that the mark system does improve the discipline and behaviour of the convicts to whom it is applicable. The figures so far do not support the opinion; but they are not conclusive for a reason to be presently given. The Lieutenant-Governor, however, desires that the matter will receive the special attention of the Inspector-General in his next report. The reason why the figures are not conclusive is this. The returns show extraordinary differences in the number and character of the prison offences in the different central jails. In Dacca there are 43 offences for every 100 convicts: in Bhagalpur there are 323: in Dacca 8 are followed by major punishments; in Bhagalpur 60. It seems improbable that there should be such violent difference between the character of the convicts at Dacca and at Bhagalpur. But in Calcutta there are two central jails within a quarter of a mile of each other. In the Alipore Jail in 1900 there were 334 offences per hundred prisoners and 52 major punishments; in the Presidency Jail there were 357 offences and 38 major punishments. In 1896 it was exactly the other way. The Inspector-General explains these remarkable discrepancies by the idiosyncrasies of Jail Superintendents. One man records every offence, however slight; another overlooks and omits the trifling ones. The Lieutenant-Governor suggests that it is the function of the Inspector-General to bring these idiosyncrasies somewhat closer to a common standard; and he must at the least, by the maintenance in individual jails of a single method, secure the record of some positive evidence, which shall support or gainsay the divergent opinions on the merits of the mark system.

10. The Jail Report for the year is conspicuous for its shortness, but the Government of India never contemplated such compression that cardinal points in the administration of a department escape mention by the reporter.

Although the report is thus deficient, the Lieutenant-Governor is glad to acknowledge the careful and excellent work done by Lieutenant-Colonel Mair throughout the year.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT ON THE WORKING OF THE EDEN SANITARIUM AND HOSPITAL FOR THE YEAR 1900.

MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT—MEDICAL.

Dated Darjeeling, the 12th June 1901.

RESOLUTION No. 735T.—M.

The Report on the working of the Eden Sanitarium and Hospital for the year 1900.

The Report for the year 1889 and the Resolution recorded upon it.

The convalescent side of the Eden Sanitarium at Darjeeling remained open from 11th March to 3rd November 1900, and the hospital portion throughout the year. The number of admissions fell from 428 to 384, a number lower than the lowest figures recorded during any of the past ten years. The decrease occurred among the patients admitted to the second and third classes, and is attributed to the reduction in the number of visitors to Darjeeling caused by the disaster of 1899. The admissions in other classes show an increase.

2. Of the 384 persons admitted during the year, 280 were patients and 104 relatives and friends, against 352 and 76, respectively, in the previous year. The daily average number of patients shows a decrease from 38·64 to 21·17, and the average length of time spent by each patient in the institution was much less than in the previous year. Debility and malarial fever were as usual the most common complaints, and accounted for 70 and 97 admissions, respectively. Four patients died against ten in 1899, while 15 left relieved and 261 completely cured. The total number of operations shows a slight reduction, viz., from 84 to 80, but all of them proved successful. Nine persons at different times occupied free beds against 12 in the previous year. As remarked last year, there is still plenty of room for public charity to supplement and extend this most useful form of help.

3. The total income of the institution amounted to Rs. 27,799 against Rs. 36,800 in 1899, thus showing a decrease of Rs. 9,001, which is due to the reduction in the number of patients. The expenses, on the other hand, rose from Rs. 34,398 to Rs. 35,372, chiefly owing to the inclusion of Rs. 4,709, cost of fittings and furniture of the Surgical Block lately purchased. The year closed with a balance of Rs. 4,849. The average daily cost of diet per patient was the same as in the previous year, viz., Re. 1-6.

E. N. BAKER,

Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE MONTH OF MAY 1901.

WEATHER during May was not of a noticeably exceptional character, though the meteorological elements, and especially pressure, underwent rather large and rapid oscillations at times. The air was comparatively still, and no serious disturbance occurred, though the the occurrence of such disturbances is not unfrequent towards the end of the month. The only cyclonic storm over the Bay began about the end of the third week and was of the feeblest kind. After it entered the north of the Bay it became diffused and was followed by a general fall of pressure over the Province and Assam. Towards this low pressure area the moist winds from the Bay flowed freely for a few days and gave a fair amount of rain to the extreme east. About the end of the month the rainfall area extended westward and the showery weather became general over the Province.

The most important feature of the weather of the month was the continued absence of rainfall in the east, particularly in Assam and East Bengal. Silchar and Dhubri received 6 and 8 inches, respectively,—in the former case considerably less than half the average and in the latter about half, while in East Bengal there was an average defect of more than 4 inches. In the other divisions of the Province the fall for the month was between 1 and 2 inches in defect, except in South-West Bengal, where very nearly the normal amount was received, and in Bihar, which was in slight excess.

Showery weather was fairly continuous throughout the month, with no well-marked periods of intense heat, except in the western districts. In this respect conditions were not unlike those of last year in the same month, and the quantity of rainfall was very similar even to the rather large defect in East Bengal. But the comparison fails as regards Assam, in part of which the rainfall was as much in excess as in the present year it has been in defect.

The course usually followed by cyclonic storms in May when leaving the Bay is to the north or north-east, so that the very slight disturbance of that kind during the month under review was not exceptional. But the fact of its breaking up before it reached the coast is a feature of some importance, and the more important because a subsequent disturbance has behaved in a similar manner. It is not unusual for cyclonic disturbances, on which the development of monsoon conditions is largely dependent, to show similar peculiarities for months together, and in consequence of this feature, the progress of the early disturbances of the season give a fairly reliable indication of the character of the early part of the monsoon season, if not of the date of commencement. So far as can be gathered from what has occurred since the beginning of May, the comparative absence of rainfall in Assam and the eastern parts of Bengal will not continue much longer.

At the beginning of the month pressure and temperature both differed largely from the normal. The actually highest readings were reported from Assam, and there was a large excess in Bengal Proper, as well as, though to a smaller extent, in other parts. Temperature was high over the north of the Province, while in Orissa and the Circars, probably owing to the north-easterly winds set up by this high pressure in the north-east, it was exceptionally cool. Scattered showers were falling in East and North Bengal and Orissa. Pressure fell on the following day, and continued to do so till the 5th, owing to the approach of a depression from the west. On the morning of the 5th the area of lowest pressure was in Orissa, where there was defect of about ·2 inch, the fall during the previous 24 hours being ·16 inch on the coast between Coconada and False Point. Winds were irregular in Orissa, but generally there was a cyclonic arrangement, so that the prevailing direction was between east and north at all stations to the north of a line joining Gopalpur and Diamond Island. Though the depression was of considerable depth, there was less wind than usual on the coast of Orissa and the Circars, the highest velocity reported during those days being 19 miles an hour at Vizagapatam. On the 6th the depression was diffused over the east of the Bay.

Weather was less settled than usual in Bengal while the disturbance was approaching Orissa. Showers were frequent in the south-western districts, and continued with a brief interruption on the 4th until the 7th, when pressure was beginning to recover. The pressure distribution remained abnormal for some days after the diffusion occurred. Readings were everywhere below the normal, but by larger amounts in the north-east of the Province and Assam than in the west and south. The greatest defect on the 8th was ·17 inch in North Bengal and the west of Assam, and in western districts, where pressure was rising moderately, defect was ·05 inch. It was not till the 12th that the distribution became normal; and then there was a rapid rise which began in North Bengal, and spreading southward and westward caused high pressure and a steep gradient over the Province and a very uniform distribution over the Bay.

Between the 7th and 12th rainfall was chiefly in the east, where some heavy falls occurred, and temperature was several degrees above the normal in all parts of the Province. After the change of pressure on the 12th and the rather sudden change of winds from westerly to easterly, local disturbances again began, and rainfall was more general, except in Bihar and Chota Nagpur. The unsettled conditions passed westward slowly, and by the 14th fairly general rain was falling in the western districts. A fall of temperature followed the rainfall westward, and between the 13th and 16th mean temperature was normal or slightly below. Then on the 17th a rapid fall occurred in the north of the Province, but the rather large defect had almost disappeared on the following day.

During these days at the end of the second week and beginning of the third, when there was a steep pressure gradient over the Province and the adjacent part of the Bay, and an exceptionally uniform distribution in the south and centre of the Bay, the strongest winds of the month were experienced in the north-west angle, while on the Burma Coast very calm weather prevailed. The highest velocity was 27 miles an hour for the three days, 15th to 17th, at Saugor Island.

After rather large pressure oscillations over the Province on the 18th and 19th, accompanied by fairly general rainfall, pressure began to fall in the south-east of the Bay, and signs of the first cyclonic disturbance of the season began to appear. It was not till the 22nd that it assumed any definite shape, and there was then a diffused depression over the south of the Bay with indraught towards it from both the Madras and Burma coasts. It moved northwards during the three subsequent days; but, as it approached the north of the Bay, it became diffused and practically ceased to exist as a cyclonic disturbance. There remained, however, a fairly steep pressure gradient over the Bay, and for the season a fairly strong air movement which caused weather of the south-west monsoon type on the Burma coast as far north as Akyab.

While the depression was moving northwards over the east of the Bay, winds over the Province became more easterly and in places north-easterly. Rainfall as usual in such circumstances diminished, and fewer showers fell during those days than at any other part of the month. After the depression became diffused, the moist winds from the Bay penetrated inland towards Assam, and on the 29th showery weather became general and falls were most heavy in the west of Bihar. It was owing to the general heavy fall on the 29th that the average rainfall in Bihar was, compared with the normal, heavier than in other divisions.

From the 27th to the 29th pressure was steadily rising at inland stations; and the showery weather over the Province was due more to the steep gradient from east to west, which enabled the moist air following the previous disturbance to pass westward, than to a continuance of that disturbance. With the showery conditions temperature, which was several degrees above the normal, fell considerably, and during the last few days comparatively cool weather became general over the Province.

Pressure was less settled than usual during the greater part of the month; but in the absence of any large disturbance which would be likely to cause low readings of the barometer for a considerable length of time, or any marked condition of the atmosphere over an extended area, the oscillations were of short duration and generally about the normal for the time. Mean pressure for the month was, therefore, little different from the normal pressure of the month as a whole and was generally above. Excess was between ·01 and ·02 inch at most of the stations in Bengal Proper and Orissa, and practically normal in Bihar and Chota Nagpur. There was a slightly steeper gradient than usual from west to east over the centre of the Bay, as the difference from the normal varied from excess of ·03 inch in the Circars to defect of ·02 inch in the south of Burma.

Temperature also underwent considerable oscillations about the normal, the changes being due chiefly to the occurrence of local thunderstorms with rain, except in the early part of the month, when the low temperature was connected with more extended causes, very cool weather for the season being at that time prevalent over a great part of the Indian peninsula. Maximum readings relatively to the normal were on the whole higher than minimum, as the former on an average for the month were in excess in the north of the Province by moderate amounts, and normal or in slight excess in the south, while the latter was normal or in slight defect.

In Assam and East and North Bengal mean excess was between 1° and 1°·5. In Bihar and Chota Nagpur it was about half a degree and in South-West Bengal and Orissa rather less Rainfall was below the normal in all divisions, except Bihar, where there was a small excess. The deficiency increased towards the east or south-east, the greatest difference being 4·5 inches in East Bengal, which received 5·7 instead of the normal fall of 10·2 inches. In North Bengal, Orissa and Chota Nagpur the average defect for the division was between 1 and 2 inches, and was comparatively greater in the two last.

Showers were, as has already been stated, of frequent occurrence in all parts of the Province, except Bihar, and the deficient rainfall for the month as a whole is due to the showers being in most cases lighter than usual. The number of rainy days, though below the average in Bengal Proper and Chota Nagpur, was practically normal, except in East Bengal, where 8 occurred instead of 11 in ordinary years.

The following table gives full data for comparison of the actual and normal rainfall of the month of May for all districts of the province. The figures are derived from the average and actual rainfall of the rain-reporting stations in each district, due allowance being made for the area which each station represents. This gives a more accurate average than the arithmetical means given in the monthly tables. The first column gives the normal or average district rainfall as determined from the observations of the past 25 years. The second column gives the actual district rainfall as determined from the weighted actual rainfall of the month at the reporting stations in each district. The third column expresses the ratio of the actual district rainfall of the past month to the normal rainfall as a percentage. The fourth column gives the same information as the third in a slightly different form, stating as a percentage how much the district rainfall of the month varied in excess or defect from the normal:—

The mean pressure, temperature, etc., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

[N.B.—No rates are shown in the schedule which are not the averages of at least two quotations for the same month in different years. Prices-current of the years 1896 and 1897, which were years of famine, have been left out of calculation, and those for 1894 and 1895 have been substituted for them.—Vide rule 3 (3), Part I, Chapter I, of the Bengal Famine Code of December 1895.]

Birbhum.—Prices of Indian-corn at Rampur Hât have not been reported for January 1900, October 1898 to 1900, and for the April and July quarters of the whole quinquennial period.

Bankura.—Quotations of prices for barley at Sadar are available only for April 1898 to 1900, and for October 1895.

Hooghly.—The prices of barley at the Sadar mart are forthcoming only for January and July 1894, and 1895, and for April 1894. The price of wheat for the same mart is not available for October 1895. Hence average of four years only is given.

The price of rice at Mograhat for July 1898 has not been received, and so average price for four years' only is given in the schedule.

Calcutta.—The price of jowar is not given for April, July and October 1900. Hence four years' average has been taken.

Murshidabad.—Price of Dudia wheat at Berhampore is furnished for two years only. That for barley in the same mart is given only for two years for the January and October sales, and for three years for April and July. The price of barley at Kandi for January last is not available. January and October returns for 1898 and 1900 for barley at Jangipur are not furnished, and for April and July returns four and three years' figures, respectively, are available, and averages have been taken accordingly.

The 25th June 1901.—The following revised subsidiary rules for the erection, repair and endowment of monuments in Government cemeteries are published for general information, in supersession of the rules which were promulgated with Notifications No. 2761, dated the 25th August 1896, No. 402T.—G., dated the 14th June 1897, and No. 587T.—G., dated the 2nd October 1897.

F. A. SLACKE,

Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

No. 247, dated Simla, the 7th June 1901.

NOTIFICATION—By the Government of India, Home Department.

THE following revised subsidiary rules for the erection, repair and endowment of monuments in Government cemeteries throughout India, except in the Madras Presidency, are published for general information and guidance:—

Subsidiary rules for the erection, repair and endowment of monuments in Government Cemeteries.

APPLICATION FOR ERECTION OF A MONUMENT.

I.—A person desiring to erect a monument should submit his application in the Form A (annexed), with a dimensionized drawing of the monument drawn to scale and a detailed estimate, to the Chaplain or other officer in charge of the Cemetery.

II.—The Chaplain or other officer in charge will (unless the monument is a single stone monument as defined in the margin) send on the application, with the drawing and estimates, with a forwarding letter (Form B annexed) to the Executive Engineer in charge of the cemetery. The Executive Engineer will fill in column 7 and examine and countersign the drawing and the estimate, and return the application, with the drawing and the estimate, to the Chaplain.

A single stone monument is a monument consisting of a plain cross, headstone, or slab over a masonry foundation, 3' × 2', the total height not exceeding 3 feet in the case of masonry graves and 3 feet 6 inches in the case of non-masonry graves.

The repair of fragile or costly work liable to receive damage cannot be undertaken by Government, and should not be taken into consideration in the estimate of column 7 (b).

III.—On return of the application by the Executive Engineer, the Chaplain will see that the application in Form A is correctly filled in, sign the memorandum at the foot of the form, and forward it with the enclosures to the Archdeacon. If the deceased belonged to some other denomination than that of the Church of England, the Chaplain shall obtain a certificate of approval of the design from the Minister of the denomination to which the deceased belonged, and forward it with the application to the Archdeacon.

Note.—It is not compulsory for endowment to be made in any cases of monuments erected to their deceased comrades by British soldiers or non-commissioned officers.

IV.—The Archdeacon will permit the monument to be erected or refuse to do so. If permission is given, the Chaplain will advise the applicant of the sanction in Form D (annexed), and instruct him to pay the amount of the endowment calculated as in Rule VI to the Executive Engineer, who will grant the applicant a receipt in Form C (annexed).

V.—The Chaplain must inform the Executive Engineer in Form D (annexed) as soon as the monument is ready for erection, and the latter will see that it is set up in accordance with the drawing and the estimate sanctioned, and will enter the monument upon his list for repairs by the Public Works Department The Chaplain will, in communication with the Executive Engineer, send in April every year to the Archdeacon a list of the monuments erected and endowed during the year ending March 31st, together with the amounts of the endownment fees.

AMOUNT OF ENDOWMENT.

VI.—An endowment fee of Rs. 15 will be charged when a person wishes to endow a single stone monument. The payment will not be compulsory.

Other monuments shall be divided into two classes—

(1) plain and solid monuments, which are likely to require only occasional repair; and

(2) elaborate monuments and other monuments which are likely to require special attention or frequent repair.

An endowment fee of Rs 30 shall be charged for monuments of the first of these classes, and of Rs. 75 for monuments of the second class The classification will rest with the Executive Engineer, but any person objecting to his decision may appeal to the Superintending Engineer. With the sanction of the Superintending Engineer, a higher fee may be charged in cases where fees on the classified scale are clearly insufficient.

Note.—In the case of a child's monument, these fees may be reduced to Rs 20 and Rs. 50, provided that the monument does not exceed 5 × 3.

No addition to an existing monument in a Government cemetery will be allowed beyond mere lettering on existing slabs, head-stones, or crosses, unless the whole monument is endowed.

VII.—The endowment is intended to cover the expense of ordinary annual maintenance, re-lettering, and repairs, but not the risk of accidents due to floods or earthquakes or other extraordinary causes. It is open to any person to provide for extraordinary repairs by making a special endowment in addition to the ordinary endowment fixed by the Executive or Superintending Engineer under Rule VI. This special endowment must, however, be limited to the amount necessary to cover such work as the Government officers can undertake to execute.

VIII.—When an endowment is paid to the Executive Engineer, in accordance with Rules IV and VI, the amount must be entered in the Divisional Cash book as a deposit received and paid into treasury with a Remittance Note in Form G (annexed) for credit to Civil Department. The Executive Engineer will forward the Treasury Officer's receipt with his monthly accounts to the Examiner of Accounts in support of the debit to "Deposits," a note to the effect that this has been done being entered in red ink across the block foil of the Remittance Note.

The Examiner will from these receipts maintain a Register in Form H (annexed) showing the endowments for each cemetery in his Province. The Civil Account Officer will credit to a head Cemetery Endowment Fund under the major head Savings Bank Deposits—Bank Accounts all sums received on account of these endowments, but will show no details regarding the cemeteries.

After the amount has been paid into the treasury, the Executive Engineer will enter it in the Register of Endowments Form E (annexed) (Part I).

IX.—The Executive Engineer shall maintain an account of all ordinary and special endowments in Form E (annexed) (Part II). A separate ledger account shall be opened in Form E (annexed) (Part III) for each monument, for which a special endowment exceeding Rs. 25 has been made under Rule VII.

Note.—The provision as to separate accounts should be applied as far as possible to endowments made prior to the issue of these rules.

X.—The interest calculated under Rule XI on the deposit shall be used in meeting the expenditure for the repair of those monuments for whose preservation deposits have been made. In no circumstances should the capital sum be applied to meet such expenditure, nor should the interest be separate for each monument. The interest accruing on the deposits shall form a common fund to be used exclusively for the repairs of all endowed tombs, provided that the interest on deposits for which separate accounts are opened under Rule IX shall be used exclusively for the particular monument on account of which the deposit is made.

If a monument becomes so damaged as not to admit of repair, the Chaplain shall communicate with the friends of the deceased, or when such communication is not possible, advertise three times in the Gazette of India and the Gazette of the Province; and if no person will undertake to restore it, the monument shall be treated at the next repairs in such manner as the Chaplain may decide to be necessary for the maintenance of the Cemetery in decent order: provided always that any inscribed slab or tablet which formed part of it shall be placed over the grave in simple masonry or be inserted in the wall of the Cemetery and shall be carefully preserved.

XI.—Joint estimates shall be framed in October of each year by the Executive Engineer and the Chaplain, or other officer in charge of the Cemetery, of the cost of repairs of endowed tombs, during the following official year, and the aggregate of the sums so estimated shall not exceed the estimated interest at 3½ per cent. per annum on the capital sum deposited up to the 31st March preceding. The Executive Engineer should budget annually for the grant required; such grant would be entered in a lump sum under the head "Civil Works" without any distinction between ordinary and special endowments.

XII.—The Civil Account Officer of each Province will in his final accounts for March, debit to 14—Interest, by credit to the Public Works Department the interest at 3½ per cent., calculated on the amount standing at credit of the deposit head on 31st March. On receipt of the credit, the Examiner of Public Works Accounts will distribute the amounts between the cemeteries of the Province, and advise the Executive Engineer concerned of the amounts so credited. On receipt of such intimation, the Executive Engineer will credit the amount in his divisional accounts as Public Works revenue under the head "Interest on Endowments for Repairs of Monuments," and then fill in the interest column in Form E (Part II).

ENDOWMENT OF EXISTING MONUMENTS.

XIII.—When application is made for the endowment of an existing monument, the above procedure should be followed as far as applicable. The application in Form A must be submitted to the Chaplain or other officer in charge, and forwarded by him to the Executive Engineer. The latter, besides framing an estimate of annual repairs, must estimate the cost of placing the monument upon a suitable foundation, if he is satisfied that such a foundation does not exist. The application should be sent to the Archdeacon, and with his consent the monument will be brought on to the books of the Public Works Department. The cost of the foundation should be paid over to the Executive Engineer, who will carry out the work without delay.

XIV.—In order that the Local Government or Administration may know that the tombs are kept in proper repair, an Annual Report in Form F (annexed) should be forwarded, as soon as possible after the close of the accounts for a financial year, by the Executive Engineer with respect to their condition, for each cemetery, to the Examiner of Public Works Accounts, who will consolidate the returns so received and render a general return to the Local Government or Administration. The account will merely show the totals for each cemetery as taken from the Executive Engineer's accounts.

The reports sent to the Examiner should contain remarks both by the Chaplain and Executive Engineer as to the state of the tombs for which endowments have been made.

Note.—The foregoing rules are applicable to Cenotaphs erected in Church compounds, but the previous consent of the Local Government to the construction of a Cenotaph is in every case necessary.

PACIFIC OCEAN—FIJI ISLANDS.

Caution.—Extensive bank reported to the north-eastward.

THE British Admiralty has given notice (No. 306 of 1901) that the S.S. Manapouri on the 7th January last, saw the bottom and obtained soundings of 13 fathoms over a distance of about 11 miles, in approximately lat. 15° 55′ S., long. 176° 50′ W.

This is near the position of the shoal reported by Captain Wilson of the schooner Zephyr in 1875, who stated that in lat. 15° 58′ S., long 177° 10′ W., he saw an extensive shoal on which there was a rock awash (see Notice to Mariners No. 58 of 1876).

In June 1876, H.M.S. Pearl, when passing the reported position of the shoal, obtained two soundings of 5½ fathoms at night. Sail was shortened and course altered, but almost immediately afterwards no bottom could be obtained at 12 fathoms. The position given by H.M.S. Pearl was lat 16° 0′ S., long 176° 6′ W.

In 1879, Captain Carmichael of the schooner Louisanna reported obtaining soundings of from 15 to 17 fathoms in lat. 15° 56′ S., long. 176° 56′ W.

The Zephyr shoal was searched for in 1895 by H. M. Surveying vessel Penguin, Commander A. Balfour, and soundings of 11 fathoms were obtained in lat. 15° 53′ S., long. 176° 46′ W., or near the position given by the S.S. Manapouri.

The shoaler water reported by H.M.S. Pearl and by the schooner Zephyr was not found, although the weather was somewhat rough, so that Commander Balfour was of the opinion that did such soundings exist, the sea would have been breaking over the locality.

In consequence of the above reports, Mariners are warned that much shoaler water may exist in this locality than is at present shown on the Charts.

This Notice affects the following Admiralty Charts:—Pacific Ocean, south-west sheet, No. 780; Fiji islands to Samoa islands, No. 1829: Also, Sailing Directions for the Pacific islands, Vol. II, 1900, page 237.

GRANTS TO DISTRICT BOARDS FOR THE IMPROVEMENT OF DISTRICT COMMUNICATIONS.

MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT—LOCAL SELF-GOVERNMENT.

Darjeeling, the 18th June 1901.

RESOLUTION—No. 809T.—M.

READ—

Circular No. 20L.S.-G., dated the 26th July 1900, to Commissioners of Divisions.

Replies to the above Circular from Commissioners of Divisions.

IN the circular cited in the preamble it was stated that the Lieutenant-Governor had under consideration the question of improving the financial position of District Boards in Bengal. It was pointed out that the revenues of the Boards were insufficiently elastic, that there had been for some time past a growing, though unavoidable, tendency to divert to other objects the funds that should have been devoted to the maintenance and improvement of communications, which are the most important function of these local authorities, and that for this reason the sums allotted for public works had failed to keep pace with the growing needs of the province.

2. The plan which commended itself most to the Lieutenant-Governor was that of making over to the Boards a certain proportion—one-tenth being suggested—of the receipts from the Public Works cess, and the Commissioners were asked to favour Government with their opinions on the proposal, and to suggest any feasible alternative plan which might occur to them. They were also asked to state whether the assignment of any allotment made should be by divisions or by districts.

3. The replies to this circular are substantially unanimous in approving the foregoing plan. One or two alternative proposals have been made. The chief of these are the suggestions to license markets and levy a fee for the license, to raise the maximum rate of the road cess, and to authorise the levy of tolls on roads and bridges. The first of these is impracticable. The second is out of court, as involving an increase of taxation. The third has been more than once considered and rejected. In view of the representations that have now been made by several experienced officers, the Lieutenant-Governor will again consider it; but it must be regarded as outside the scope of the present discussion.

Besides these, the suggestion has been revived that Government should make over to District Boards the proceeds of Provincial ferries within their jurisdictions. The reasons which make this plan inadmissible were stated in paragraph 18 of the circular, and the Lieutenant-Governor is unable to reopen the question. It has, however, been suggested that ferry receipts might be made over to District Boards in lieu of an equivalent proportion of the fixed assignment. This has much to recommend it, and the Lieutenant-Governor has separately called for figures to enable him to work out the necessary adjustments. It does not affect the question of improving the financial position of the Boards.

4. As to the mode of making the allotment, whether by divisions or by districts, there has been considerable divergence of opinion. It appears to Government, however, that the balance of advantage is decidedly in favour of making it by divisions. It is doubtless possible that the Commissioner may experience some difficulty in effecting a fair apportionment and in satisfying the reasonable expectations of the various District Boards that each will have its claims fairly weighed. But his difficulty would be as nothing compared with that which the Provincial Government would experience if called upon to make an apportionment among 42 districts, possessing, as it does, nothing like the intimate knowledge of local wants, local capabilities, and local compensations which it is the duty of every Commissioner to possess. In this view the Lieutenant-Governor is confirmed by the report submitted by Mr. Faulder, Commissioner of Burdwan, who is the principal opponent of the system of divisional distribution, and whose report exhibits so thorough an acquaintance with the circumstances of his division as to justify the assurance that the apportionment could be entrusted to no better authority than himself. If it were possible to make the new assignments permanently or even for a term of years, there would be more to be said in favour of allotting to each district its own proportionate share of the grant. But as was plainly pointed out in paragraph 17 of the circular, it is not within the power of the Local Government to make any permanent alienation of any part of the Provincial revenues. The grants now made are made for this year only, and though the Lieutenant-Governor will do his best to renew them as the state of the Provincial finances may admit, they must in no sense be looked upon as recurrent. The concession is one which Government is in no way bound to make. It is given, as will be explained further below, for a particular purpose—the improvement of district communications; it is designed for the assistance of the more needy districts; and no district has any claim to participate in it as of right, nor any cause of complaint, even though it should receive no share of the grant whatever.

5. For the present, therefore, the Lieutenant-Governor has decided that the allotments shall be made on a divisional basis, that is, a lump sum will be placed at the disposal of each Divisional Commissioner for expenditure within his Division. In making the distribution, Commissioners should have regard to the following principles:—

Firstly, the money now given is to be spent exclusively on communications Important as medical charity, education, and sanitary improvement may be, their urgency is less pressing than that of district and village roads, the construction of feeders to railways, old and new, the bridging of rivers and khals, and the metalling of important lines of traffic. The total sum available is even now all too small; and the Lieutenant-Governor cannot consent to any part of it being diverted to other objects than that with which it was the primary purpose of the circular of July 1900 to deal.

Secondly—each Commissioner should select one or more specific works to be carried out with the money placed at his disposal; he should make a definite grant for each work; and must take steps to assure himself that the money is spent on those works and on nothing else. It is not intended that the assignments now made should simply be added to the several District Funds for general purposes, or even to the public works head of those Funds. If that were done, the large aggregate grant now made from Provincial revenues would be liable to be frittered away on a variety of works of trifling importance, and the Government would receive no tangible or adequate return for its assistance.

Thirdly.—In making his selection of projects, as directed in the preceding paragraph, the Commissioner should have regard to the needs of the more backward districts, and to the interests of his division as a whole. He is not bound to give some portion of his total assignment to every district; but is at entire liberty to allot the whole of it for expenditure within two or more districts, or even within a single district, provided that the works he selects are of conspicuous advantage to any important section of the division. It will be possible to reduce the balance on the occasion of future distributions.

6. The grants now sanctioned for each division are as follows:—

Division.	Amount.
	Rs.
Burdwan	64,000
Presidency	48,000
Rajshahi	53,000
Dacca	62,000
Chittagong	30,000
Patna	1,36,000
Bhagalpur	47,000
Orissa	30,000
Chota Nagpur	30,000
Total ...	5,00,000

The sum provided in the budget for this purpose was Rs 4,80,000, being approximately equal to 10 per cent. on the estimated yield of the Public Works Cess. The Lieutenant-Governor has decided to raise the total amount to 5 lakhs, allotting the additional sum to the backward divisions of Orissa and Chota Nagpur, where communications are not well developed and the need of railway feeder roads is greatest. Rather less than its proportionate share has been allotted in the Patna Division, which is well served by railways, and where, as Mr. Savage has shown in his valuable report, the District Funds are ordinarily prosperous.

7. The grants must be actually made over to the District Boards concerned before the 31st March 1902, failing which they will lapse to Government. The annual reports on the working of District Boards should show the distribution of the grants, the works for which they were allotted, and the expenditure incurred on each. The Lieutenant-Governor is confident that all Commissioners will accept the responsibility laid on them, and endeavour by careful consideration of the relative wants of each district and close scrutiny of the project put forward to ensure that the liberal measure of assistance now offered will bear its full fruit in the restoration and development of local communications.

8. In connection with the question of revaluation referred to in paragraph 20 of the circular of July 1900, the statements received seem to show that the matter is one which has not always received the attention which its importance demands. In a number of districts it would seem as if the provisions of the law which authorize periodical revaluation after five years had been made little use of. This impression may be erroneous, and it is also quite possible that a satisfactory explanation may be forthcoming in most cases. But the information now available does not show whether the omission to revalue in any particular district has been advised and deliberate, or merely due to apathy and neglect. The subject is receiving the further attention of Government, and the Board of Revenue have been asked to draft rules and a return which will ensure that the question of revaluation shall be systematically brought up for consideration in each district as soon as the time falls due.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

E. N. BAKER,

Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

The mean pressure, temperature, etc., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

o, overcast; g, gloomy; d, drizzling rain; p, passing temporary showers; t, thunder; ≤, lightning.
